POINT VALUES CUT ON PORK AND MUCH BEEF FOR MARCH

OPA ANNOUNCEMENT COMES AS SURPRISE

Result of Marketing of More Livestock Than Expected — Increases Had Been Predicted.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Fewer ration points will be required for pork and many beef cuts beginning Sunday. The Office of Price Administration, reporting a larger civilian allotment of meat available for March than had been anticipated, announced the good news today.

The increased supplies are confined to pork and beef. The point values of veal, lamb and mutton cuts are not changed. Butter will remain at 16 points a pound, and there is no change in the present values of cheese, lard and all other fats and dairy products.

The War Food Administration said the adjustment in ration values is designed to help reduce stocks of meat which, together with other perishables, are crowding cold storage facilities. This is the season, it was explained, when room must be provided for the extra butter that will be produced during the spring and early summer. Additional room is needed also for eggs.

Civilians' Share Increased.

Civilian allocation of meats has been increased by nearly 550 million pounds for the January-March quarter. Some of this extra allocation already has moved to consumers under the special pork ration coupons, but much of it still remains in storage.

Only the values of spare ribs are unaffected in a general reduction of pork points. The cuts range from one to three points, bringing the average ration value of pork down to 1.7 points a pound. Beef cuts used for roasts, rib steaks and stews are also reduced.

The point value of canned and ready-to-eat beef and pork items are reduced from 1 to 4 points, while many variety meats and some types of sausage also are decreased in ration cost.

Reductions Are Surprise.

The reductions came as a surprise since the OPA had indicated that point values would be boosted steadily during the next few months. Marketing of more livestock than had been anticipated was given as the principal reason for the reduction.

"The lower meat point values also make full allowance to the housewife," said Price Administrator Chester Bowles, "for the fact that with ration stamps now to be worth 10 points each, she gets one red point a week less to spend.

"A large share of the meat available to civilians during March will be pork—in fact, pork will make up more than half of the month's total meat supply."

Bowles said the amount of pork which will be produced during the first two or three weeks of March "may be at record-breaking levels for this time of year."

"In the case of beef, too, we

JOB DEFERMENTS OF 85,000 IN MISSOURI TO BE REVIEWED

175 Boards Ordered to Reconsider Cases of All in 18-to-37 Age Group—No Delays for Those Under 26.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 29.—Missouri's 175 local Selective Service boards were ordered today by Col. Claude C. Earp, State Selective Service director, to review the cases of all registrants in the 18-to-37 age group who are now deferred for occupational reasons.

This sweeping order, which follows the President's memorandum pointing out the acute need for increasing the personnel of the armed forces, has the effect of wiping out deferments granted to approximately 85,000 Missourians, pending reclassification.

At the same time Col. Earp informed the 425 Missouri concerns that are operating under the replacement schedule deferment plan that deferments previously granted to employes under 26 years of age have been canceled. From now on, the notifications to the employers stated, no employe under 26 will be approved for a replacement deferment.

This applies to men subject to induction who have been granted periods of deferment, ranging from one to six months, to enable their employers to train replacements.

"This action is taken," Col. Earp said, "pursuant to the President's directive that all occupational deferments be reviewed with a view to making available the personnel required by the armed forces. While all cases are to be reviewed, particular attention must be given to registrants under 26 years of age."

The review and reclassification order to the local boards covers each of the four categories of occupational deferment: 2-A, workers supporting the war effort; 2-B, workers employed in a war plant; 2-C, farmers, and 3-C, farmers who have dependents. The latter classification recently was abolished, however.

The instructions to the boards pointed out that reclassification

All Are Manufacturers of Garments for Women —Action Against Retail Concern Also.

Suits accusing three St. Louis women's garment manufacturers of violating price ceilings and asking for damages totaling $471,042 were filed in United States District Court today by Taylor Sandison, district enforcement officer of the Office of Price Administration. A fourth suit sought to enjoin a retail dry goods firm from continuing alleged overcharges, but asked no damages.

The garment manufacturing firms were Forest City Manufacturing Co., 1641 Washington avenue; J. Glaser and Ralph Lowenbaum, doing business as the R. Lowenbaum Manufacturing Co., 2225 Locust street, and Adler Manufacturers, Inc., 1123 Washington avenue. The retail dry goods firm was Carps, Inc., 920 Washington avenue.

Forest City was accused of overcharging on 18,192 dozen dresses in the period from March to June, 1943. Damages totaling $310,448, or three times the amount of the alleged overcharges, were asked.

R. Lowenbaum Manufacturing Co. was accused of placing pencils bearing the firm's trade mark in shipments of dresses and including the cost of the pencils as part of direct manufacturing cost in an attempt to evade prescribed price ceilings. Treble damages totaling $123,356 were asked for.

Adler Manufacturers was accused of including necklaces or earrings, at a purported cost of $1.85 a dozen, as part of direct manufacturing cost of a dress style when these, the OPA claimed, were neither part of the dress nor part of the direct cost of the garment. The firm also was accused of placing loose extra buttons in dress pockets to increase the cost. The suit asked treble damages totaling $37,238 in this case.

Carps, operator of retail stores at 4268 and 7355 Manchester avenue, in Rolla, Mo., and in six Illinois cities, was accused of selling merchandise above ceiling prices prescribed for retailers.

The OPA asked the Court to enjoin the four defendant firms from continuing the alleged overcharges, and also requested an accounting on the fall business of the three garment manufacturers. Preliminary restraining orders were issued by Judge George H. Moore, returnable March 8 for the Adler and Lowenbaum firms and March 10 for the other two defendants.

The Carps and Lowenbaum firms declined to discuss the suits. Officials of the other defendant companies could not be reached.

CONFEREES AGREE ON SOLDIER VOTE COMPROMISE BILL

Federal Ballot for Service Men if Governors Says It Meets State Laws.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—A compromise service vote bill providing limited use of the administration-backed Federal ballot was approved today by Senate and House conferees.

The compromise — approved without the support of Representative Rankin (Dem.), Mississippi, leader of the Southern "states' rights" Democrats, authorizes use of a uniform Federal absentee ballot only if governors certify that it is acceptable under the laws of the states.

In addition, the men and women in the armed forces who vote the Federal ballot must first certify that they have applied for a state absentee ballot aand have not received it.

"The fight's just begun," snapped Rankin as he emerged from the committee room where the conferees had worked more than two weeks trying to find a service vote bill acceptable both to Federal ballot advocates and to those who insisted this year's military voting be left entirely with the states.

SOUTH CAROLINA PICKS BYRNES AS PEACE PARLEY DELEGATE

COLUMBIA, S. C., Feb. 29 (AP).—The House of Representatives today voted for the "appointment and designation" of James F. Byrnes, War Mobilization Director, to represent South Carolina "at any and all peace conferences following the present war." Byrnes is a resident of South Carolina.

The resolution naming Byrnes set forth that, inasmuch as Russia had set up a federalized government of 16 states, and as a result might seek 16 votes at the peace conference, and that the British Empire, with its dominions, could cast "numerous votes," the United States should demand 48 votes, or one for each state.

AUTO STICKER DEADLINE IS EXTENDED BY CITY

The deadline for St. Louis motorists to obtain automobile license stickers, originally set for midnight tonight, has been extended, City License Collector Frank A. Britton announced today. The eventual deadline will coincide with that for State tags, a date not yet announced. The metal shortage has delayed manufacture of State plates.

So far this year 112,000 city stickers have been issued, Britton said. Last year 150,000 were sold.

'Speedy Delivery' Gets a Ballot To Flyer 3 Months After Election

LONDON, Feb. 29.—Memo to Congress: If you want the soldiers to vote, you had better take a tip from Flying Fortress Bombadier Adam A. Mackow of Newark, N. J., and start mailing ballots out now.

Today's issue of the Army newspaper, Stars and Stripes, reveals that Mackow has just received his New Jersey absentee ballot for the gubernatorial election. The story does not mention whether Mackow is a Republican or Democrat, but it won't make much difference to the outcome now because the election was held last November (Republican Walter E. Edge won).

This incident at least shows how fast the war is moving these days. The envelope was addressed to Pvt. Adam Mackow. He is a second lieutenant now.

FINLAND'S DIET MEETS, TAKES UP PEACE QUESTION

HINT IN STOCKHOLM OF EARLY DECISION

Sweden Said to Have Offered Food Supplies if Nation Quits War With Russia.

By EDWIN SHANKE

STOCKHOLM, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Finnish Diet (parliament) met in closed session for an hour this morning and heard Premier Edwin Linkomies explain the Government's position regarding an armistice or continued war with Russia, it was reported from Helsinki.

The legislators then recessed until afternoon.

A routine open session was held during the morning before the doors were closed. The Premier spoke for a half hour, and for another half hour members questioned the Government spokesman. Details were not disclosed.

Swedish Food Offer Reported.

Meanwhile, a reliable informant said Sweden would do its best to provide food for Finland if it quit the war. Finland, which has depended largely on Germany for food supplies, announced only last night the signing of a new trade pact with the Reich.

While a Swedish Government spokesman refused to say whether an offer of food actually had been made to the Finnish Government, it was a good guess that the Stockholm Government had given the Finns some assurance on that point.

Swedish press comment and public opinion generally were hopeful that Finland could find some way out. It was believed nothing yet had happened that definitely would prevent a Finnish - Russian armistice even though the Finnish attitude had altered perceptibly.

The Swedish newspaper Aftonbladet's Helsinki correspondent said Finland's answer to the American admonition to get out of the war could not be delayed longer and hinted at some imminent development.

Finnish Decision Predicted.

Dagens Nyheter editorialized that the "last step" in the Finnish-Russian situation was imminent and asserted that the Finnish people now had all the information necessary to make their decision.

In Helsinki the newspaper Social Demokratti asserted that Russian air raids on the Finnish capital may have jeopardized peace negotiations.

"Force and threats, as Russia must know of old, will only give rise to opposite reaction," said the

CHARGES PENTAGON BUILDING COST TWICE SUM ALLOWED

Engel Says, In Report to House, 51 Million More Was Spent Than Congress Authorized.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Representative Engel (Rep.), Michigan, the "one-man congressional investigation," estimated today that the Pentagon Building had cost 86 million dollars, considerably more than twice the amount appropriated by Congress.

In a report to the House, he said Congress authorized an expenditure of only 35 million dollars for the giant structure occupied by the War Department. The additional 51 million dollars, Engel said, was obtained without congressional sanction from other funds available to Government agencies.

Engel, who drove around the country inspecting Army camps a few years ago, said he investigated the cost of the Pentagon because he was sure the will of Congress has been flouted.

$440 WELFARE 'DEBT' REPAID BY MOTHER; SONS IN ARMY NOW

"I Didn't Want Any Blot on My Boys' Record," She Says, Handing Over First Payment of $350.

PORTLAND, Me., Feb. 29 (AP).—An elderly woman marched determinedly into the city welfare office and demanded to know the amount of her "bill."

Back in depression days, she told Welfare Secretary James C. Furnival, she had accepted aid so her boys might have a better chance. Now the boys are in the Army; her circumstances are better. Furnival, telling the story, said a search of the records showed the woman had received $440. She opened a worn handbag, gave him $350 and a few weeks later paid the balance.

"I didn't want any blot on my boys' record," she said.

FORTRESSES HIT AT BRUNSWICK AS LIBERATORS RAID COAST OF FRANCE

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Only one American bomber and six fighters were lost in today's heavy bomber assault on Brunswick and the coast of North France, American headquarters announced tonight.

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP). — United States heavy bombers in their nineteenth operation for February attacked targets today at Brunswick, classified by the Army as "one of Germany's major manufacturers of aircraft components and engines, and an important communications center."

A communique noted that "Brunswick targets twice were attacked in last week's record-breaking daylight offensive against Nazi aircraft component assembly and allied industries."

United States and British fighter planes protected the Flying Fortresses in today's assault.

The February total of 19 operations is seven more than that attained in any previous month. The eighteenth operation was an attack yesterday against the French "rocket coast" in which six heavy bombers were lost.

Formations of Liberators and Allied medium bombers dumped another heavy load of explosives on this Pas de Calais area of France today. Almost continuous attacks on the region were maintained by medium and light bombers.

Fourth Raid on Brunswick.

It was the fourth great daylight blow of the month against Brunswick, the big airplane manufacturing center 125 miles west of Berlin, which turns out chiefly engines and other parts for the twin-engine Messerchmitt 110 fighter. That plane has been adapted into a rocket-shooter and in the fighter-bomber version has been participating in German raids on England.

Fortress flyers reported on their return from Brunswick that they bombed through heavy clouds. This may have prevented a repetition of the great Jan. 11 aerial battle over the same target in which 60 American bombers and 152 German fighters were shot down.

The first crews back said their escort of fighters was so big that their number well may set a record. German fighter opposition

EXTRA TRAIN PUT ON TO HELP STRANDED LEAVE FLORIDA

WILMINGTON, N. C., Feb. 29 (AP).—The Atlantic Coast Line announced last night it had been authorized by the Office of Defense Transportation to operate an additional Miami-to-New York passenger train for the relief of stranded Florida winter sojourners, many of whom went by auto and are unable to get additional gasoline rations for the return trip.

The announcement said the additional train was authorized "to supplement existing transportation facilities for persons now in Florida who are unable to obtain accommodations on other trains now being operated."

The train will be put in operation Wednesday and will run daily until March 31, unless the time is extended. Connecting service will be available from St. Petersburg and Tampa and intermediate points, with connections at Jacksonville.

The train will not carry sleeping cars but will be equipped with coaches, diner and baggage car and will be operated north of Jacksonville as a section of the Champion (West Coast) Train due to arrive in Washington at 10:05 a. m. and New York at 2:50 p. m.

Martha Gellhorn Sets Out to See Cassino; Shot At, Dives Into Ditch Venture Goes Well Till Her Party Comes Under Guns and Is Turned Back — Germans' Aim Is Bad.

NEAR CASSINO, Feb. 14 (delayed).—Mrs. Ernest Hemingway (the former Martha Gellhorn, daughter of Mrs. George Gellhorn of St. Louis) had decided that she wanted to cross the river into the outskirts of Cassino. She had been there before, some time ago, and was deeply suspicious of warnings that crossing had become too hot for tourist traffic. In a weak moment we volunteered to go along with her and check up on the situation.

To reach this crossing you drive along a road paralleling the Rapido River bed until you are practically in Cassino, then turn sharp right and dash across a short stretch of road into a shelter of cliffs on the other side. For the last half mile or so you are under direct observation by the Germans, practically under the nose of Larocca, the enemy-held castle just above Cassino itself. The crossroads where you turn off to cross the river has long been conceded to be a hot spot.

When we reached this spot the

Tells Ambassador U. S. Views Relations With Buenos Aires With 'Great Seriousness.'

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius has advised the Argentine Ambassador, Dr. Adrian C. Escobar, that the United States views its relations with Argentina with great seriousness as a result of changes in the Government at Buenos Aires.

Escobar called on Stettinius at his home Sunday and, it was learned, Stettinius took occasion to impress on him the serious effect of the New Argentine regime on the relations of the two countries.

At a press conference today Stettinius was asked if he could report anything specific about an exchange of information on the new Argentine Government among the other American countries. He said it probably would be two or three days before the interchange is completed.

He described the situation at Buenos Aires as still a fluid one, with the new President, Gen. Edelmiro Farrell, still making appointments so that the complexion of the administration could not yet be exactly determined.

British Near Carroceto Beat Off Small Enemy Attacks — Airmen Fly 600 Sorties.

By EDWARD KENNEDY

AT THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD IN ITALY, Feb. 29 (AP). — The Germans opened up today on Fifth Army troops in the beachhead with one of the heaviest shellings yet.

The shelling was not intensive at any one point, but it scattered all over the area.

There also were several air alerts.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NAPLES, Feb. 29 (AP).—British troops broke up a series of small German attacks in the ravine territory southwest of Carroceto on the Anzio beachhead front yesterday while Allied troops near Cassino mopped up Nazis who had infiltrated their lines, it was announced today.

For the British in the Carroceto region it was the second straight day of skirmishing with the enemy in the deep gullies surrounding the headwaters of the Moletta River. Allied artillery and mortars forced the Germans to fall back with heavy casualties, Allied headquarters said, and Allied positions were improved.

Artillery from both sides fired heavily throughout the day elsewhere on the beachhead front and patrols clashed at a number of points.

It was announced, meanwhile,

By SGT. GILBERT P. BAILEY
Marine Corps Combat Correspondent.

KWAJALEIN ATOLL, Marshalls (Delayed).—Marine Sgt. Frank A. Tucker, a 30-year-old former traveling salesman from Hugo, Ok., probably accounted for more Japanese personally than any other man who fought in the battle for Kwajalein.

The commanding officer and top sergeant of his unit and the men who fought next to him that afternoon and night credit Tucker and his rifle with at least 38 of the enemy.

Tucker has one bullet hole drilled neatly through the top of his helmet, one through his canteen and another one in the lens of his field glasses to remind him of the action.

He and 11 other men from a machine-gun unit had chased the Japanese out of a blockhouse on one end of Namur Island. They saw about 75 Japanese running for a trench 50 yards to the rear. Tucker accounted for six and the rest of the unit for about 19.

About 50 Japanese reached the trench in time to turn around, fire and pin down in a shell hole all but two of the men pursuing them. Tucker, who managed to reach the cover of a coconut tree, and one corporal close behind him, were the only men who could effectively return the enemy fire.

Through the night, the two traded fire with the entrenched Japanese riflemen. Pfc. Stephen P. Hopkins, 18-year-old son of Harry Hopkins, was the ammunition carrier who kept Sgt. Tucker going in the early part of the action. Hopkins was killed a few yards from Tucker's position.

The men in the unit who watched the action credit Sgt. Tucker with at least 32 of the enemy and the corporal with 17. The one Japanese still alive in the trench the next morning shot himself when a mopping-up party approached.

REDS TAKE TOWN 6 MILES NORTH OF CITY, FIGHT IN ITS OUTER DEFENSES

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Soviet communique announced tonight the capture of the town of Pogorelka, six miles north of Pskov, and said that more than 250 populated places were captured in this Baltic front offensive.

The Russians also captured Novorzhev, a bastion guarding the approach to the Baltic northwest of Novosokolniki and about 70 miles southeast of Pskov, said the communique. This represented a five-mile gain in this sector.

By EDDY GILMORE

MOSCOW, Feb. 29 (AP).—All territory held by the Germans in Northwest Russia is now threatened by the Red Army drive on Pskov and there is evidence that the Nazi transportation system in some places is becoming disorganized, dispatches from the Baltic front reported today.

(The British radio, quoting the Soviet army newspaper Red Star, said the Russians now were "fighting inside the German defenses around Pskov," with advanced Red Army units "within sight of the fortress city." "The Germans are resisting fiercely, especially along the main road, and the Red Army has to fight hard for every village it takes," said the broadcast.)

With the vanguard of the Russian forces less than 12 miles away, Pskov was reported to be already under fire from Red Army siege guns.

A dispatch to Moscow from the Pskov front said that in many sectors the roads are so clogged with wrecked German transport, guns and tanks that special Soviet cleanup squads have been formed to clear them away to enable the Russians to march through on the heels of the retreating enemy.

Farther south, Gen. M. M. Popov's Second Baltic Army was reported smashing through an intricate network of German communication lines and fortifications northwest of Novosokolniki and just east of the border of the Latvian republic. At one point Russian troops were only 12 miles from the frontier. This breakthrough, which has disorganized German defense plans and fighting lines, is seriously endangering Adolf Hitler's plans in the north and may shortly have far-reaching results, one dispatch said.

With the Russians making great headway in this region about 70 miles below Pskov, the German positions around Pskov were in danger of being outflanked and it appeared they could not be held long.

The Soviet command said Popov's forces routed three Nazi divisions, stormed the Lsta River defense line and captured Sloboda, three miles east of Novorzhev.

Dispatches reported the Ger-

THE following eyewitness account of the American naval task force smash at Japan's mid-Pacific base at Truk, Feb. 16 and 17, is the first detailed account by a war correspondent of the battle action.

By LEIF ERICKSON

ABOARD A BATTLESHIP OFF TRUK, Caroline Islands, Feb. 17 (Delayed) (AP).—This task force of aircraft carriers and new battleships—the greatest concentration of naval striking power in history—has exploded the myth of Truk's impregnability.

A surprise lightning-like strike out of a cloudy dawn by Hellcat fighters wiped out nearly all the planes defending this kingpin Japanese fortress and supply base in the Caroline Islands.

In all, 127 Japanese planes were destroyed in the air and 74 on the ground—a total of 201 planes destroyed. More than 50 additional planes were damaged on the ground.

After the first fighter strike, a steady parade of Avenger torpedo planes and new Helldiver dive bombers blasted targets at will for most of the two days.

Now we are retiring with Truk's lagoon well littered with sunken ships and burned-out hulks.

Thirty-six ships were caught in the lagoon anchorages the first day. On the second day 10 remained. Five there were left on the last strike before we pulled out. Carrier-based bombers set fire to fuel and ammunition dumps.

(Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced Sunday that reconnaissance photographs had disclosed that 23 Japanese ships were sunk, six probably sunk and 11 damaged in the two-day attack.)

We lost 17 planes.

No Air, Sea Blow at U. S. Fleet.

No bombing or surface attack was made on our vast formation of the fastest, hardest hitting warships afloat.

Truk's defenders apparently had been lulled into rear-base security since the start of the war and just had to take it on the chin.

The Truk attack had several purposes. One was to prevent Japanese air interference with the amphibious invasion of Eniwetok atoll in the Marshalls this morning. Another was to feel out Truk's strength and to slaughter as many warships and transports as possible.

Before this strike, the Navy frankly acknowledged it knew very little about Truk. Now we know just about all we need to know.

Officers and men of this battleship are almost as shocked by the Japanese failure to send out attack planes as the enemy must have been by our first strafing planes.

In our bombing and torpedo attacks, R. Adm. F. C. Sherman, commanding one group of carriers in the force, reported that his pilots alone blew up two tankers and one cargo vessel with torpedoes, plus a light cruiser and three transports. He said the enemy's air opposition was meager the first day and nonexistent the second.

Daring Rescue in Lagoon.

A daring rescue of a Helicat fighter pilot shot down inside the Truk lagoon demonstrated how thoroughly the Japanese were beaten. A cruiser's scout seaplane landed near the southern end of the lagoon, picked up the fighter pilot from his rubber liferaft and returned him safely while circling fighters protected the seaplane. A Japanese destroyer hit by a bomb was burning fiercely near by. It fired on the rescuers but failed to hit them.

The first wave of attacking planes swept off the carriers in the predawn haze, climbing easily, forming precise patterns in the sky and disappearing over the horizon.

About an hour later, pilots could be heard singing out over their radios: "Picking targets. We're going down for strafing."

Truk Weak on Air Bases.

The first bombing strike followed immediately.

This ship's skipper, commenting on the assault's success, said, "I'm beginning to believe the Jap is harder pressed than we know. He just hasn't got enough stuff to go around for all his fronts.

"If we had enough transports in the Pacific to haul the troops we need, I believe we could go right through to China."

Truk's principal weakness, exposed by this carrier attack, is that the Japanese base doesn't have the necessary nearby supporting air bases. When Truk's own fields were neutralized, the Japanese couldn't muster any planes to fight back within time to do them any good.

TWO JAPS TRIED TO CRASH ON CARRIERS

ABOARD A BATTLESHIP OFF SAIPAN IN THE MARIANAS ISLANDS, Feb. 22 (Delayed)—(AP).—Closing in daringly on Japanese in the Marianas Islands who knew we were coming, this powerful United States Navy task force shot down 14 planes with anticraft fire in 11 hours of Japanese air attack on our ships and then battered the enemy's Marianas bases of Saipan and Tinian with heavy carrier bombing strikes.

Fighters and bombers launched from aircraft carriers while the task force still was under air attack destroyed in the air or knocked out on the ground 121 more Japanese aircraft, making total enemy plane losses 135.

Also, United States carrier plane flyers sank one previously damaged cargo vessel intercepted off the islands, probably sank two more merchant ships in the Tinian anchorage and left one grounded on the reef and another burning in Saipan harbor.

United States losses were six planes.

Hellcat Fighters Hit Guam.

Hellcat fighters were sent over Guam Island, 130 miles south of Saipan, to be sure Japanese planes from there would not interfere with the Saipan and Tinian attacks. These Hellcats were the first American planes to fly over the former United States naval base since it was lost to the enemy in December, 1941.

The deadly accuracy of the antiaircraft fire, plus some fumbling by the Japanese, conclusively vindicated the decision of R. Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, task force commander, to push on in against the alerted enemy which held the advantage of being able to use land-based planes against our ships.

Not one American ship was damaged in the Japanese attacks which began before midnight and continued until 10 a. m. the next day.

Frankly exultant, Adm. Mitscher, in a commendation message for all hands, said:

"This attack was history making for daring and tenacity of execution."

Now that the attack is successfully finished, it is easy to forget we knew very little of the numbers and effectiveness of the planes Japan could send against us. It was satisfying to see how futile the enemy's land-based planes attacked the force.

Jap Plane Attack.

A Japanese search plane spotted the task force early in the afternoon before the planned dawn attack the next day. Mitscher messaged: "Stand by for a fight to the finish."

One enemy plane made a pass on one United States carrier that made us gasp. Speeding low over the water, a twin-motored Mitsubishi aimed its nose through the blanket of black shell puffs, plainly trying to crash into the flattop. On it came, crossing astern our ship through a screen for the carriers. Then the plane was caught in an ack-ack crossfire from four ships—our battleship, the carrier, a cruiser and a destroyer. I held my breath in horrible fascination as the bomber streaked closer, then when less than 100 yards from the carrier's port side, the bomber burst into flames, went into a slight climb, crossed above the plane-crowded carrier deck and hit the water in a pool of orange flame.

A cheer arose from the men on our ship. It was the first kill by our ship's gun crews in the daylight attacks.

There was one more "suicide run" by a Mitsubishi pilot later in the morning, trying to send a torpedo into a carrier and failing, then trying to crash into the carrier's hull. It, too, was caught in a deadly crossfire and crashed like a flaming cartwheel into the water uncomfortably close to screening cruisers.

Then the enemy turned to dive bombing. After two had been shot down by 10 a. m. and others driven off by antiaircraft fire, the Japanese called it quits.

By then, carrier planes had worked over Saipan and Tinian air fields, completely neutralizing the enemy's remaining air strength.

An attack on Saipan was the high point on a 4800-mile troublehunting cruise through waters inclosed by Japanese bases by our fast heavyweight force. This is substantially the same outfit that stunned and paralyzed Truk in a surprise aerial assault on the Caroline Islands Feb. 16 and 17.

Following up the Truk attack with the strike on the Marianas demonstrates how quickly the Navy has capitalized on the capture of the Marshall Islands bases of Kwajalein and Eniwetok.

The blow at Saipan, 1260 miles southeast of Tokyo, was an audacious grab at an opportunity of profit stemming from the temporary knockout of Truk, 600 miles to the northwest.

It was 2 p. m. when a Japanese search plane spotted the task force and escaped into a cloudbank to spread the alarm. But the weakness of the enemy's opposition after being alerted seems to be substantial evidence that the Japanese are very short on planes—at least in the Marianas.

"Skeleton" Jap Air Force.

Apparently the enemy has employed Saipan and Tinian as stopovers for planes routed to outer defense areas through Truk. Saipan must have been left with only a skeleton force of defending planes. That force was wiped out in a foolishly wasteful attempt to interfere with superior attacking forces.

The Japanese previously had learned that sending large groups of planes against the heavy ack-ack of our warships was extremely costly. In the Saipan attacks, Japanese defenders came singly or in pairs, but gun crews chewed them up just as completely that way.

Japs Got 'Crack They'll Remember' Mountbatten Tells Burma Troops

—Associated Press Wirephoto.

In what the Allied Southeast Asia Command describes as the first important success in this theater, British and Indian troops have cleared Ngakyedauk pass and taken Kyauktaw in a drive on Akyab. At the northern end of the front Chinese forces have advanced toward Maingkwan, while two drives have made progress in the center.

NEW DELHI, Feb. 29 (AP).—"You have given the Japanese a crack they'll remember," Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten, Allied commander-in-chief in Southeast Asia, told the Fourteenth Army and the Eastern Air Command in an order of the day on their victory in Arakan in West Burma.

"You have come victoriously through your first battle. . . . They (the Japanese) are learning that—just as the war cannot be won by sudden and treacherous assaults—so, too, big battles are not decided by surprise attack. . . . You've gained complete victory. . . . I salute you."

A Southeast Asia communique reported a continuation of mopping-up operations against scattered remnants of 8000 Japanese troops which were routed in the action, north of Akyab, to which Mountbatten's message referred.

The communique said areas east of the Mayu range were being cleared of Japanese and that one enemy column north of the Seventh Indian Division had been forced from its positions northwest of Awlanbyin and was withdrawing.

Enemy dead were reported officially at 1500 up to yesterday.

Today's communique said it was apparent the Japanese were preparing to make a stand on the line of their original positions from which they launched their disastrous drive to infiltrate British lines, destroy the Fifth and Seventh Indian divisions and open the way for an advance into India.

Japanese withdrawals were reported everywhere in the fighting area north of Akyab with straggling parties being harassed by pursuing British troops. West African troops continued satisfactory progress in the Kaladan Valley near captured Kyauktaw and fighting increased in intensity east of the Kaladan River.

A party of American and British airmen was given official credit for saving the lives of many casualties in the Arakan campaign. They are the pilots and crews of British Moths and American Stinsons which figuratively can "land on a handkerchief" and take off with cargoes of wounded.

Airfield, Supply Dumps Pounded in 12th Day of Heavy Attacks on New Britain Base.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 29 (AP).—Two hundred Allied planes, in the twelfth straight day of heavy attack, blasted airports, bivouac and supply areas at the Japanese Rabaul base in a 164-ton raid, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's communique said today.

The attack, delivered Saturday, was centered against Vunapope airdrome and the harbor area. For the seventh day, there was no Japanese air opposition. Fourteen barges and an ammunition dump were destroyed or damaged. One Allied plane was lost.

A small cargo ship and two barges were sunk off Duke of York Island, between New Britain and New Ireland, by Solomons air patrols.

During the last 26 days 2205 tons of bombs and hundreds of high-explosive naval shells have crashed down on Rabaul's five airports, harbor and ground installations.

Capt. Arleigh T. (30-Knot) Burke, whose dashing destroyer force has helped sweep the seas almost clean of Japanese shipping around New Britain and nearby New Ireland, expressed the belief that Tokyo has abandoned hope of saving the two big, jungle-covered islands, and will leave the garrisons to their fate.

"Our amazingly successful destroyer raids in supposedly dangerous waters north and west of New Britain and New Ireland this week and last week, convinced me the Japs have given up there," Burke said in an interview.

"I think those stranded and deserted will collapse, but not soon. The ships we sunk were removing key personnel and apparently ammunition as well."

Another indication of Japanese aerial weakness was seen in the fact that the Allied beachhead at Empress Augusta Bay on Bougainville Island, 240 miles southeast of Rabaul, has not been raided by enemy planes for two weeks.

Admiralty Islands Hit.

MacArthur's communique also reported that 36 tons of bombs were dropped on enemy airports and installations in the Admiralty Islands, west of New Ireland; that air dromes in the Wewak area of New Guinea were hit by 80 tons of bombs; and that Tadji airdome at Altape, west of Wewak, caught 73 tons of bombs.

Twenty-nine planes were destroyed or damaged in the attacks at Wewak and Madang. A coastal vessel was set afire in the Madang harbor.

In the push up the New Guinea coast toward Madang, American soldiers of the Thirty-Second Division advanced 15 miles northwest of Saidor and are now 47 miles from Madang.

The Japanese lost four barges off Bougainville Island when Navy PT boats and Catalina planes caught 12 barges coming out of the mouth of the Jaba River, 12 miles below the American beachhead. One PT boat was destroyed by a Japanese shore gun, with the loss of two officers and 11 enlisted man. Farther south, PT boats and Catalinas sank two more Japanese barges.

Wage Rise for Shapleigh Co.

A directive providing for wage increases up to 10 cents an hour for 789 employes of the Shapleigh Hardware Co., 900 Spruce street, was announced today by the Regional War Labor Board at Kansas City. Increases are retroactive to last May 1, in accordance with an agreement between the company and the workers' union, the CIO Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Employes.

Cables Thanks for Congratulations on Red Army — Faith in Allied Understanding.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Marshal Stalin of Russia today underscored the Allied understandings reached at Moscow and Teheran late last year, and informed President Roosevelt he was convinced the time is near when co-operating forces of the Soviet Union, the United States and Great Britain will bring about "the final defeat of our common enemy, Hitlerite Germany."

A message made public by the White House, acknowledging the President's cablegram of Feb. 22 congratulating the Red Army on its twenty-sixth anniversary, said:

"I ask you to accept my sincere thanks for your friendly congratulations on the occasion of the twenty-sixth anniversary of the Red Army and on the successes of the armed forces of the Soviet Union in the struggle against the Hitlerite invaders.

"I am strongly convinced that the time is near when the successful struggle of the armed forces of the Soviet Union, together with the armies of the United States and Great Britain, on the basis of the agreements reached at Moscow and Teheran, will lead to the final defeat of our common enemy, Hitlerite Germany."

present Argentine Government to pay a protocol visit to President Pedro Ramirez who still is virtually a prisoner in his residence.

These informants said, however, that American Governments were aware that such a step would be a delicate procedure inasmuch as a mere request to see Ramirez might be interpreted as evidence that foreign governments do not believe official Argentine statements that Ramirez has only temporarily delegated his presidential powers to Gen. Edelmiro Farrell.

A development of major interest was a dispatch from Buenos Aires quoting acting Foreign Minister Diego Mason as saying there would be no change in Argentine foreign policy under Farrell's administration.

The dispatch said Mason issued a statement declaring that "the Argentine government intends to continue as always with its foreign policy, which tends toward strict observance of its pledges related to continental security, solidarity and defense."

"Our foreign policy will not change during the period the Vice-President (Farrell) remains in exercise of the executive power," Mason added.

The Ramirez Government broke off relations with the Axis in January, and had been under fire from certain reactionary elements.

A Socialist Deputy meanwhile told the Uruguayan Chamber of Deputies yesterday that "without any justification an atmosphere of war between sister nations is being prepared which may be the origin of an American catastrophe."

Urging that all American legislatures denounce the situation, the Deputy—Jose Pedro Cardozo—said:

"It is an open secret that close to us within our two big neighboring countries (Uruguay is hemmed in between Argentina and Brazil) some elements which I do not want to identify now are intensifying alarming preparations for a clash which would never be justified."

Cardozo declined to elaborate on his statement.

Reports said a general strike was spreading in Paraguay and that 1500 workers, building an airport under Army orders, had left their jobs at Campo Grande.

One informant said a group of persons had asked President Higinio Morinigo to resign, but that he had refused.

The Paraguayan strike was said to have started Feb. 15 in protest against a Government decree regulating workers' unions.

RED OFFICERS INSPECT U. S. INVASION FORCES IN BRITAIN

Two Admirals and General in Mission Which Studies Amphibious Methods—They Have First Ride in 'Ducks.'

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Russian Army and Navy officers witnessed and participated in American preparations for the assault landings on the European continent, the United States Navy disclosed today.

"Exercises held jointly by United States Army and Navy personnel in the English coastal area were observed by two Russian admirals, a general and nine other members of the Soviet military mission in Great Britain," the announcement said.

"The exercises constituted a portion of the continuing program whereby American personnel is being trained in the United Kingdom for amphibious operations against the continent."

Two-Day Program.

The program lasted two days and Russian officers "participated freely" in it. They are now back in London.

"They studied the assault weapons, various types of landing craft and methods of training," the announcement said.

The Russians' many questions were relayed by interpreters to experts in the American services who explained technical points, and the plan of exercises with maps and charts.

"The Soviet naval officers were given their first ride in 'ducks' from training beaches. They displayed keen interest in the techniques of amphibious warfare which have developed rapidly as a result of experience in the Pacific, North Africa, Sicily and Italy. The Russian party was conducted by officers on the staff of the commander of United States naval forces in Europe," Adm. Harold R. Stark, the announcement added.

Troops Moved From Iceland.

It was disclosed today that United States troops who served for many months as part of the Iceland garrison now are in Britain with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's invasion forces.

The troops arrived here several months ago and since then have been undergoing intensive training.

A spokesman for the Supreme Allied Command advised the people of France by radio last night to refrain from trying to read between the lines of pre-invasion warnings because he said, they always "mean exactly what they say."

The spokesman acknowledged that some confusion had resulted from previous broadcasts and said:

"We have always promised that at the given moment you will receive clear and precise instructions about the part you will be called upon to play in the large-scale operations which will affect French territory."

POINTIE-TALKIE BOOK AIDS YANKS SHOT DOWN IN CHINA

WITH FOURTEENTH AIR FORCE IN CHINA, Feb. 29 (AP).—The American flyer in this theater now carries a pointie-talkie—a visual language book.

If shot down, he finds a literate Chinese and points out in the book passages printed in Chinese characters, translating:

"I am an American airman and have been forced down here."

Or:

"If the enemy or puppet troops come, please help conceal me."

Spanish Sailors Among Spies.

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 29 (AP).—Federal police announced today they had arrested a number of Axis spie, incxluding crewmen of Spanish vessels who aided the escape of sailors of the scuttled German pocket battleship Graf Spee.

MAJOR ASSERTS LOOSE TALK LET ENEMY KNOW KISKA PLANS

SEATTLE, Wash., Feb. 29 (AP).—Loose talk in Seattle, embarkation port for Alaska, enabled the Japanese to pull thousands of troops and great quantities of material out of Kiska last August, an Army intelligence spokesman says, thereby leaving invading United States forces "with a hollow victory tantamount to defeat."

Maj. Albert J. Stowe, personal representative of Gen. Clayton Bissell, assistant chief of staff, Army intelligence, told interviewers yesterday:

"Common was the knowledge in Seattle that we planned to attack Kiska and, prior to the invasion, unauthorized persons, both military and civilian, openly disclosed the D date, Aug. 15.

"So accurately and so far in advance were the Japs tipped off that had they chosen to implement their forces they might have annihilated us."

BRITISH CRUISER IS SUNK

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—The loss of the British cruiser Spartan was announced today by the Admiralty. No details were given.

The Spartan is not listed in the latest edition of "Jane's Fighting Ships," authoritative naval directory.

ROOSEVELT SEEKS 'GOOD NEIGHBOR' PLAN EXPANSION

Asks Congress, in One Sentence, to Authorize Its Extension to Other Parts of World.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—President Roosevelt wants congressional action which will extend to other parts of the world the "good neighbor" program which this country has developed as a basis for relations with the Western Hemisphere republics.

Transmitting to Congress a set of documents prepared by acting Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius—which were not immediately made public—the President said in a one-sentence message:

"I commend to the favorable consideration of the Congress the enclosed report from the acting Secretary of State with an accompanying memorandum, to the end that the act approved Aug. 9, 1939, entitled "An act to authorize the President to render closer and more effective the relationship between the American republics' may be amended to permit the development of similar programs of mutual understanding and co-operation with other parts of the world."

The act referred to is the "Good Neighbor" Act.

This act authorized the President to use such agencies of the Government as he found necessary in carrying out the reciprocal undertakings and co-operative activities subscribed to by the American republics at the Western Hemisphere peace maintenance conference held at Buenos Aires in 1936 and at a subsequent international conference at Lima, Peru, in 1938.

Under provisions of the law, the President was able to act positively to further develop closer cultural, scientific and educational relations between the United States and the other countries in this hemisphere.

In two other messages sent to Congress today the President asked for favorable action on a proposal to provide two additional Assistant Secretaries of State, and proposed legislation to amend the law grading and classifying clerks in the foreign service.

AMERICAN SHIP TORPEDOED IN ARABIAN SEA; CREW SAVED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—A medium-sized United States merchant vessel was torpedoed and sunk by an enemy submarine in the Arabian Sea early in January, the Navy announced today.

All members of the crew were rescued and survivors have been landed at Boston, the Navy said.

CONTEMPT MOVE CONSIDERED IN SLATTERY CASE

WILL MAKE ITS DECISION LATER

Daniels Could Be Pardoned by President if Found Guilty of Senators' Charges.

By EDWARD A. HARRIS
A Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—The Senate agriculture subcommittee investigating the Rural Electrification Administration today instructed Committee Counsel Carroll L. Beedy to prepare a report on the legal questions involved in any action to issue a contempt citation against Jonathan Daniels, special administrative assistant to President Roosevelt.

The report will be presented to the committee in executive session Saturday, at which time the group will decide whether or not to act against Daniels for refusing to testify yesterday about his alleged efforts to get Harry Slattery to quit as REA head.

Slattery had testified previously that twice last August Daniels urged him to resign and take a post studying rural electrification systems abroad, and he also asserted that earlier this month, during the current congressional inquiry, Daniels summoned him to the White House and tried to get him to sign a prepared letter of resignation.

Biddle Aid With Him.

Daniels was accompanied to the hearing yesterday by Ugo Carusi, executive assistant to Attorney General Francis Biddle, with whom he frequently conferred during the interrogation. His stock answer to most of the questions was that he could not break his confidential relationship with the President. He also refused, with apologies, an invitation to talk in executive session.

Several committee members were obviously angered by Daniels' stand. Carusi was sworn in as a witness at the afternoon session, and said he had been instructed to advise Daniels by the Attorney General.

Later, Senator Aiken (Rep.), Vermont, told reporters: "The issue of Daniels' refusal to testify boils down to the issue involved in the tax revolt—namely, is the legislative branch a co-ordinate branch of the Government, to be respected as such, or is it to become a cipher? The sooner we decide the point the better."

It was believed that the committee would take several days to study the law before determining its course of action. Should it decide on contempt, it would recommend such a move to the full Agriculture Committee, which would then vote on it, and, if approved, take the matter to the Senate floor. If the Senate followed the committee's recommendation and found Daniels guilty of contempt, a Federal court would be asked to issue the contempt citation.

Could Be Pardoned.

Beedy yesterday warned Daniels that refusal to answer questions of a congressional committee was a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of $100 to $1000 or a jail sentence from a month to a year, or both. The President, of course, could pardon Daniels, if found guilty.

Carusi told the Post-Dispatch the courts have never settled the question of the authority of Congress to cite a Government witness for contempt. It is known that, if the Senate seeks to do so in this instance, the Attorney General's office will demur to the citation in court and, if necessary, fight the matter up to the Supreme Court.

TRUMAN INQUIRY ON LAYOFFS TO COVER ST. LOUIS SITUATION

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29.—Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri told a CIO delgation today that his National War Program Committee has already started an inquiry into the man power and production situation with a view to recommending a more systematic and equitable plan for necessary layoffs of personnel.

The inquiry, Truman said, will take in the St. Louis situation, where 12,000 persons of a total of 25,000 employed in small arms ammunition production are scheduled to be laid off by April 1, according to a letter Truman received from the office of Under Secretary of War Robert Patterson.

Truman expressed agreement with the CIO delegation that, where layoffs are deemed necessary, the War Department should strive to give adequate advance notice to the plants and labor unions involved, so plans could be formulated for absorption of the personnel elsewhere. William Sentner, general vice-president of District Eight of the United Electrical and Machine Workers Union, told the Senator that the War Department gave only 10 days' notice to the United States Cartridge Co. plant in St. Louis on current layoffs.

Lt. D. T. Leeper, Webster Groves Bombardier, Killed Over Holland

LEEPER CRYSTAL MAXON

GHOLSON KNOLL GREEN DE CASTRO

Recently Wrote He Had Received Air Medal—Other Casualties From This Region.

Lt. Douglas Tyler Leeper, a bombardier, was killed in action over Holland Feb. 10, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Leeper, 101 North Elm avenue, Webster Groves, have been informed.

Lt. Leeper, 22 years old, recently wrote his parents he had performed 10 combat missions and had received the Air Medal. He joined the National Guard shortly after graduating from Webster Groves High School in 1939 and entered the Army Air Forces in March, 1942.

Sgt. Emil J. de Castro, Army Air Forces bombardier, was killed in action over Italy Jan. 20 when he attempted to parachute from a disabled plane, the War Department has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. de Castro, 538 Fassen avenue. He was 23 years old, and attended Cleveland High School before enlisting in October, 1941.

Pvt. Lee R. Maxon, previously reported wounded in action in Italy is now listed as dead, the War Department has notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse C. Maxon, 1514 Fifth street, Madison. Maxon, 19 years old, was employed by the Commonwealth Steel Co. in Granite City before his induction into the Army last March.

Killed in Action.

Pvt. Nathan Crystal, son of Mrs. Anna Crystal, 657 North Thirty-eighth street, East St. Louis, previously listed as missing in action, in the Mediterranean area, is now reported killed. Crystal, 35 years old, was a boxing promoter in Southern Illinois before induction last February.

Lt. James H. Gholson, pilot of a Flying Fortress, has been missing in action over Germany since Feb. 10, the War Department informed his wife, Mrs. Jean Gholson, 4442 West Pine boulevard. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Lt. Gholson, 28 years old, was employed in the chemical laboratory of the Pevely Dairy Co. before he enlisted in July, 1942. He received his wings at Blackland Field, Waco, Texas, in August, 1943. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Gholson, live at Centralia, Mo.

Seaman James A. Green, 23, son of Mrs. Addie Green, 1718A South Broadway, is missing in action in the Pacific area, the Navy Department has informed his mother. Green, 23 years old, was employed by the Hager & Sons Hinge Co. here before enlisting in August, 1942.

William F. Devine, Navy torpedoman, son of Patrick J. Devine, formerly of 1618 St. Louis avenue, East St. Louis, has been reported missing in action, the Navy Department has announced.

Lt. Harry A. Schwaebe, pilot of a Flying Fortress previously reported missing following a mission over enemy territory Jan. 11, is now believed to be a prisoner of war in Germany. The War Department has informed his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Schwaebe, 4953 Arlington avenue, that Lt. Schwaebe was mentioned as a prisoner of war in an unofficial short wave broadcast from Germany Feb. 24. No personal message was included in the broadcast. Lt. Schwaebe, 27 years old, had been stationed in England since last November.

Wounded in Italy.

Lt. Raymond J. Knoll, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Knoll, 4413 Tennessee avenue, was wounded in action in Italy Jan. 30, the War Department has notified his parents. Lt. Knoll, 24 years old, was inducted into the Army in August, 1941, and has been overseas since November, 1942. He previously received the Purple Heart for wounds suffered in action in the Mediterranean theater last October. He is a graduate of South Side Catholic High School.

Aviation Ordnanceman Gerald A. Rogier, son of Mrs. Marie Rogier, Highland, Ill., was wounded in action in the Southwest Pacific, his relatives have been informed. Rogier, 33 years old, enlisted in the Navy in September, 1942, and has been overseas since last spring.

Seaman Leo C. Brust of the Navy, has been wounded in action. He is the son of Lee C. Brust, 122 Kerr street, Venice.

Admits Killing Man in Poolroom.

Lewis Giles, Negro, 3318 Delmar boulevard, was shot and killed last night in a poolroom at 3215 Franklin avenue following a dispute. Police said Ely Johnson, Negro, 1020 North Leonard avenue, admitted shooting Giles after his wife had told him Giles annoyed her.

LAST SUIT OVER AREA ON RIVERFRONT ENDED

37 Blocks Cost $8,804,048—Only 19 of 484 Cases Contested.

Seven years of litigation over Federal acquisition of the 37-block riverfront site for the Jefferson National Expansion Memorial ended yesterday when a United States District Court jury returned a verdict in the last contested condemnation suit.

The Government will have clear title to the 82-acre tract as soon as settlements negotiated in six remaining suits are approved by Washington and will have spent $8,804,084 for the land, razing of buildings and clearing the site.

The 484 suits, involving as many parcels of property, were instituted in 1937, with a nine-million-dollar fund established for land acquisition and clearing. The Government appropriated $6,750,000 and the city contributed $2,250,000.

Only 19 suits were contested, with out-of-court settlements reached in the 465 others, although exceptions to the commissioners' awards in all of the cases were entered by either the Government or property owners.

In the final suit yesterday, the jury awarded $17,000 to William L. and Genevieve Henchel for a four-story, pre-Civil War building which stood at 116 Elm street before it was torn down several years ago.

Date when the building was erected has been lost in history, but the earliest record on it was a deed of trust filed in 1858 to secure a $25,000 loan. Old-timers recalled a weathered, painted sign above the door attested that "the first fire extinguisher was made here." The Henchels acquired the building in 1932.

Total award of commissioners for all the land in the riverfront site was $7,012,554, but the Government in June, 1939, after excepting to the awards, placed in the court's registry as fair value of the property $6,183,480.

As of Jan. 31, the Government had paid out $6,487,808 to property owners. Settlements on the six remaining parcels, plus the $17,000 jury award yesterday, call for payment of $465,184. For razing and clearing and other expenses in connection with the memorial site, the Government spent $1,851,092.

MAN BARRICADES IN HOME EXCHANGES FIRE WITH POLICE

Armed with warrants charging assault withf intent to kill, University City police this afternoon sought to arrest Arthur Davis, 44 years old, who, they said, was barricaded in his home at 7225 Shaftsbury avenue, University City.

The warrants were issued by Justice of the Peace Taylor W. Strubinger of Clayton Township after police made two efforts to arrest Davis on complaint of his wife, who charged he struck her with a telephone last night.

Sgt. Frank Shaub and Patrolman Walter Gorman reported that Davis, on their second call at the house, threatened them with a rifle and fired one shot from inside the house, the bullet embedding itself in a door. Gorman said he fired a warning shot in return.

Farm Mortgage Act Extended.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Legislation extending provisions of the Frazier-Lemke Farm Mortgage Moratorium Act for two years was passed by the House today by a voice vote. There was little opposition. The present law will expire Saturday.

CLOSED FACTORY TO BE REOPENED, WILL HIRE 2500

McQuay-Norris Co. Plant on Forest Park Avenue Will Have Jobs Mostly for Women.

About 2500 persons, most of them women, will be employed eventually at the plant at 4100 Forest Park avenue which has been operated for the War Department by the McQuay-Norris Mnaufacturing Co. and which will be taken over tomorrow by the Navy.

McQuay-Norris will continue to operate the plant when production is resumed but a spokesman for the company said no announcement has been made as to what products will be manufactured.

The plant, which manufactured bullet cores, was closed except for a maintenance crew Jan. 31 and 1200 workers were dismissed from their jobs. A company announcement stated "some time will be required to remove the equipment formerly used and to arrange for new requirements."

Thomas L. Gaukel, area director for the War Manpower Commission, said the United States Employment Service would cooperate in hiring new employes at the plant when it was learned what products would be manufactured and when the plant would be reopened.

Navy officers in St. Louis said no official announcement had been received from the Bureau of Naval Ordnance as to the purposes to which the plant will be put.

Arthur G. Drefs, vice-president of McQuay-Norris, said it probably would be six months before the plant resumed full production.

TWO SUE TO BAR JEFFERSON HOTEL REORGANIZATION

Suit to forestall completion of a plan for financial reorganization of the Jefferson Hotel Co. by liquidation of outstanding bonds totaling $2,756,000 was filed in United States District Court yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Rothschild of Chicago.

The plaintiffs, who hold two $1000 bonds, set out the reorganization plan calls for a $1,700,000 loan from an insurance company, with bondholders to receive $640 cash, $360 in new bonds and a $60 interest payment for each $1000 bond now outstanding. They charge the plan is "unfair and inequitable" and would enable the company to profit at the bondholders' expense to the extent of $1,039,515 in accrued interest due.

The Rothschilds asked the court to hold the reorganization plan not binding on a minority of the bondholders opposing it even though a 75 per cent majority approves. The suit also asked for additional security for unpaid accrued interest. The St. Louis Union Trust Co. was named a co-defendant with the Jefferson Hotel Co. as trustee and depository.

60 DAYS FOR 61-YEAR-OLD MAN WHO SOLD RATION STAMPS

John J. Cleary Sr., whose business card lists him as an "ordained minister, notary public, dealer in old gold, silver antiques and watches; marriages performed at all hours," was sentenced to 60 days in jail yesterday by United States District Judge Rubey M. Hulen on his plea of guilty to charges of violating OPA regulations in selling ration stamps.

John Eldridge, one-armed janitor at 1358 Hamilton avenue, where Clearly lives, was released after being sentenced to remain in the custody of the United States Marshal for one hour. A woman OPA investigator testified that last June she purchased a shoe stamp from Cleary for 50 cents, a full book of food ration stamps for $2.50 and a T gasoline coupon for 75 cents. She said she bought sugar and meat stamps from Eldridge for $1.10.

Defense counsel, in arguing for leniency, told the court that Cleary, 61 years old, and Eldridge, 70, sold the stamps in order to get "beer money."

SELLERS PAYS PERSONAL TAX

Alderman Jake Sellers, chairman of the special aldermanic airport committee, paid a 1943 personal property tax of $12.38 plus a 51-cent penalty yesterday, after his failure to make the payment by Jan. 1 had been pointed out by Comptroller Louis Nolte.

Sellers told reporters he appreciated Nolte's "calling the oversight to my attention."

STAGEHANDS SUE UNION NICK ONCE RAN FOR $102,250

Two Allege Dues Overcharge and Blacklist by Local No. 6 of Theatrical Brotherhood.

Suits seeking $102,250 in damages were filed in Circuit Court yesterday against officers and trustees of the AFL St. Louis Theatrical Brotherhood, Local No. 6, by two stagehands, who described themselves as members of "a sister union," and alleged they have been overcharged a total of $6750 in dues for the right to work.

The plaintiffs, Henry H. Klaverkamp, 5611 Milentz avenue, and Ralph W. Baur, 6315 Bancroft avenue, members of the St. Louis Theatrical Employes' Union, Local B-2, also contend that officers of Local No. 6 have refused them permission to work as stagehands since last August, when they sought to collect the excess dues they assert they have paid.

Klaverkamp and Baur were notified by officers of No. 6 that they would no longer be permitted to work at their usual occupation, their petitions state, and that Local No. 6 would, in the future, "never consent for plaintiffs to again be employed as stagehands anywhere in the world."

Says He Paid for 20 Years.

Klaverkamp alleged he had been paying Local No. 6 officials 15 per cent of his wages for the past 20 years, although he had never been a member of that union, but had belonged to Local B-2, an AFL affiliate organized about 10 years ago for theatrical employes who were not already members of Local No. 6.

Although he belonged to another union, Klaverkamp alleged it was necessary for him to secure permission of the business agent of No. 6 to get work as a stagehand.

His suit contends that the constitution and by-laws of No. 6 allows the union to charge a member only 5 per cent of his wages, hence Klaverkamp has been paying 10 per cent more than the amount the union can legally charge. Klaverkamp alleged this overcharge has amounted to $4500 in 20 years. He asks for $27,250 in actual and $25,000 in punitive damages.

Baur's petition makes similar allegations to that of Klaverkamp. Baur contends he has been overcharged 10 per cent over the last 10 years, which totals $2250. He seeks $25,000 in actual and $25,000 in punitive damages.

Union Nick Once Dominated.

Among the defendants named in their suits are LeRoy Upton, president of the executive board of No. 6; Elmer Moran, business representative of No. 6; William Kostedt, vice-president of No. 6; and other officers and trustees of the union. The suits were filed by Taylor Young, counsel for Klaverkamp and Baur.

Local No. 6 is the union that was dominated for years by John P. Nick, who is serving a five-year term in Federal prison after his conviction in January, 1942, of violating antiracketeering laws.

Upton, Kostedt and Moran were among the anti-Nick bloc in the union, who were elected after Nick was imprisoned.

DIVORCES R. H. TORRENCE

Mrs. Eva M. Torrence obtained a divorce yesterday from Robert H. Torrence, a public accountant who is serving a three-year prison sentence for embezzling a total of $17,000 in 1942 from the bondholders' committee for the Inter-river Drainage District of Butler County, Mo., and the bondholders' committee for the St. Louis Joint Stock Land Bank.

She charged general indignities and her petition also cited the fact of her husband's imprisonment. Custody of their child was awarded by Circuit Judge Francis E. Williams and her maiden name was restored. They were married in November, 1929, separating in March, 1942.

Weather Bureau Closes Its Books On Winter; Mildest in 5 Years

Wahlgren Reminds City of Record Snow in March, 1912 — This Season Also Smokiest in 4.

The mildest winter in five years and the smokiest in four ends today, but Meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren said there is no assurance the city will not have another spell of cold and stormy weather.

For record-keeping purposes, the Weather Bureau considers December, January and February the winter months.

"Optimists may well consider," Wahlgren said, "that the heaviest snow in any single month fell during March, 1912. The total for that month was 28.8 inches, and 12.1 inches fell March 24."

The Weather Bureau reported two inches of snow on the ground this morning, but said yesterday's fall probably would have measured four inches had not half the snow melted rapidly. Slushy highways made driving hazardous for a time, and police reported 16 accidents in which six persons were injured. The snow grounded planes at Lambert-St. Louis Field yesterday afternoon, but operations were normal again today.

As for the three months ending today and conveniently called the winter months by the Weather Bureau, only 11.4 inches of snow fell as compared to a normal fall of 13.7 inches. The average temperature was 36.2 degrees as compared with a normal average of 33.9.

The warmest winter on record was that of 1889-1890 when the average temperature was 43.1 degrees, while the coldest occurred in 1872-1873 when the average was 26.3 degrees. The coldest month of record was January, 1940, when the average was 17.2 degrees, and the coldest day occurred Jan. 25, 1884, when the thermometer registered 22 degrees below zero. The lowest temperature recorded this winter was zero on Feb. 12, the only zero day of the season.

February, with an average temperature of 38.4 degrees, was 1.5 degrees colder than last year but 3.6 degrees warmer than the normal average. The highest temperature was 70 degrees on Feb. 22. Snowfall totaled 4.6 inches on Feb. 12 and 13.

The smoke record shows, Wahlgren said, that during December, January and February there were eight palls classified as thick and 28 as moderate. This compares with four thick and 23 moderate last winter, three thick and 18 moderate the winter before last and two thick and 19 moderate in the winter of 1940-41.

The vernal equinox, or first day of spring occurs March 20, Wahlgren said, and summer officially begins June 21.

HURT IN AUTO SATURDAY, DIES OF HIS INJURIES

Berlin Proffer, 41 years old, 2209A Farrar street, a crane operator, died today at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Granite City, of injuries suffered early Saturday when an automobile he was driving struck a telephone pole at McCambridge avenue and Edwardsville road, Madison.

Proffer and two companions were returning from work at the General Steel Castings Co., Granite City. The passengers, also crane operators, were Edward A. Darnell, 2620 Lincoln avenue, Granite City, and Harold Highland, 3917 North Ninth street, St. Louis. They suffered lacerations.

'NOT NOW AND DO NOT EXPECT TO BE CANDIDATE,' SAYS BYRD

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Senator Byrd (Dem.), Virginia, reiterated today, "I am not now and do not expect to be a candidate for the presidency."

In a letter to John U. Barr, temporary chairman of the Byrd-for-President Committee, the Virginian added, "I must always keep in mind the fact that my position in the Senate gives me opportunity to lend my efforts and voice to the tasks at hand."

Barr heads a group which has been organizing Byrd clubs throughout the South. He conferred yesterday with Byrd.

WOMAN BEATEN IN HOLDUP ATTEMPT; EX-CONVICT HELD

Mrs. Margaret Siegfried, assistant secretary of the Bureau for Men, a charitable agency in the Paul Brown Building, was in Jewish Hospital today recovering from a beating she suffered at the hands of a former convict yesterday.

Her assailant, Robert Newingham, 819 Market street, was held by police suspected of assault with intent to kill and attempted robbery. Also, he was nursing a laceration on his right thumb; Mrs. Siegfried bit him, he said, during the altercation.

Mrs. Siegfried, 48 years old, who lives at 5548 Waterman avenue, told police that Newingham, a frequent visitor to her office, appeared yesterday afternoon, mumbling incoherently and brandishing a revolver. When she attempted to placate him by offering him money he struck her on the head with the revolver. She escaped after a short struggle and fled to another office. Newingham, arrested a few hours later, told police he had planned to hold up the office. Police said his revolver was not loaded. He was paroled from the Oklahoma State Penitentiary in January, 1943.

Found by Motorist — Negro Arrested, Named by Insurance Collector as Assailant.

Criminally attacked and apparently left for dead by her assailant, a 42-year-old woman insurance collector was in critical condition today at City Hospital. She was found about 8:30 o'clock last night in the 3900 block of Marine avenue lying nude in the snow and bleeding profusely from numerous cuts about the head, neck and chest.

Five hours after she was found, police arrested Vernon Carter, 22-year-old Negro laborer, whom the woman named as her attacker. Police said Carter was identified by his victim at the hospital, but could not be questioned because he was in a drunken stupor.

Carter, who gave an address in the 4200 block of Maffitt avenue, was charged in warrants with rape and larceny of a motor vehicle.

Police said the woman told them she had called at a house on Maffitt avenue about 5:30 p. m. yesterday to collect an insurance premium from a Negro woman, but was met by her brother who said his sister was not home.

She said she accepted Carter's offer to drive her to where the sister could be found, but after getting in her automobile, he threatened her with a butcher knife and attacked her. Police said she could remember nothing further.

A motorist discovered the woman, her body covered with a trench coat and other clothing nearby, and notified police. Two diamond rings, a wrist watch and $40 to $50 in cash were missing, police said.

Shortly before midnight, police recovered the woman's car in an alley in the 1100 block of Leonard avenue. It was wrecked. Articles of apparel, a purse and insurance papers were strewn about inside.

Carter was arrested at Vandeventer and Finney avenues about 2 a. m. The place on Marine avenue where the victim was found is several miles from the Maffitt avenue address.

1238 Gal. of Gasoline Leaks Away.

The loss of 1238 gallons of gasoline which leaked out of a storage tank at the headquarters of the Voss Truck Lines, Inc., 821 South Tenth street, was reported to police yesterday by Thomas B. Smith, general agent for the company. Police found the fuel was draining into a sewer.

LICENSES FOR ARMY FLYERS WHOSE COURSES WERE ENDED

About 1130 recently inducted enlisted reservists at Jefferson Barracks who had been taking courses to become Army flight instructors under the Civil Aeronautics Administration and who were inducted into the Army when these courses were abruptly terminated Jan. 15, will be issued private and commercial licenses dependent on the amount of work completed prior to induction, it was announced yesterday.

Charles I. Stanton, administrator of CAA, issued the order making it possible for those who completed primary and secondary courses to get private licenses, and those who completed the cross-country and Link instrument, in addition to the primary and secondary courses to be issued commercial licenses. No examinations would be required to receive either licences, he said.

STEPHENS SAYS NEW DEAL SEEKS ONLY TO DESTROY

Republican Candidate for Senator Asserts Private Enterprise Is Endangered.

Howard V. Stephens, a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, delivered a campaign address today at a luncheon meeting for business men at Hotel Jefferson, asserting that he was entering the campaign as "a business man" and charging that the "goal of the New Deal is the destruction of free enterprise."

Stephens, who is president of the Johnson, Stephens & Shinkle Shoe Co., said he had visited 36 of the 42 Missouri counties which produced 82 per cent of the State's 1940 Republican vote and found a general sentiment for "more business thinking in our governmental affairs because whether they are business men or not they see the need of it in a time like this."

"New Deal's Negative Doctrine."

The youth of the nation, Stephens said, must be convinced that America offers opportunity for advancement and does not require "any more of the New Deal's negative doctrine that all the horizons have been crossed, all the white spaces on the map of progress filled in, and all that man needs or wants is the mere idea of uninspired security from the cradle to the grave."

Postwar problems, Stephens continued, will be largely business problems in which the Senate will play an important part. His experience, he added, included keeping a business solvent and growing after the last war and he expressed the conviction he could "apply to these problems a brand of thinking more usable than that offered by New Dealers, bureaucrats or self-styled economists."

"Labor, Business Hand in Hand."

"Labor can progress only as industry progresses," Stephens said, "for the two must go hand in hand. Intelligent leadership in labor already knows this. All labor is coming quickly to realize it.

"Whether it is business man, laborer or farmer, the New Deal goal is the same. Private enterprise must be destroyed. And with it, the profits from production, the wages from jobs, the returns from agriculture. Then the state can run the show, the professors can rule supreme and everyone will be subject to the bounty of the bureaucrats."

Stephens, a former member of the Board of Police Commissioners, urged "re-establishment of the constitutional system of checks and balances between executive, legislative and judicial departments" and the end "of the present alien system where the executive shall dominate the other two."

Mayor, Nolte Indorse Him.

Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann and Comptroller Louis Nolte, who were at the speakers' table, spoke briefly, indorsing Stephens. Nolte, who rarely speaks in public, said business men should be encouraged to take an active part in public affairs.

Others at the speakers' table included Walter W. Head, State chairman of the Fourth War Loan Drive; Roscoe Hobbs, chairman of the St. Louis Citizens' Committee for Stephens; Wilbur B. Jones, chairman of the finance committee; Warren T. Chandler, campaign chairman; Edward L. Kuhs, former Alderman; Carl Stifel, and David P. Wohl, who acted as chairman. About 100 invited guests were present.

149 CONGRESSMEN ACCEPT JACK & HEINTZ DINNER BIDS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Bill Jack said today he is mad at no one, wants only to win the war and hopes to convince Congressmen that Jack & Heintz, Inc., Cleveland, has the right plan for victory and postwar employment.

Jack and his quiet partner, Ralph Heintz, held a press conference at the Mayflower Hotel where they have invited Congressmen to dine tonight. Jack said he intended to "talk to the legislators as Americans," and added that he had received no invitation to a war exhibit—also tonight—under auspices of the War Production Board. "I hope," he said, "they have a nice meeting."

Revising earlier an estimate, Jack said 149 acceptances had been received to the dinner, which he had ordered for 250 persons at $3.50 a plate. Invitations were sent to every member of Congress.

paper, mouthpiece of Finance Minister Viano Tanner's strong Social Democrat party.

Evidence of the "wait and see" tendency in Helsinki was reported by an informant with contacts in the Finnish Foreign Office who has just returned from the Finnish capital. He said he also found hope "that American and British opinion still is on Finland's side and that sooner or later the Anglo-Americans would help."

He added that the Finns seemed willing to discuss all points of Russia's reported terms except that calling for internment of all German military personnel now in Finland and permission for Russian troops to enter the country.

"The Finns don't want the Russians in their country," he added, "because they don't trust them. Therefore, unless a way can be found out of that blind alley, it is clear to the Finns they must fight to the last man."

EX-HUSBAND NOT FATHER OF HER CHILD, SAYS ACTRESS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Joan Manners, British-born actress engaged in a court battle for the custody of her 11-year-old daughter, Joan, testified in U. S. District Court today that her divorced husband, John Langan, was not the father.

The girl, center of involved legal actions in California, Maryland and the District of Columbia, appeared in court with Langan, who produced her in response to a writ of habeas corpus.

Her whereabouts had been undisclosed since Langan, a former Hollywood movie director, took the child last Friday after a Maryland court had awarded custody to Miss Manners.

When Justice T. Alan Goldsborough of District Court asked Miss Manners the name of the man she contends is the real father, she declined to make a public answer but agreed to tell the court privately. Goldsborough adjourned the court to take this testimony.

DANCERS ARRESTED IN MILAN

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP). — The Geneva newspaper La Suisse said in an article reported to the Office of War Information today that the German-controlled police at Milan, had arrested 100 young people for dancing, and, before imprisoning them, had marched them across the city carrying a poster bearing these words:

"While the country bleeds, we dance."

ACCUSED OF RIPPING BUS SEAT

A warrant charging Miss Margaret Molitor, 17 years old, with malicious destruction of property in tearing a six-inch strip of leather from a Public Service Co. bus seat was issued today by Associate Prosecuting Attorney Jasper R. Vettori.

Miss Molitor, who lives at 4146 Taft avenue, was taken into custody last Friday by a detective who said he was sitting across the aisle from her when she tore the strip from the back of the seat. The detective quoted her as saying she could not give a reason for ripping the seat.

CHARTER SESSION RETAINS NATIONAL GUARD ELECTIONS

Committee Minority Report Adopted — Appointive System Had Been Sought.

By CURTIS A. BETTS
State Political Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 29.—The Constitutional Convention today definitely retained the elective system in the selection of National Guard officers in framing the militia article of the proposed new Constitution.

After similar action had been taken last night in approving a minority report from the Military Affairs Committee submitted by Delegate Frank A. Wesley of St. Louis, the issue was brought before the convention today by Delegate Stratford Lee Morton of St. Louis in a proposed amendment to the minority report.

This action was made possible by Wesley's failure after his victory last night to move that the minority report be substituted for the majority report. Morton's motion proposed the specific statement in the Constitution that militia officers be appointed through regular military channels. Throughout the history of the State they have been elected by the men in the service.

Minority Report Adopted.

The minority report was adopted last night by a vote of 36 to 29. Morton's amendment was defeated today by a vote of 45 to 25.

The military article of the proposed Constitution was the first of the articles put into final shape.

The military article, as voted by the convention, follows:

"The General Assembly shall provide for the organization, equipment, regulations and functions of an adequate militia for the State of Missouri, and shall conform the same as nearly as practicable to the regulations for the government of the armed forces of the United States."

Defeat of the majority report was due to a combination of several groups in the convention primarily interested in other things—the opponents of the nonpartisan court plan, the sincere advocates of a "brief" Constitution, several former legislators defending the "prerogatives" of the Legislature, and objectors to a requirement that militia officers be appointed through regular military channels instead of being elected by members of the militia.

Major Issue.

The major issue was the method of selecting militia officers. The majority report, submitted by Maj. Gen. Edward M. Stayton, retired, chairman of the committee, required that officers be appointed. Meeting this issue, the opponents of the nonpartisan court plan brought their entire forces against the majority report and in favor of the minority, making this the first step in their fight against appointment of appellate judges and circuit and probate judges in St. Louis and Kansas City.

The vote, 36 to 29, for adoption of the minority report cannot be taken as a test of the convention attitude on the court plan, even though that issue loomed large in the fight. In fact, it would appear that with their strength fully organized, the opponents of the court plan required support of other groups to muster even 36 votes.

While the majority report was much longer than the minority, the fundamental difference between them was that of the method of the selection of officers, the majority making them appointive in the Constitution and the minority giving to the Legislature the power to decide whether they should be appointed or elected.

MARCH COLLECTION OF TIN CANS WILL BE HELD TOMORROW AND THURSDAY

THE March collection of tin cans will be held here tomorrow and Thursday. City salvage trucks will cover the southern half of the city tomorrow, and the northern half on Thursday. The city is divided for this purpose by Market street and Laclede and Oakland avenues.

Householders are urged to remove paper wrappers, cut off tops and bottoms, and flatten the can. The cans, in a paper bag or other convenient container, should be placed at the curb or alley.

PVT. JANOUSEK NOT HELD ILLEGALLY, TRUMAN IS TOLD

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29. — Pvt. Joseph O. Janousek who, relatives charged, has been detained illegally at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., voluntarily enlisted in the Army Air Corps enlisted reserve Sept. 23, 1942, and has been subject to appropriate military orders since that time, it was asserted today in a letter to Senator Harry S. Truman of Missouri.

In reply to an inquiry by Truman, who said relatives of Janousek made the charge to him, Maj. Gen. C. H. Danielson says Janousek was called to active duty and returned to inactive status twice before being again called to active duty last December and being sent to the Barracks.

Last Jan. 21, Gen. Danielson stated, the entire case was returned to his headquarters with instructions that another complete physical examinaion be given Janousek, "including a study and recommendation by the neuropsychiatrist at Jefferson Barracks. The report of this examination has been received and is being forwarded to the Adjutant General as directed by the War Department."

ARMY TOLD TO END CONTROL OF LOS ANGELES UTILITIES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP).—United States Army engineer officers announced today that Secretary of War Stimson had ordered the termination of Army operation of the Los Angeles municipal department of water and power. The Army took control last Wednesday under a Presidential order after a 10-day strike of members of the A. F. L. Electrical Workers' Union had interrupted service to war feeder plants.

An Army announcement said in a telephone conversation with Washington today: "We reported that a suitable adjustment of the controversy between management and labor had been reached."

There was no immediate amplification and George Simmonds, an official of the Electrical Workers' Union, said it had not been advised of a settlement of demands for an 8 per cent wage increase or a flat $15 monthly increase for all workers receiving less than $350 monthly.

NAZI SAID TO HAVE RAZED 19 TOWNS IN CENTRAL ITALY

ON THE SWISS-ITALIAN FRONTIER, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Germans have razed 19 towns in the rich Abruzzi e Molise district of Central Italy as a part of a vast program of destruction of Italian property for military reasons, the underground Socialist newspaper Avanti says.

Once-fertile areas have been reduced to deserts, according to the newspaper. Inhabitants of towns doomed to destruction were given only an hour or two to vacate. Their livestock has been requisitioned.

The city of Chieti which formerly had 32,000 inhabitants now has 120,000 jammed together without adequate food and medicine, Avanti declares, adding that the Nazis already have begun flooding the northern Adriatic coastline by smashing canals and dikes to permit the sea to run over reclaimed lands.

Marine Who Fought on Guadalcanal Tips Off Police.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29 (AP).—A wounded Guadalcanal Marine hero's tip to police put a 31-year-old civilian in prison today on charges of illegally purchasing and possessing 16 sheets of counterfeit gasoline ration stamps, good for 7280 gallons.

The civilian, Anthony G. Thomas, Harrisburg (Pa.) produce merchant, was sentenced to six months yesterday by United States District Judge George A. Welsh. He was arrested on information provided by Cpl. Edgar W. Lochrie, Johnstown, Pa., who said Thomas offered to help him make money by dealing in coupons.

Last Jan. 20, on a train taking him home on furlough from Bethesda (Md.) naval hospital, Lochrie remarked to a fellow passenger, a stranger, that he feared he would be given a medical discharge. The offer followed and Lochrie pretended to be interested, but secretly wired ahead to police.

Thomas was arrested when the train reached Harrisburg. He pleaded guilty on two counts and was convicted on two others.

BOSTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—A wounded veteran of the Fifth Army told state employes attending a Red Cross rally yesterday that German soldiers have been furnished photographic "evidence" that New York City has been bombed.

"One of the prisoners captured in our sector in Italy had a picture showing New York bombed," said Pvt. Edward McNamara of Cambridge, a litter-bearer in Italy.

The Germans still think they will win, he added.

Extra Gasoline for Dry Candidate.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP).—An application for 10,000 miles worth of extra gasoline for campaign purposes was allowed yesterday to Claude A. Watson, Prohibition party presidential candidate, after the OPA reversed a previous rejection.

WE HEAR a great deal these days about postwar planning. Some of it seems sound and practical, and some of it is "crystal gazing."

While literally hundreds of public and private agencies are thinking of postwar planning, there are a few things that realistic individuals are sure of. They know that first and foremost the war has to be won and nothing should interfere with all-out efforts toward this end.

They know that economic tides ebb and flow; that the future, like the past, will experience good times and bad; that when bad times come, many people will face economic hardships.

They know that they, like everyone else, are growing older; that the life of any individual is uncertain; and that in accordance with the immutable laws of nature, heads of families will continue to pass on.

Knowing these things, some 30 million people insured by Metropolitan are providing definite measures of protection against these uncertainties of life through some 29 billion dollars of life insurance.

In addition to providing an anchor to windward for the individuals involved and for their families, the thrift of these policyholders is bound to be of a stabilizing character during the postwar period.

Germans let loose. Mrs. Hemingway hit a nice deep ditch at the same second that we did. There our tour stopped. After a pause of 15 minutes to let the Germans get over their shooting spree, we went into reverse. One lady correspondent and one male rounded the crossroads at a run and did not stop running until it was far behind.

We enjoyed the next few minutes watching various jeeps and quarter-ton trucks running the gantlet. Every time our car came to a turn a few shells would drop neatly beside it. For some fantastic reason nobody seemed to get hit.

Down the road we found our driver, Nobby Clark, eating lunch and making himself at home with five permanent inhabitants of a shattered farmhouse. While we were drinking tea and brandy and catching our breath, we heard a cry from the distance and saw a figure staggering across the nearby field. Two soldiers were out like a flash and came in a few minutes later with an Indian military policeman. He cut off his pants leg and applied enough sulfanilamide powedr and emergency bandages to supply a regiment. All he had wrong with him was about a dozen shell fragments in the leg.

Mrs. Hemingway, a veteran of several previous wars, was not abashed. She was just wondering out loud why we did not go into Cassino. Let her go on wondering.

expect to have somewhat more in March than during February," Bowles said. "Beef is, of course, much less plentiful than pork, but the small anticipated increase enables us to reduce point values on some cuts."

Over-All Value 4.2 Points.

The over-all average ration value of meat in March will be 4.2 points a pound as compared with an average of about five points in February.

The revision of meat values takes into account, the agency explained, that from now on each individual will have 60 red points to spend each month on rationed meats and fats, or four points less than in the past.

The OPA estimated that notwithstanding this reduction in the number of points the meat ration in March will be about 8 per cent greater than in February.

The retail supply of pork during March is expected to be about 650 million pounds, OPA said, or more than half the month's total of rationed meats. There will be about 5 per cent more beef than the 430,000,000 pounds available this month, it was estimated.

In maintaining present values on butter, lard and dairy products, OPA said that consumer demand had just about equaled the civilian allocation of these products during February, "thus making it unnecessary to revise point values for March."

"The March butter allocation is not great enough to allow a point value reduction," the agency said.

Rise On Glass-Packed Apples.

Retail consumers will pay approximately two cents more for each glass container of apple products than for those packed in tins of the same size when a maximum price increase granted processors becomes effective Saturday.

Announcing this yesterday, the OPA added that an increase of 20 cents a dozen for glass containers is allowed under the price revision which parallels that recently made for glass-packed processed fruits and vegetables. The increase is permitted only for processors who did not pack in glass during the base period of the first 60 days after the beginning of the 1941 pack.

The War Food Administration announced it had notified canners to increase from 32 to 38 per cent the share of canned grapefruit juice set aside for Government and war purposes. The action is expected to increase the Government grapefruit juice reserves from the 1943-44 pack from 7,400,000 to 9,500,000 cases.

PLANT ENDS TRAINING PLANE OUTPUT; OTHER JOBS FOR 300

Production of training planes at the St. Louis Aircraft Corporation, 8000 North Broadway, ended last week and 300 production workers have been released, Col. Frank W. Cawthon, supervisor of the Midwestern Procurement District Materiel Command said today.

This action followed an Army order of Jan. 20, which provided for the completion of a specified number of planes before production was terminated, he said.

The discharged workers will be absorbed by the St. Louis Car Co., the parent concern, and other aircraft plants in this area, he added.

WAC IN INSUBORDINATION CASE EXONERATED, ATTORNEY SAYS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP). —The attorney who defended Lt. Virginia Wight, 24-year-old Wac from Philadelphia, when insubordination charges against her were reviewed by a special Army reclassification board in January, announced today she had been exonerated "and completely vindicated."

James J. Laughlin issued a statement on the case—which Army officials have declined to discuss—asserting that the insubordination charges were based an allegations that she owed an orderly $1.50 for maid service, had declined to give her superior officer a statement of her financial affairs when asked to do so, and on separate occasions had shared a pint of ice cream and a watermelon with members of the enlisted personnel.

Lt. Wight, who has been on duty at Fort Myer, Va., has been transferred at her own suggestion to Fort Winfield Scott, Cal., Laughlin said. Capt. Evelyn Rothrock, Wac detachment commander at Fort Myer, who brought the insubordination charges, previously had been transferred to other duties in the Washington military district.

U. S. SUBMARINES SINK 14 MORE JAPANESE SHIPS

Total of 189 Enemy Vessels Sunk, Probably Sunk, Damaged in February.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Destruction of 14 Japanese vessels by American submarines was announced today by Secretary of the Navy Knox.

The sinkings, Knox said, included 11 medium cargo vessels, a small cargo vessel, a cargo transport and a large tanker. They brought to 461 the number of Japanese ships of all types sunk by American submarines. In addition, 36 are listed as probably sunk and 114 damaged.

Knox also reported that for the month of February, not including today, Japanese shipping losses caused by all types of American action totaled 128 vessels sunk, 18 of them warships; eight probably sunk, including one warship, and 53 damaged, of which three were warships.

"American submarines are doing an increasingly skillful job," he said.

Knox added that our submarine activities have been growing more successful regularly and that Japanese ship losses from other causes also have been mounting.

"Well over three million tons of Japanese merchant shipping," he said, "have been sunk by all causes."

It has been estimated that the Japanese started the war with 7,500,000 tons of merchant shipping.

He said American submarine losses for the whole period of the war have been surprisingly small.

Asked about Axis radio reports that an American attack is continuing on Guam, Knox described them as "just a misstatement for propaganda purposes."

U. S. AND CANADA TO DIVIDE JAPAN'S SHARE OF SEAL CATCH

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Legislation giving effect to a provisional fur seal agreement of 1942 between the United States and Canada has been approved by President Roosevelt.

The measure is designed to protect the fur seals of the Pribilof Islands which have been unprotected on the high seas since Japan's abrogation, in October, 1941, of the convention of 1911 to which the United States, Great Britain, Russia and Japan were parties.

The provisional agreement, implemented by the bill approved yesterday, was entered into by the United States and Canada as a temporary arrangement to protect the interests of the United States and Canada in the fur seal resources of the North Pacific and in the herds of the Pribilof Islands.

Under the agreement, Canada's share of skins taken annually on the Pribilof Islands was increased from 15 to 20 per cent, Canada to receive one-third and the United States two-thirds of the 15 per cent formerly allotted to Japan. The United States gets 80 per cent of all skins.

JAPS REALIZE RAID MENACE TO HOME ISLANDS, NAZIS SAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—American advances in the Pacific have jolted the Japanese people into an awareness that their home islands may become before long a target for air assaults, a German Transocean News Agency broadcast said today.

It said "Japan must be prepared at any time to sight enemy bombers," but added that "it is doubtful whether the Americans in the near future will undertake on the Japanese motherland air raids which could only be nuisance sweeps."

The German broadcast said the American carrier air attack on the Marianas, less than 1400 miles from Tokyo, opened Japanese eyes to "what space devouring force there is in modern warfare," adding "it seems that the Japanese are not willing to use their fleet in waters where the Americans might have air supremacy."

REPORT ON U. S. AID TO REDS PRINTED IN DETAIL IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Soviet press and radio gave the Russian people details today of United States Foreign Economic Administrator Leo T. Crowley's report disclosing that the United States has shipped more than four billion dollars worth of lease-lend aid to the Soviet Union since October, 1941.

It was the best picture the Russian public has received of the vast extent and nature of the help which this nation is receiving from its American ally.

Some of the figures were astounding to many Russians, who obviously were heartened by the disclosures.

Oft-Rejected Chemist Accepted After Letter to Hershey.

Rubin Shenberg, who has been increasingly unhappy for more than two years because his height of four feet 11 and three-quarters inches kept him out of military service, was happy today as he awaited a call for induction into the Navy.

Making up in determination for what he lacked in height, Shenberg kept after Selective Service officials, and finally met with success. Perhaps the exercise involved in repeated trips to recruiting offices and to his draft board enabled him to grow a little.

At any rate, when he stepped up to be measured at Jefferson Barracks last Sunday, the examiner called out, "Five feet," which is the minimum induction specification, and Shenberg hurriedly walked away, afraid the examiner might find he had made a mistake.

Shenberg, 31 years old, 2801A Goodfellow boulevard, has been trying to get in uniform since 1941, but his height—or lack of it—invariably marked him as 4-F. When a married cousin with children had to break up his home last October in order to answer an induction call, Shenberg, who is unmarried, became aroused. When he read a newspaper article about a tough American Ranger who was less than five feet tall, he sat down and wrote an earnest letter to Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, National Selective Service director. Gen. Hershey asked State and local draft officials to see what they could do, and Shenberg finally was granted a preinduction examination.

A graduate of St. Louis University, Shenberg holds a B. S. degree in chemistry, but has a pharmacist's license obtained through studying on his own. He hopes to serve as a pharmacist in the Navy.

RADIUM FOUND IN BOMB RUINS

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Demolition workers directed by scientists recovered from the bomb-demolished Marie Curie Radium Therapy Hospital yesterday a steel container holding 365 milligrams of radium valued at over $9400.

NOT BACKING ANYONE, HANNEGAN ASSERTS

Democratic Chairman Home 7on Visit Says Task Is to 'Serve the Party.'

Robert Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic Committee, in St. Louis to visit his family, told a Post-Dispatch reporter today he personally would like to see President Roosevelt renominated for a fourth term but as chairman of the committee realized that his task was "to serve the party and not go out beating the drums for anyone."

Selection of July 19 as the date for opening of the Democratic National Convention at Chicago was without political significance, Hannegan said, but was chosen so as not to conflict with primaries in several states. Asked what part he anticipated would be played in the convention by former Postmaster-General James A. Farley, he replied that Farley was "a good and wise Democrat and would be in there supporting the Democratic party in one way or another."

Hannegan, who arrived yesterday from a speaking engagement at Dallas, Tex., said he was unaware that United States Senator Bennett Champ Clark also was in the city. Hannegan said his visit was primarily to file his income tax return and attend to some personal affairs. Senator Clark, who came here from Chicago where he had visited his son, Champ, a marine recruit, said he expected to be in the State about a week "for a rest," visiting his old home at Bowling Green and other places.

FALLS, BURNS TO BE TOPIC AT HOME SAFETY INSTITUTE

Falls and burns, which take the greatest number of lives in home accidents, will receive emphasis at a Home Safety Institute beginning tomorrow at 1?30 p. m. in the Music Hall at Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney, Inc., it was announced by F. Edward O'Neil, president of the Safety Council of Greater St. Louis.

Five meetings will be held on succeeding Wednesday throughout March under sponsorship of the Home Safety Division of the Safety Council in an effort to bring the field of home accidents in line with a decreasing trend in the industrial field. No admission will be charged and all sessions are open to any woman in the Greater St. Louis area.

LIQUOR, CASH BURGLARS' LOOT

Burglars, who gained entrance to Washington's Tavern, 1112 Big Bend boulevard, Richmond Heights, by forcing a side window late Sunday night or early yesterday, stole 102 gallons of liquor in pint, fifth and quart bottles, Lavern Washington, owner, reported to Richmond Heights police yesterday.

Washington told police that the loss included 73 gallons of bourbon whisky, valued at $805, and 29 gallons of Scotch whisky, rum and gin. He said the burglars also stole $12 from the cash drawer.

PROTEST ON SMITH MEETING

The State Executive Committee of the Communist party will meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night at 1041 North Grand boulevard, to discuss methods of protesting against the city's action in granting permission to Gerald L. K. Smith, organizer of the America First party, to hold a meeting March 25 in Kiel Auditorium.

Helen Musil, administrative secretary, said invitations have been sent by the Communist party to representatives of labor unions, veterans' organizations, civic, Negro and Jewish groups.

KIEV MURDERS LAID TO VON MANNSTEIN

Reds Say He Will Be Held to Account for Massacre, Wrecking of City

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Field Marshal Fritz von Mannstein, German army commander on the Russian Ukraine front, must answer for the distruction of Kiev and the deaths of more than 195,000 Soviet citizens in the Nazi occupation of that ancient city, says the Moscow radio.

A Soviet investigating commission has found that the citizens were "tortured to death, shot or poisoned in murder vans" by the Germans during the occupation of Kiev, said a Russian broadcast. The entire center section of the city was demolished and 1742 communal dwellings and 3600 private homes were destroyed, the commission was quoted as reporting.

In addition, according to the broadcast, hundreds of thousands of Soviet citizens were sent to Germany along with factory equipment, while 200,000 persons were made homeless and nearly 1000 state institutions destroyed.

Per Capita Income Up to $1050.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—One of every three American families now has an income of more than $3000 a year, compared with only one in 10 families between 1935 and 1940. A Commerce Department publication disclosed today that last year's estimated per capital income of $1050 for every man, woman and child in the country was more than double the 1935-39 average of $520.

M'CALL SAYS HE SOLD GAMBLING MACHINES

Asserts Slot Devices Went to Chicago Firm for Use in Amusement Park.

Andrew McCall, whose gambling machine operations brought a series of police and grand jury investigations resulting in his indictment and creation of a new police gambling division, yesterday announced he had sold his machines to the Monarch Coin Machine Co. of Chicago.

This announcement came after disclosure that in the last 10 days the machines had been removed from the East St. Louis warehouse to which they were taken last Nov. 16 to prevent seizure by St. Louis police.

McCall, president of the McCall Novelty Co., 3147 Locust boulevard, asserted none of the machines had been returned to St. Louis. He said there were only 89 gambling machines and the entire lot had been sold to the Chicago concern for use at an amusement park.

The gambling machines were among 250 machines, some of which were pinball devices, stored by the Gerold Moving and Warehouse Co., 309 North Ninth street, East St. Louis, after trucks rushed them away from St. Louis.

McCall, principal distributer of slot machines in this area, and his partner, Oscar G. Heintzmann, were named in 12 indictments charging feloniously setting up and keeping a gaming device.

SLIP OF THE TONGUE HELPED RECAPTURE NAZI CAPTAIN HERE

War Prisoner's 'Danke Schoen' and Clothing Betray Him to Railroad Man.

A lost pocketbook, a flashlight, a slip of the tongue and an observant train inspector combined yesterday to cause the arrest at Union Station of Capt. Till Edward Kiefer, member of the Hermann Goering Armored Division, who had escaped last Saturday from the German war prisoners' camp at Trinidad, Colo.

Officers of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad told a Post-Dispatch reporter that the prisoner arrived in St. Louis aboard the Night Hawk at 8 a. m. yesterday, and after leaving the train, discovered he had lost his purse. He enlisted the aid of Clyde W. Eversmeyer, 2562 Monroe avenue, East St. Louis, a Burlington car inspector, who went into the darkened coach and helped the German search for the purse.

While Eversmeyer was on his hands and knees on the floor, the beams of his flashlight fell on Kiefer's shoes and trousers. They aroused the trainman's suspicions because they were unlike any type of American clothing, he said.

When Eversmeyer found the purse and returned it, the escaped prisoner said "Danke schoen," which is German for "thank you." Convinced that the man was an escaped prisoner, Eversmeyer called a military policeman, and Kiefer was taken in custody.

MILLIONS HERE EXPECTED ATTACK

It happens every year. There is always a time when it seems like everybody has a cold attack. At this time be prepared and remember Penetro, a salve with modern medication in a base containing same kind of old fashioned mutton suet grandma used. Works 2 ways (1) Warming vapors comfort cold-congested nose and throat; (2) Stimulates circulation right at spot where rubbed on. 25c. Double supply for 35c. Always demand Penetro.

Files for County Coroner.

John Wesley Ward Jr., who is serving his third term as a Justice of the Peace in Clayton Township, yesterday filed for the Republican nomination for Coroner of St. Louis County at the Board of Election Commissioners at Clayton. Ward, who is 41 years old, and lives at 6423 Alamo avenue, Clayton, was the first candidate to file.

Three St. Louis Boxers Triumph, One Loses in Golden Gloves Tourney

Riess and Schipani Knock Out Opponents

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP). — The heavier fighters go to work in Chicago Stadium's two rings tonight with quite a fast pace to maintain.

Amateur boxing's biggest show, the Golden Gloves tournament of champions, opened last night before a crowd of 8800 with the lighter lads scoring 10 knockouts and 12 technical knockouts in 75 bouts.

Eight fighters in each of the 112, 118, 126 and 135 pound classes punched into the quarterfinals to be held tomorrow night. The welterweights, middleweights, lightheavies and heavies will have their face-lifting party tonight, completing the quarterfinal field of 64.

St. Louis representatives who swing into action tonight are Charley O'Kelly, 147 pounds; Curtis Filer, 160; John Mack Selph, 175, and Pvt. Bill Jackson, heavyweight.

Eight Soldiers Advance.

Eight of 13 soldiers who bounced beaks last night came through unbeaten, but four Army men were knocked out before the tournament started. They and Ralph Balcom, civilian bantamweight from Muskegon, Mich., were unmasked as professionals. The soldiers who once pitched leather for cash were Pvt. Johnny Crane, 160, Las Vegas (Nev.) Army Air Field; Sgt. Frank Bynum, 135; Pvt. William Beasley, 160, and Pvt. Louis Lebron, 175, all of Camp Atterbury, Ind.

The professionalism of Crane and Balcom, representing the Los Angeles and Grand Rapids, Mich., teams, respectively, was discovered after their arrival in Chicago. The other three, all members of the Indianapolis team, were weeded out with the help of an A. A. U. official before coming to the city.

Fort Worth, Tex., and St. Louis each qualified three boxers for the quarterfinals to lead in representation among 25 centers sending contestants.

Kayos for St. Louisans.

The St. Louisans who advanced to the quarterfinals were: Ralph Riess, 112 pounds; Cpl. Velmond White, 126, and Cpl. Sam Schipani, 135. Phil Alberti, fighting in the 118-pound class, was eliminated by James Eldogram of Nashville, Tenn.

Riess, in advancing scored a one-round kayo in his match against Harry Fuller, while Corp. Schipani stopped Harold Tannen, Columbus, O., Negro, in the first round. White had to fight twice to enter the quarterfinals. In his first bout, he outpointed Paul Robinson of Columbus, O., and then came back to gain a victory over Marion Rhotan, Milwaukee Negro.

It took a couple of boys from the iron and steel city of Gary, Ind.,—cradle of many ring champs —to make the most sensational advancement through last night's first and second rounds. Tom Nate, 112, sailed through two opponents with a knockout then a TKO. Art Andrew, 135, flattened both his foes for the count.

Second Punch Ends Bout.

The quickest work, however, was accomplished by 126-pound Perk Glenn of Muncie, Ind., whose second punch, a roundhouse left, gave him a knockout victory in 31 seconds. Alvin Jordan of Milwaukee, highly favored 135-pounder, draped his opponent in 44 seconds.

Possibly the strongest division is the featherweight class. Three fighters in it are outstanding—Del Cockayne of Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Sgt. Manny Ortega of Fort Worth, and "Major" Jones of Kansas City, Mo. All advanced through the second round into the quarterfinals with technical knockouts.

82 Sunday Twin Bills for Clubs in American League

By Herman Wecke

Schedule makers of the American League, in arranging the 1944 dates for the clubs, did not overlook any bets, a look at the official schedule, released today, indicates.

Take the Sunday doubleheaders for instance. It was not so many years ago when the Cardinals' policy of scheduling synthetic twin bills on Sunday was frowned upon. But look at 'em now. There are 82 Sunday doubleheaders out of a possible 96.

The Browns will be at home 12 Sundays and on 10 of these two-for-one shows are scheduled. The high mark, however, comes at Philadelphia, where it's 12 out of 12. At Boston and Washington there'll be doubleheaders on 11 of 12 Sundays. Detroit and Cleveland, like the Browns, show 10 of 12, while New York and Chicago get nine of 12.

St. Louis Opening April 21.

And the night games! There are a total of 106 in five cities, with the Senators playing 43 of their 77 home games under the lights. The Browns get 21, while Chicago, Cleveland and Philadelphia each get 14. In addition, Detroit has scheduled seven twilight battles.

As regards the Browns, they'll make their first appearance at Sportsman's Park April 21, after playing a series in Detroit, April 18, 19 and 20, while they close at home with the World Champion Yankees, Oct. 1.

In addition to the Browns at Detroit's opener, the Indians will be at Chicago; Athletics at Washington and Yankees at Boston. And on the second day of the season, April 19, the Yankees and Red Sox will mix in a Patriot's Day doubleheader.

Some of the highlights in the schedule as far as the Browns are concerned:

They'll play regularly scheduled doubleheaders on 10 of 12 Sundays at home.

Two of the night games, July 22, with the Red Sox and Aug 5 with Cleveland, are on Saturday night.

Counting the 22 Sunday games; 21 at night, four on holidays and eight on Saturday afternoon, it will leave only 22 daytime week day contests for the club.

In one series of four games with the Yankees, there will be three consecutive night games, July 18, 19 and 20.

Two Saturdays are open: June 10 when the Indians are here and Sept. 2 when Detroit is here.

Play 34 Night Games.

All told the Browns will play 34 night games, 13 on the road, in addition to the 21 here. Of the club's 11 games in Washington, seven will be at night and the others in two Sunday doubleheaders.

Night baseball in Washington will begin May 10 and after that the only time fans of the national capital will see the Senators in action during the daytime will be on Sundays and holidays.

Huskeys Beat Mallinckrodt.

The Huskeys of the South Side Y. M. C. A. League defeated Mallinckrodt Chemical, 32-14, last night at South Side Y. Tom Ryan of South Side led the scoring with nine points.

Ozark Handball Meet, March 6

The 1944 Ozark A. A. U. handball championships will be held at the Y. M.-Y. W. H. A., 724 N. Union March 6 through March 18. The singles final will be played March 12, and the doubles title match March 18.

Entry blanks have been distributed to various organizations and establishments throughout the city. Anyone desiring information concerning the tournament, may call or write Rudy Brand in care of the Y. M. H. A.

The 1943 singles champion was Jack Srenco, while the doubles championship was won by the team of Herbert Buschart and Milton Ertell.

Boy's Club Defeats State Guard, 57-55

The Boy's Club defeated the Missouri State Guard, 57-55, in a basketball game at the Armory last night. The Boys' Club has scored more than 300 points in five games.

Bivins 1 to 3 to Defeat Murray in Fight Tonight

CLEVELAND, Feb. 29 (AP).—Jimmy Bivins makes his farewell appearance as a civilian leather pusher in a return 10-rounder with Lee Q. Murray at the Arena tonight, and the boss man of the active heavyweights intends to give a sellout assemblage of 14,000 something to remember him by.

The Cleveland Negro's main concern is to regain the prestige he lost in his first encounter with the former protege of radio's Lemuel Q. Stoopnagle. Bivins won the decision but Murray received the applause of a capacity throng for subjecting Jimmy to the roughest treatment of his 14-bout winning streak.

The gangling Easterner came close to a technical knockout triumph when a right uppercut opened a deep gash above Bivins' left eye in the sixth round. The flow of blood from the wound virtually blinded the Clevelander in the ensuing rounds but Murray had broken his right hand and was unable to apply the finishing touches.

Despite his performance in their first meeting and the fact he'll enter the ring tonight with a weight advantage of from 10 to 12 pounds, Murray is a 3-to-1 underdog with the betting gentry.

Byrd's 285 Gives Him Top Money

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 29 (AP).—Navy-bound Sammy Byrd, former New York Yankee outfielder, tucked $1000 in war bonds away today and left with other touring golf professionals for Gulfport, Miss., and the $6000 Gulfport tournament.

The tousle-haired Sammy came from behind in the third round to win the $5000 New Orleans open tournament yesterday. The Birmingham (Ala.) former baseball player shot steady and consistently throughout the last two rounds to score 285 for the 72 holes, five below Byron Nelson, Toledo (O.) professional.

"I have been accepted for military service and have chosen the Navy," said the 36-year-old Byrd. "I expect to be called up in three or four weeks, so I'm playing on borrowed time. However, I'm going to play as long as I can before going out after bigger game."

The high wind which swept the lengthy City Park No. 1 course during the tournament did not seem to bother Byrd as much as it did the other pros. His 285 was three under par for the four rounds.

Nelson's 290, two over par for the tourney, earned him $750 in war bonds. Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the early pace-setter, couldn't find the range in the third and final rounds and finished third with 291 and $550 in bonds.

Three strokes behind McSpaden was Pvt. Melvin (Chick) Harbert of Lincoln, Neb., who was awarded $450 in war bonds. Amateur Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans was fifth with 297 and $100 in bonds.

Professionals Bob Hamilton, Evansville, Ind.; Craig Wood, Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Ed Dudley, Colorado Springs, also scored 297s and received $308.33 each.

McIntire Here, Works at Once

Bobby McIntire, who will oppose Joey Pirrone in the feature of Friday night's boxing card at The Arena, arrived here today and immediately went through a long drill at the South Broadway Athletic Club.

After boxing four rounds with Murl Thompson, McIntire punched the bag and did other work equivalent to four more rounds. He's an unusually hard worker, and Jackie Callahan, Arena matchmaker, finally quipped: "I wish that guy would stop doing so much. He makes me tired just to watch him."

Twenty-eight years old, McIntire has boxed for the past seven years and has been especially active in recent months. While he doesn't by any means claim to be a world beater, the modest Detroit lightweight said: "I do my share of fighting, but it takes two to make a fight. I'll give Pirrone the best I've got."

He has never seen Pirrone perform in the ring.

WRAY'S COLUMN

Fond Recollections Present Them to View

I SEE by a conservation commission's bulletin that the fishing season will be with us again, tomorrow . . . In this case it means that if you are so minded, you may go down to Bennett Springs State Park, Montauk Park or Roaring River and grab yourself a rainbow trout or two.

In the State of Missouri that's what trout means, for the most part—a rainbow . . . And a lot of persons from Colorado and mountain-stream countries will lift their noses in scorn and say: "My goodness, do they fail for scavengers out in the "Show-Me State?"

After which, we of Missouri will hand them the supercilious smile right back, knowing that whether the rainbow trout fattens his ribs on dough bait, succulent crawfish, flies of various kinds or just plain common fish worms, there isn't much meat on any kind of trout, mountain, brown or speckled, that can beat a yearling rainbow.

MAN, how that registers, when sizzling in a pan with a strip or so of bacon . . . And don't tell me it tastes any better because you caught it a little more scientifically with that $200 diamond-pointed reel you never quit making a nuisance of yourself talking about.

The reason our rainbow trout satisfies about every gustatory craving is because he eats what he wants when he wants it . . . And that's just what you do when you eat him. You now get what I meant when, at the beginning of this wandering script, I mentioned "fond recollections" which, begging the song-writer's pardon, are not confined to the old oaken bucket.

You Can Be Scientific—But Not Always Happy.

ALL my life, which hasn't been short, I've wondered what the dickens was the goal of fishermen. . . . When you start wondering about such things, your takeoff is, of course, Ike Walton and his Compleat Angler. . . . But I've read Ike and given him the pitch. . . . I don't like his approach. . . . For the love of Pete, when a man wants to enjoy himself, does he have to go scientific?

I began my fishing years 'way back there in 1888. . . . You can guess what kind of moss is draped around me today. . . . My father took me to Alexandria, Minn., in Douglas County. . . . There were more than 200 lakes in that area.

Now, I'm not just doing a lot of tall talking when I tell you that black bass weighing a pound or more were considered too small to bring home. . . . You hired a guide, a wagon that would carry a boat, and you just said to the guide: "Feller, we'll be satisfied with about 60 pounds of bass apiece. . . . You decide where we are to go."

Well, that guide was impartial. . . . They all were. . . . He'd say, likely enough: "I don't want to play any favorites. . . . Over there to the east is Center Lake. . . . Over there to the south is Lake L'Hommedieu. . . . And down below there is Lake Geneva. . . . Not that I keer a durn about Genevy—too many fancy folks hround there.

"But here's the idee. . . . I spit in my hand, like this"—he was chewing Horse Shoe—"then I smack my finger in the middle of it. . . . If she splashes this way, we go to Center Lake. . . . If she feeds thataway, we go to Lake L'Hommedieu, or maybe Genevy? . . . What say?"

I remember my dad says to him: "Mister, all we want is to go some place where they's fish."

"Boss, no matter which way you go, there's fish in Minnesota."

And, I claim, folks, that them there is fond recollections.

AND, just to make the dang story interesting to hunters, the very first day we went out of Alexandria with a fishing boat tied on the top of the surrey and 200 little green frogs in the minnow box to excite the bass we expected to meet up with, what do you suppose was the first thing that happened to us when we got out of the wagon and picked up our fishing things?

Why, all we did was kick up a covey of prairie chickens right under our feet—and not a dinged shotgun in the neighborhood. . . . And, men I'm not inventing any part of this story. . . . It happened. And it could, in Minnesota, back in 1888.

Meramecs Again Win Muny Title

By Harold Flachsbart

They had a bad scare in the final seconds of their game with the Atlas Powder Co. quintet last night, but the Meramec Caverns weathered the storm and today they are Municipal basketball champions of St. Louis for the second consecutive season.

Harley James' men gained their second straight victory in the final Muny playoff series by a narrow 40-39 margin at Sherman Park gymnasium, then received the bad news that two of their star players, Clarence Hatfield and Don Martin, will be ineligible for the coming Ozark and National A. A. U. tournaments.

Both men are high school coaches, and, according to A. A. U. rules, cannot be used in competition sanctioned by that organization. The Caverns will, however, definitely compete in the Ozark next Friday, Saturday and Sunday and later in the national meet at Denver, James said.

Last night's game wasn't close until the finish.

The Meramecs, with Hatfield leading the way, coasted to a lead in the first half, which ended 18-13, and toward the close of hositities they led by 40-27, but the determined Atlas Club kept caging one basket after another, and while the Caverns were impotent toward the finish, Atlas made the score closer and closer, but neved did catch up.

Hatfield, with 16 points, was one of the big reasons for the Meramecs' success, but the entire Atlas team played an inspired game and deserves credit for its good showing, especially after suffering a 53-33 defeat in the first game of the series last Monday night.

It was the Meramecs' twenty-ninth victory in 33 games this season.

Jay Bees Play Wings.

The Jefferson Barracks Jay Bees, who were defeated for the first time Sunday afternoon, by the Phillips 66 Oilers, will oppose the Navy Wings at Lambert Field tonight in the final basketball game of the season for the Sailor team. The Jay Bees will be trying for their sixth Military League triumph and the second of the second-half season's competition.

Alton's Onized Club of the Owens-Illinois Glass Co. will be the opponent of the Phillips Club tonight in a game at the Alton High gymnasium, starting at 7:30 p. m. The Bartlesville (Ok). A. A. U. team will be seeking its twenty-fourth victory in 27 starts.

Chet Laabs Accepted for Service; Luke Sewell Here

Another Brownie regular of last season is bound for the armed forces; a rookie catcher was rejected, and Manager Luke Sewell is here preparatory to taking the 1944 hopefuls to the spring training camp at Cape Girardeau, Mo. Those were the developments at the St. Louis American League club's office yesterday.

Chet Laabs, outfielder, passed his physical examination in Detroit yesterday and expects to be inducted into the service in the next three or four weeks. Myron Hayworth, a catcher from Toledo, was rejected at Fort Bragg, N. C. When Laabs enters the service, the Browns' service flag will contain 22 stars.

Manager Sewell refused to make any predictions regarding the 1944 pennant race. "About the only thing I can say," declared Sewell, "is that no manager knows at this date just how his team will line up on opening day."

COLUMBUS, Ga., Feb. 29 (AP).—Elmer Riddle, 21-game winner last season for the Cincinnati Reds, said today he expected early reclassification to 1A, and expressed doubt he would play major league baseball in 1944.

"Looks like it'll be tough this season on the Reds," he said, "but then I guess it works that way with all of them. We already have lost Johnny Vander Meer, and Bucky Walters wrote me the other day he and Joe Beggs both were in 1-A."

Hughson Joins Navy.

BOSTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—General Manager Eddie Collins of the Boston Red Sox was informed by Cecil (Tex) Hughson, his ace pitcher, in a long-distance telephone call yesterday that he had joined the United States Navy.

From his home in Kyle, Tex., Hughson told Collins he already had passed his pre-induction physical examination and was due to report for active service in either the March or April calls.

The Red Sox management announced that the signed contract of Joe Wood Jr., son of the famed Red Sox hurler of three decades ago, had been received. Young Wood, also a pitcher, pitched weekends for Scranton last season and worked in a war plant.

Phelps Won't Report.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 29 (AP).—Babe (The Blimp) Phelps, veteran major league catcher, let it be known today that he never was crazy about baseball—and that he's washed his hands of the game.

"Have decided to stay at work; will not change my mind," the Odenton (Md.) railroad freight handler wired the Phillies, who acquired him last season.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP).—Vince Castino, a sensational .375 hitter with the White Sox farm club at Lubbock, Tex., in 1942, said yesterday he had signed his contract as a catcher for the Sox this season. Castino, a 25-year-old Chicagoan with a 4-F draft status, was with the White Sox last year.

Clayton, Normandy, Suburban Winners

Semifinals are scheduled for tonight in the Suburban League "B" team basketball tournament at Wellston High gymnasium.

W. Cooper Undergoes Routine Physical

Walker Cooper, Cardinal catcher, was at Jefferson Barracks today for a routine physical reexamination. Cooper recently was accepted for limited service and it was explained at the Barracks that physical examinations at 90-day intervals were required of men in that classification.

Robt. Steinmeyer and Zinner Chess Leaders

As a result of their victories in the third round, Julius Zinner and Robert Steinmeyer remain tied for the lead in the annual St. Louis District chess championship tournament. Each is undefeated. Results: Zinner, the defending champion, defeated Paul Rosan; Steinmeyer defeated Louis W. Haller, former champion; Paul Sacks defeated B. B. Price and E. E. Hutzel defeated Otto Ehlers.

Matches are played on Saturday nights at Downtown Y. M. C. A. chess room.

Handball Results.

Joe Diamond and Chester Sakowski beat William White and Isadore Bernstein 21-9, 21-19 in the only -Class A match played last night in the Y. M. H. A. doubles handball tournament.

Conzelman to Tour Virginia Army Camps

Jimmy Conzelman, after-dinner speaker and assistant to Donald Barnes, president of the Browns' baseball club, is leaving today for a tour of Army camps in Virginia.

Conzelman will talk on sports and related subjects as a morale booster for the boys. He was requested to make the trip by officials in Washington and will be gone about seven days.

Weatherly Accepted.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 29 (AP).—Roy Weatherly, New York Yankee outfielder, passed his selective service physical examination today and was accepted for general Army duty, subject to call.

Married and the father of a child, the 29-year-old Weatherly joined the Yankees last year after seven seasons with the Cleveland Indians.

Sooners Sure of Tie for Title

AMES, Ia., Feb. 29 (AP).—Oklahoma clinched at least a half-share of the Big Six Conference basketball championship last night by defeating Iowa State 44 to 30 in the final game of the season for the Sooners.

If the Cyclones beat Kansas Friday they will share the title with Oklahoma; if they lose the Sooners will get undisputed possession of the crown.

Wild Horse Snowed In on His Birthday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 29 (AP).—Pepper Martin, who is known for getting where he wants to go in a hurry, missed his own birthday party today.

The Wild Horse, who last week announced he would play with the St. Louis Cardinals this season after a four-year layoff, was stranded at his ranch near McAlester, Ok., after bad weather made roads impassable.

Mrs. Martin said she planned a party for Pepper, but he had phoned her that he couldn't get home until the end of the week.

Pepper's cake would have had 10 candles on it. He is 40 years old but his birthday comes on leap-day.

Pope Wins Swim Feature.

Harry Pope won the 880-yard free style in the 17-year-old-and-over class, feature of the Ozark A. A. U. men's allround swimming competition last night at the Missouri A. C. pool. Robert Maurer was second, Richard Lindauer third. Results:

10-12 YEAR CLASS, 25-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Douglas McCarthy, 16.8; Sigmund Goffstein 17.4, second; Billy Nicholay, 18.3, third.
13-14 YEAR CLASS, 50-YARD FREE STYLE—Tie for first between Joe McKenna and Jimmie Blumeyer, 17.2; Dan Sheehan, 18.2, third.
50-YARD BACK STROKE—Won by Irving Roselman, 36.1; Harold Gaveman, 37.0, second; Bill Pohlman, 37.1, third.
15-16 YEAR CLASS, 220-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Jim McKenna, 2:35.6; Elmer Breidert, 2:37.6, second; Harry Keaugh, 2:45.5, third.
17-YEAR AND OVER, 880-YARD FREE STYLE—Won by Harry Pope 12:07.7; Robert Maurer, 12:40.2, second; Richard Lindauer, 12:40.8, third.

JOB DEFERMENTS OF 85,000 IN STATE WILL BE REVIEWED

should be carried out in line with existing regulations, but in the light of the President's message that agriculture and industry should release younger men for military service.

Notices sent to employers stated that should a deferment be sought for an employe the individual's qualifications should be presented by both the employer and the local draft board to the United States Employment Service for investigation.

Only local and appeal boards have the authority to classify registrants, Col. Earp said, and convincing proof of the necessity of deferring any registrants must be submitted to these boards.

The new instructions "will entail many changes in replacement schedules and the action may seem somewhat drastic," Col. Earp said. "On the other hand, the pressing need for men in the armed forces is so great that all available registrants, particularly those under 26 years of age, must be made ready for induction."

Missouri, like most other states, has been unable to meet its draft quotas in full since last September.

"But," Col. Earp said, "we are positive that from now on we will meet our quotas." He listed as principal factors entering into failure to meet quotas for four months: Demands of war industries, hesitancy of local draft boards to induct pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, claims of a farm-labor shortage, and a high percentage of rejections for physical disability. The latter run about 45 per cent of all examined for induction, he said.

John J. Griffin, chairman of the Associated Draft Boards of St. Louis and St. Louis County, estimated 30 days would be required to complete the review and reclassification job ordered by Col. Earp. Selective service boards here, he said, have been by no means lenient in granting occupational deferments, and the number of deferred men under 26 years of age "probably is not large."

Griffin said St. Louis boards long have urged that no occupational deferments be granted to men under 26, unless they are highly trained chemists, engineers, doctors and the like. "It has been our contention for a long time," he said, "that few, if any, men under 26 could be strictly described as essential."

REDS REPORTED SHELLING PSKOV WITH BIG GUNS

mans were fighting the three-pronged march on Pskov, important rail center and base with everything they had, but were being steadily forced back by the relentless Red Army drive. The Russian communique told of the slaughter of German units—700 at one point, 500 at another, and an entire battalion at still another. Everywhere, it added, Nazi troops were dying, surrendering or in flight.

The Russians said their drive on Pskov liberated 450 towns and villages yesterday. Another 200 were reported captured in the rout of the three Nazi divisions to the south, where numerous prisoners were said to have been taken.

Soviet columns pushing down the Luga-Pskov railway crashed through intricate hedge-hog defense barriers to capture Toroshino, suburb of Pskov. From the east, other Red Army troops coming in from Porkhov along the Staraya Russa railway drove the enemy out of Karamyshevo station. Still another Soviet force was reported to have occupied the town of Olgino Pole, northwest of the Nazi base.

The Soviet communique reported that desertion and defeatism are widespread in the German ranks and said actual mutiny had broken out on the Leningrad front last month. Military prisons in Pskov are overflowing with these men, brought there in irons, the Russians said.

Other sectors of the long eastern front were comparatively quiet, the Russians said.

ANZIO BEACHHEAD HEAVILY SHELLED BY GERMAN GUNS

that an American cruiser which stood off the Anzio coast Sunday and shelled the enemy had engaged in a series of seven duels with long-range German artillery with results described by front-line reports as "excellent."

Germans who tried their infiltration tactics in the mountains northwest of Cassino on the lower Fifth Army front were cleaned up where they had succeeded in getting through the Allied lines, a Fifth Army spokesman said. Several sharp patrol clashes were reported along the lower Garigliano River.

Canadian patrols pressed toward Tollo, about eight miles inland from the Adriatic coast town of Ortona on the Eighth Army front, and British forces occupied a ridge three miles southeast of Guardiagrele. Polish troops routed a German patrol near Castel di Sangro and Indian mortars shot up enemy outposts near Orsogna.

There was no German air activity over the beachhead yesterday, but despite unfavorable weather the Allied air forces flew 600 sorties, losing three planes. There were no heavy bomber missions.

Targets included three airfields in the outskirts of Rome, enemy shipping in the Adriatic, rail and road traffic in Italy and Yugoslavia and German gun positions.

was light, but the Germans sent up a reavy antiaircraft barrage.

"The Luftwaffe must be getting hashful, because I didn't see a single Jerry all day," said Sgt. Murray Rubinfeld, New York City.

"Our fighters took up so much of the sky there would have been no room for the Germans, even if they had tried to come up," declared Lt. Mark Cope, Two Rivers, Wis.

Warning to Britons.

Meanwhile, Sir Archibald Sinclair, Secretary of State for Air, told the House of Commons that Britain's defenses are prepared for heavier German air raids before invasion time and asserted: "It may well be that historians will look back on the period between the February and March moons as one of the decisive stages of the war.

"We must not believe the forces the enemy has sent over are the greatest strength he can muster; his power of striking back is far from negligible," he said.

"We have foreseen the attack and whatever shape it may assume or in whatever weight it may come, we shall be ready to pit our forces against it."

Reviewing the recent epochal Allied bombings, he declared, "There lies before us now, clearly obtainable, the glittering prize of air supremacy—a talisman that can paralyze German war industry and war transport, that will clear the road for progress of the Allied armies to Berlin."

Invasion Preparations.

Of the forthcoming Allied invasion Sinclair said: "The R. A. F. is preparing to play its part in combination with the Army and Navy for liberating Europe. We have made our dispositions."

In January alone, he said, Berlin was the target of as great a weight of bombs as the German dropped on London from the start of the war until now.

United States and R. A. F. bomber squadrons, he continued, have compelled the Germans to concentrate four-fifths of their entire fighter strength in the West.

He said enough concrete for a 30-foot road from London to Peiping, China, had gone into air fields in the British Isles since the war started and that a million buildings had been finished.

Yesterday's Raids.

Yesterday's attacks on France's Pas de Calais area included forays by 200 United States Marauder medium bombers and R. A. F. mediums, all of which returned.

Antiaircraft fire was heavy only in spots and there was almost no fighter opposition.

"Give me two or three days like this," commented Capt. Earl J. Waugh of Rothville, Mo., pilot of a Fortress, who described the mission as the easiest of his 25. He and other flyers at his base said the Nazis apparently had pulled their fighter strength back into Germany.

GARIBALDI'S GRANDSON CHIEF OF PARTISANS IN ITALY

By PAUL GHALI.

The Chicago Daily News—Post-Dispatch Special Radio. Copyright, 1944.

BERN, Feb. 29.—Ezio Garibaldi, grandson of Italy's liberator and hero, Giuseppi Garibaldi, is the latest target of Roberto Farinacci's ire. In his Cremona newspaper Regime Fascista the neo-Fascist Minister of State accuses Garibaldi of "dragging in the mire the illustrious name of his ancestors."

The immensely popular partisan leader is now reported to be in hiding in the Abruzzi mountains whence he directs strong formations against the Germans and their neo-Fascist puppets.

Garibaldi's wife, who is American-born, is reported to be with her husband in the mountains. She is described in Fascist newspapers as a niece of Gen. Mark W. Clark, commander of the Fifth Army in Italy.

STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK.

DETROIT, Feb. 29 (AP).—Production of ball turrets for aircraft was resumed at the Outer Drive plant of the Briggs Manufacturing Co. today when 350 workers who left their jobs yesterday returned to work.

The dispute, a company spokesman said, began when 350 machine shop employes protested against the dismissal of thrre women. He said the three were dismissed for attempting to strike Saturday without filing a petition as required by contract.

DIES RELOCATION CAMP REPORT CALLED BIASED

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Representative Eberharter (Dem.), Pennsylvania, said today that two fellow members of the Dies committee acted with bias in recommending removal of two top officials of the War Relocation Authority for alleged inability to handle segregated Japanese-Americans effectively.

Eberharter, member of a three-man subcommittee that investigated last November's disorders at the Tule Lake (Cal.) center, disagreed with Representative Costello (Dem.), California and Representative Mundt (Rep.), South Dakota, who have called for the removal of Dillon S. Myer, WRA director, and Ray R. Best, director of the Tule Lake camp.

In a majority report, Costello and Mundt said they thought that "considerable responsibility for the riot of Nov. 1 can be attributed to the lack of discipline and to the appeasement policy by which the camp was run over a period of months prior to the riot."

TIN RECLAIMED FROM TUBES

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—More than one million pounds of tin were recovered in the past 23 months through reclamation of used tooth paste and shaving cream tubes.

E. Vogelsang, chief of the War Production Board tin and lead branch, said today termination tomorrow of the order requiring purchasers to turn in an empty tube does not mean there is plenty of tin. "It simply means," said Vogelsang, "that tubes now being made do not contain enough tin to warrant continuation of the effort."

LA GUARDIA ACTS TO BAR GIRLS UNDER 16 DANCING IN TAVERNS

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—Mayor F. H. LaGuardia ordered the Police Department, effective last night, to close without notice any bar or dance hall in which girls under 16 are found.

The Mayor said the order was the result of a story in the New York Daily News, saying the paper's reporters had seen 'teen-age girls fraternizing and dancing in taverns with soldiers and sailors.

FOLGER'S COFFEE made them friends

READ HOW FOLGER'S COFFEE HELPED TO MAKE FRIENDS FOR MISS BETH HART OF MASON CITY, IOWA, WHEN SHE FIRST STARTED TEACHING

Dear Judy and Jane:

To me coffee drinking is such a friendly habit, whether I have companionship or am alone. When I first started teaching, I boarded with a Swedish immigrant family. The lady couldn't talk English very well, and I couldn't talk Swedish at all, but over coffee and cake after school we visited somehow.

This fall due to the teacher shortage, I'm teaching again and I'm planning on a pot of Folger's rich flavored coffee with each evening of study. The radio, magazine, typewriter, and a pot of Folger's tangy coffee fill my evenings at home.

Sincerely yours,
Beth Hart

MOUNTAIN GROWN

Why Folger's Keeps Friends for Life

You find a heartwarming goodness in Folger's Coffee that makes friends at first taste—and keeps them for life. Folger's flavor has such a rare winey tang—such delicious richness and vigor. No other coffee in the world has quite that flavor.

For you see Folger's Coffee is a blend of rare mountain coffees from the Coffee Growing Paradise of the World . . . combined as only the Folger people know how to blend them to produce the delicious miracle of flavor that is Folger's.

And since no other coffee has that flavor . . . people who have once tasted Folger's . . . will go to almost any length to continue to enjoy it. They even carry Folger's with them on vacations . . . explain to their friends they just can't drink any other coffee!

Truly Folger's is a special kind of coffee. There's a mountain of flavor in every spoonful of Folger's!

JAPANESE NAVY HELPLESS AGAINST ISLAND-HOPPING TACTICS OF U. S. IN PACIFIC

Enemy Outpowered, Unable to Move Reinforcements to Atolls in Time Once Attack Begins, but Land Masses Such as Philippines Could Be Traps, Correspondent Says.

By B. J. McQUAID

(Copyright, 1944.)

PUBLIC disgrace of a couple of war lords may assuage, temporarily, popular Japanese dismay over the successive hammer blows of the Gilberts and Marshalls conquests, steady tightening of the noose around Rabaul and the spectacular strike at Truk. But the kind of misery the cocky little empire is now beginning to feel is far too deep-seated to be relieved by any such palliative.

Perhaps there was mismanagement in Truk's air defenses. Certainly the weaknesses in Japanese reconnaissance seem to have been revealed by the undetected approach of our raiders.

But even such human weaknesses as may have conspired to help us score this astonishingly cheap success were not merely accidental, as were those which contributed to our own losses at Pearl Harbor. The human weaknesses of the Japanese, like their deficiencies in materiel, are inherent and incorrigible.

There is, specifically, their weakness in air crew. All things considered, our planes are better than theirs, but not enough to account for the ridiculous ease with which we slapped Truk's air defenders down on the first day of the strike. On a numerical basis, Japanese air strength in the area must have exceeded ours. Perhaps we caught the base when it had been temporarily drained of its normally formidable air strength to supply deficiencies produced by the stepped-up tempo of the war in the Solomons-New Britain area. But the most likely explanation is that our carrier flyers once more demonstrated their overwhelming qualitative superiority over the average Japanese pilot.

Firing the war lords won't fix that, nor will it compensate for the still more serious handicaps under which the Japanese suffer.

Japanese Lacking in Power.

Making all allowance for such elements as fighting spirit, luck, surprise, shrewd planning and sheer tactical brilliance, the principal ingredient of amphibious war is old-fashioned power.

At this stage of the game, and so long as we stick to our Central Pacific island-hopping, the Japanese are, and will remain, outpowered.

The Japanese fleet isn't in hiding because it is afraid. Everyone who knows the fanatic fighting qualities of the excellent Japanese Navy will agree with Secretary of the Navy Knox in that estimate.

It avoids action because it hasn't got the power to meet our advancing amphibious forces on anything like equal terms. It hasn't got the battleships, cruisers, destroyers, carriers and submarines necessary to give it even an outside chance.

"Have faith in your Navy," say Tokyo's leaders to their people. "It will not force itself into unnecessary battles. It has good fighting strategy for achieving the final victory."

Is this "good strategy" anything more than a hope, a wish and a Shinto prayer? Perhaps not, but unfortunately there are means by which Tokyo's prayerful wish might be brought to fulfillment.

Traps for Allies.

A thumping strategic boner on the part of our high command would be one. Too rash and eager a projection of our present sound offensive position would be the most obvious trap for us to fall into. A premature thrust against any great land mass, such as the Philippines, the East Indies, or the China coast, might give the Japanese fleet the gratuitous, heaven-sent opportunity for which it watches and waits.

A course of action which, despite our overwhelming sea superiority, might stagnate the war into a dreary, painful 10-year campaign in the jungles of the Philipines, or Burma, would be another answer to a Japanese strategists's prayer.

The Japanese hope, above all, to catch our fleet, or substantial elements of it, in a spot where their own deficiencies in carrier-based air power may be more than made up in landbased planes. Failing this, they hope that a major mistake in our own strategy may convert the Pacific war into a tortuously long and difficult series of land actions.

"Get there first with the most men" is as sound a piece of advice in modern amphibious war as it was in Nathan Bedford Forrest's day, or in Caesar's. Unfortunately, in those regions of the Pacific where the war must be fought, the Japanese have already got thar. That is why their victories were quick and cheap whereas ours must be slow and expensive. Since we can't get there first, we must be doubly sure of getting there with the most, in men, ships, planes and supplies.

Geography in Our Favor.

One tremendous circumstance in our favor is that in so-called island-by-island war, such as we have been fighting in the Gilberts and Marshalls, the Japanese advantage in having got there first is largely nullified by Central Pacific geography. The land areas of these tiny atoll clusters put rigid limitations on the defensive strength which the Japanese can maintain in them. Our own offensive strength has now grown so great, and the mid-Pacific distances between the atoll groups are so vast, that once our attack has been launched, Japan's problem of feeding in reserves and reinforcements to its beleaguered garrisons is hopeless.

The island areas in the Solomons-New Guinea-New Britain region are enormously greater than in the atoll groups, and they are close enough together to permit Japanese bases mutually to strengthen each other when under attack. This explains why Gen. Douglas MacArthur, despite his outspoken aversion to island-by-island war, is still fighting to complete the security of the single large island of New Guinea while the Navy has subjugated dozens of small Japanese islands in the Central Pacific in the last three months.

Problem of Supply.

The modern amphibious warrior, in contrast to leaders like MacArthur who seem exclusively preoccupied by the problems of land fighting, keeps his attention first and always on the needs of supply, both his own and the enemy's.

Bold, imaginative "massive strokes" as advocated by MacArthur, might take us at a single leap into the heart of the Indies or the Philippines. Our power is probably great enough even now to force temporary beachheads in either area, or for that matter on the China coast.

This, however, would necessitate by-passing numerous first-class Japanese strongpoints. The lines of supply to our new beachheads would run through ocean areas dominated by such potent Japanese bases as Truk, Saipan, Palau, Singapore and the strong bastions developed by the Japanese in the Indies and Philippines themselves. Every convoy passing through such a region would be subject not only to submarine and air attack but to raids by strong surface elements of the Japanese Navy.

Blitz in New Dimension.

As William H. Stoneman, correspondent with the Fifth Army in Italy, has pointed out in his brilliant analysis of the Anzio operation, the success of an amphibious campaign must be measured not so much by the firmness with which your beachhead is initially established, as by the rapidity with which you drive inland, fan out and force the enemy to fight on a broad and expanding front. It is the German blitzkrieg carried into a new dimension, and like the blitz, its essence is speed and fluidity.

The original effort must be stepped up on a constantly expanding scale. New supplies, men and weapons must pour in in a steady, unimpeded stream. Your forces must be got in by sea faster and in greater quantity than the enemy can get to the point of contact by land. This can certainly be accomplished more easily in China than in Europe, for the Japanese won't have the excellent highway and rail facilities possessed by the Germans. But the greenest student of amphibious war would never approve such an attempt until the security of his overseas supply lines had been reasonably guaranteed.

9 DANISH BISHOPS CONDEMN 'EVIL FORCES IN OUR MIDST'

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Swedish radio reported in a domestic broadcast last night that nine bishops of German-occupied Denmark had issued a pastoral letter condemning "the evil forces that have been let loose in our midst."

The broadcast said the letter was read "in all Danish churches" Sunday. It quoted the bishops as saying:

"We condemn the fact that the principles of right that Christianity has firmly imbued in our people are pushed to one side. We meet in sorrow because good Danish men, among them our great poet, a dauntless servant of the church (Kaj Munk, noted cleric and poet assassinated last month) have fallen victim to the evil forces that have been let loose in our midst. May the will always to stand firm live with us forever."

A Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

IN ITALY, Feb. 29 (by wireless).

ALL the highways from Naples north are thick with speeding convoys of supplies, day and night. Lights are used right up to the combat zone. Both British and American trucks crowd the roads. Drivers pound the big trucks along at 40 and 50 miles an hour, and the main highways are no place for a nervous Nellie.

The highways over here were originally good macadam, but now they are filled with holes from the intensity of the traffic. Engineers work on them constantly.

At the edges of the cities the roads are wide and lined with stately sycamore trees. You feel as though you were driving through a beautiful tunnel.

Both the American and British armies have put up thousands of stenciled and painted signs along the roads, directing drivers to the numerous units.

If you were really puzzled about your destination, you'd have to pull off and study the hodgepodge for five minutes before finding out anything.

Some Go Into Rhyme.

SOMEBODY in our Army must have been a roadside advertising man before the war, for we have all kinds of signs along the highways in addition to the direction signs. They are tacked onto trees, telephone poles and posts.

There are many in the Burma Shave poetic style, the several phrases being on separate boards about 50 yards apart, such as this one: "If you leave—good clothes behind—you may need them—some other time." That's an admonition against the American soldier's habit of abandoning gear when he gets more than he can carry.

Another one in Burma Shave fashion, and of dubious rhyme, says, "Some like gold—some like silver—we like salvage—bring it, will you?"

There are also frequent warnings against venereal disease, and one sign way out in the country says, "Is your tent clean?" A lot of front-line soldiers who haven't even been in a pup tent for months would get a laugh out of that one.

Houses and Their Ghosts.

AS we advance mile by slow mile across the Italian mountains and valleys, our many command posts are set up wherever possible in Italian farm or village houses.

The houses are mostly all alike. They are very old and substantial-looking, yet they shake all over from the blast of our nearby guns.

Sometimes the Italian family still lives in one room of the house while the Americans occupy the rest. At other times the family has gone—nobody knows where—and taken with it everything but the heaviest furniture.

Faded pictures still hang on the walls—wedding-group pictures of 40 years ago, and a full-face picture of some mustachioed young buck in the uniform of the last war, and old, old pictures of grandpa and grandma, and always a number of pictures of Christ and various religious scenes and mottoes.

I've billeted in dozens of Italian homes on the farms and little towns of our front lines, and invariably the faded pictures on the walls are of the same sort.

In one house nothing was left inside except the heavy cupboards and two heavy suitcases stored on top of the cupboards. We didn't nose into the suitcases, but I noticed that one bore the label of a big Italian steamship line and underneath the label it said, in English, "Steerage passenger." Somebody in that poor family had been to America and back.

One day I heard a soldier say, "I'd sure like to see just one good old-fashioned frame house. I haven't seen a wooden building since we came to Italy."

They say there are frame buildings farther north, but in this part of Italy everything is brick or stone. You almost never see a building afire.

These pitiful towns like Vairano and San Pietro and San Vittore and Cervaro and even Cassion, which have been absolutely pulverized by exploding shells and bombs, have gone down stone by stone and never from flame. They die hard, but they die.

CIVILIANS TO LEAVE BREST

LONDON, Feb. 29. (AP).—The Vichy Government has ordered compulsory evacuation of civilians from the Brest area, the Vichy radia said last night.

ALLIED OUTLOOK IN WEST BURMA

By MAJ. GEORGE FIELDING ELIOT

THE British Fourteenth Army appears to have won a neat victory over the Japanese in the Arakan hill country north of Akyab. The Japanese apparently tried to cut the communications of the Fifth and Seventh Indian divisions in the Maungdaw region, by seizing a mountain pass and cutting the road behind the Anglo-Indian troops. This situation has now been completely restored, with severe losses to the enemy. Just how decisive the victory was, however, is a pudding which has still to be proven in the eating.

It is one thing for an army on the offensive to be counterattacked, to find itself in trouble, and to fight its way out. But what really counts thereafter is whether, in so doing, it handles the enemy so roughly that it can resume its advance on its objective. The objective of the British Fourteenth Army is necessarily the port and air base of Akyab. The measure of that army's present success is to be found in whether it can now resume its advance on Akyab.

Akyab a Preliminary.

Very likely this will in part depend on whether the Japanese can send in reinforcements. The Japanese troops which tried to surround the two rescued divisions are probably in no shape to offer effective opposition to a renewed British thrust to the southward. The Japanese will need more troops for the defense of Akyab; the British may well need more in order to go ahead. One interesting point to be noted is that West African troops are pushing toward Akyab on a parallel course to the eastward of the roads being followed by the Fifth and Seventh Indian divisions. If, within the next few weeks, the tide of battle rolls southward toward Akyab, we shall have the best possible evidence that the Fourteenth Army has accomplished something more than merely to thwart the enemy's intentions.

The taking of Akyab itself is, however, only one of the preliminary moves which must precede any large-scale operation directed toward the expulsion of the Japanese from Burma. There has been evident a growing belief in informed quarters that no really big move in the Southeast Asia theater can be expected in the near future. The troops of Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten's command are keeping up minor pressures along the frontier. These certainly keep a good many Japanese troops busy and are therefore of some diversionary value, but are not likely to produce any decisive results.

Andaman Islands.

Probably one move that can be expected is a jump to the Andaman Islands to the south. In view of the decline of Japanese air power as evidenced by conditions in the Pacific and in China, a British amphibious operation against the Andamans seems full of promise. It would not only give the British forces a well-placed advance base for any future landing on the Burmese coast, but it would be of great defensive value as against a possible appearance of the Japanese fleet in the Bay of Bengal. If British air power were firmly established in the Andamans, and perhaps in the Nicobar Islands to the southward, as well, the Japanese would hardly dare to try to bring any considerable naval force out of the northern exit of the Strait of Malacca. Even if they did manage to sneak out, the odds would be great against their ever getting back in again.

Moreover a British emplacement in the Andamans would flank the Japanese shipping route to Moulmein and Rangoon. Probably it would seal off those ports as effectively as some of the Japanese positions in the Southwest Pacific are now sealed off by American by-passing tactics. This would leave the Japanese garrisons in Burma entirely dependent on their land communications with Thailand, which are of very low capacity because of the intervening mountain range. Across this range there is one road, from Chiengmai in Thailand, which the

Italian Parties Protest Against Churchill Stand

NAPLES, Feb. 29 (AP).

THE Italian Committee of National Liberation, again urging abdication of King Vittorio Emanuele and formation of a democratic government, dispatched a protest last night to Prime Minister Churchill against his indorsement of Premier Marshal Pietro Badoglio's regime.

In a letter addressed to the Prime Minister, the committee, including representatives of six Italian political parties, declared that a government such as it proposes "would augment the fighting capacity of the Italian forces" rather than impair it as Churchill contended in his address to Parliament last week.

(In a speech in the House of Commons last Tuesday Churchill said he was not yet convinced that any other Italian government "could be formed which would command the same obedience from the people." He added that when Rome falls the whole Italian situation will be reviewed.)

Copies of the letter were turned over to the Allied Control Commission for transmission to United States Secretary of State Cordell Hull and Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov.

One of the committee's six parties, the Christian Democrats, voted against sending the letter, it was announced.

As a further protest of the Prime Minister's stand three of the parties have called a 10-minute strike of all Naples workers for next Saturday.

The committee wrote that it assumed Churchill had no intention of "interfering in the solution of our country's internal political problems at the harm of the Italian people's right to be and remain, particularly after 20 years of dictatorship, the exclusive and sovereign judge of its own destinies."

The letter warned against giving "occasion and reasons for deep discord" between the peoples of Italy and Britain, "bearing in mind that wars fortunately are not eternal and that every people sooner or later will again become

CAIRO, Feb. 29.

A SEVERE epidemic of malignant malaria which, according to one report has reached a total of 110,000 cases, with 11,000 deaths, is sweeping upper Egypt and threatens to get out of control. British military authorities have offered aid to the Egyptian Government in checking the plague.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Cairo last Saturday placed the number reported dead at 65,000.)

In a recent interview with the Egyptian Minister of Health the British authorities suggested sending a malaria field laboratory section and two antimalarial control units complete with British Army personnel to combat the scourge, a British Embassy spokesman announced. It is not yet known whether the Egyptian Government has decided to accept the Allies' offer of aid.

The British announcement was prompted, it is believed, by various allegations that famine in upper Egypt was due to Allied troops consuming Egyptian grain and produce. The British point out that their Army rations are imported from outside the Middle East.

The world's most dangerous malarial mosquito, the Anopheles Gambia, not only has appeared in the greatest strength in Upper Egypt since the epidemic there in 1942, but since then has made a 200-mile advance northward down the rich Nile valley. In 1942 the most northern vicinity affected was Isna, 450 miles from Cairo. This year it has appeared as far north as Assiut, 250 miles from Cairo. It was because of this epidemic that the winter resorts of Assuan and Luxor were put out of bounds to Allied troops last autumn through December—a bar which led to the rumor that the Cairo conference would be held at Luxor.

British malarial experts do not believe there is strong likelihood that the Gambia mosquito might reach Cairo and the Delta region this summer unless there happens to be an abnormally hot season. They do not write off the possibility, however, that the Mosquito might, through a number of generations, acclimatize itself to the lower temperatures of the Lower Nile, should its advance northward not be checked in time.

Meantime, the devastation caused by the malarial plague sweeping Upper Egypt is causing the Egyptian government serious worry. There is famine, poverty and want on an extensive scale not only because of the death toll among Upper Egypt's farmers, the Fellaheen, but because those who do not die are too weak to work in the fields, and famine comes through labor shortage.

'Hitchhiking' Mosquitoes.

Various reasons are given for the presence in Upper Egypt of the West African Gambia mosquito. Some Egyptians have suggested that the insects hitchhiked in Allied planes of the trans-African route. British and American experts believe this is an extremely unlikely explanation and say that the Anopheles always existed in Upper Egypt and came out in strength this year owing to an abnormally hot summer.

British official quarters, in announcing their offer of aid to the Egyptian Government for combating the Gambria mosquito and malaria in upper Egypt, revealed instances of previous offers and material aid given.

A year ago, these quarters say, British and American authorities arranged for the supply to Egyptian Government of materials for combating the mosquito and treating malaria. Paris green for spraying pools of still water, where the mosquitos breed, and pyrethrum and atabrin tablets were turned over to the Egyptian Government, although there is a world shortage in these items.

Since then, Allied sources say, further supplies have been given to the Egyptian Government, bringing the total to date to 8,500,000 atabrin tablets, 49 tons of paris green and 4750 gallons of finished spray. The British now propose their antimalarial control units should take over in definite areas which would also be used as training grounds for Egyptians who could eventually be sent to work in other areas.

STORM OVER THE TAX BILL

"A War to Be Won"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Are some of our Congressmen waiting out this war? Are they merely waiting for the men to return home, waiting for things to get back to normal of their own accord? In their position, they should know that there will never be a return to normal times, and certainly a substitute normalcy will never be achieved by those at home who are unwilling to give up an obsolete policy of "watchful waiting"—go slow, boys, there'll be an election soon—for one of "timely doing"—the devil with politics, we'll get things done now.

The American people have swallowed an overdose of penny-ante politics and eye-spittin' politicians. They've also held their noses, but taken their doses of taxes and seemingly pointless governmental red tape. But they will have no appetite now for a system that will allow a World War, which, naturally, means a definite international policy, to wait while the United States Government at home is blithely ripping itself wide open in the inevitable election year stewpot tempest.

There's a war to be won. The men on those bitter battlefronts will not go slow and wait for results. They achieve them. Can those at home do less?

Thinks President Erred

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

President Roosevelt undoubtedly laid his hand on the table as a challenge, thought he held the highest trump in the game and played it. But Senator Barkley called his hand and reached in his sleeve and played a higher trump.

This is one time the President overestimated his popularity and the power of his personality, which will be an important factor in the fourth-term agitation which is sweeping the country at the present time. H. R. B.

A Gain for War Profiteers

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

My sincere congratulations to Cartoonist Fitzpatrick and your editorial staff for your realistic stand on the tax bill.

The whole congressional fiasco was an organized attempt by the Southern Democrats in coalition with Republicans to discredit F. D. R. The tax bill, at $10,000,000 per hour (that's what this war cost us), pays for less than 10 days of fighting. Mr. Roosevelt tried to spare the poor man again by taxing sources which could better afford it.

Congress again misrepresented its constitutents and Americans, previously unfriendly to Roosevelt, recognize the great courage and foresight which he employed in an effort to squash an inadequate tax bill. It took Senator Langer, a Republican to say it: "Every war profiteeer will gain and the people will lose through this bill."

Keep it up, Post-Dispatch.

CHARLES MURPHY.

Refers to Constitution

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Regarding the President's veto of the tax bill and your editorials and cartoons on the subject:

For your information, it took our forefathers just about 150 years to learn the lesson that you failed to learn, namely, that in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice and promote the general welfare, all legislative powers must be vested in a Congress, among other things to lay and collect taxes.

THOMAS GABBERT.

Ignores Tax Issue

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I've always believed that Congress was a body of sagacious and benevolent men. After observing the three-ring circus it staged over the tax bill with Senator Barkley as ring master, I feel it has conducted itself on a par with a group of children.

I see in the desire of Congress to override the President's tax veto the fulfillment of a personal enmity it had for Mr. Roosevelt since he "got them told" a few weeks ago. On that occasion, the shoe not only fit, but it fitted too well. When a shoe pinches, as everyone knows, it's a very uncomfortable feeling. To remove that pinching shoe, Congress used the overriding of the President's veto as a bootjack. A FEMALE VOTER.

Refuses to Face Reality

Once again the Post-Dispatch has come through. Your editorials are echoing the voice of the majority on the childish reaction of Senator Barkley and Congress on the tax veto.

Congress is refusing to face reality. I, for one, think that what we need is a new Congress—one that is not motivated by the fact that it's a campaign year. AN AMERICAN.

Congress Reneges on Taxes

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

It seems that Congress has reverted to childish games instead of statesmanship when enacting proper tax legislation. Its attitude seems to be: "If the game isn't played my way, I take my ball and bat and go home." This is especially true of Senator Barkley, who wasn't quite man enough to take "No, please reconsider," for an answer.

A Slow-Motion Convention

After long delay—which at first was understandable but now, after months of it, is disheartening—the Constitutional Convention is about to come to the point where it must take a stand on major issues. One of these is the nonpartisan plan for selection of Judges which is now applicable to the State Supreme Court, the Courts of Appeals and the Probate and Circuit Courts of Jackson County and the City of St. Louis.

This is a controversial issue, although it never should have been. The voters have twice expressed their will that it should be in the State's basic law, and the convention never should have wasted time in questioning the people's will. The Committee on the Judicial Department, having this matter in hand, is expected to decide at its meeting Thursday evening on its recommendation.

It is heartening to find the convention's president, Robert E. Blake of St. Louis, expecting the court plan to get the indorsement of the committee and then of the whole convention. When Mr. Blake expressed this optimistic view in an address in St. Louis last week, he was inferentially paying high tribute to the substantial group of public-spirited and forward-looking members of the convention who have demonstrated their purpose to put Missouri in the front rank of progress.

It would have been surprising, indeed, if the shabby fringe of spoils-minded delegates had not made a fight on the court plan. We have not yet reached the stage in good government where the selfish partisans will accept reform without a struggle. It was added weight in the scales against the spoilsmen when Gov. Dewey of New York recommended the adoption in that State of a plan similar to Missouri's in order to break the power of the political machines in New York City to put unfit and controlled Judges on the bench.

Treatment of the court plan is one of the many instances of the slow pace in the convention which the enemies of progress were counting on. So important a deliberative body was expected to move slowly at first, but after five months it still has failed to come to clear-cut decisions on such important matters as the cabinet form for the executive department, reform of legislative procedure and a merit system for State employes.

It begins to look as if the minority of reactionaries among the delegates would resort to every possible dilatory tactic to postpone decision on the reform measures already indorsed in principle by the committees.

Obstructionists resort to delay when they see they are outvoted. It has occurred time after time in the deliberations of the convention's committees that a die-hard spoilsman, seeing the cause of good government about to be advanced by the votes of the majority, has begged for just a little more time for "study." Too often, the request has been nothing less than purposeful imposition on the traditional courtesy that members of legislative bodies show to one another.

It is time for the convention to decide the major issues before it; for the delegates to chose whether they will be counted on the side of clean, efficient, modernized State government, or on the side of waste, extravagance, exploitation and corruption.

Why Try to Coddle the Public?

Don Whitehead, an Associated Press correspondent just back from the Anzio beachhead, holds the theory expressed by many in this country: That the recent clamping down of censorship on reporters in that hard-fought sector was designed to withhold bad news from the home front. Or, as he states it, "to try to protect the people at home from too many war shocks, instead of letting them have the real picture in preparation for the real shocks which are yet to come."

Mr. Whitehead considers it a mistake to minimize the gravity of the Anzio beach situation, and to coddle the people at home with incomplete reports. Certainly, if civilians are to understand the efforts and sacrifices that are demanded of them, they must know what our fighting forces are up against.

There has never been an episode to indicate that the people can't take bad news. Pearl Harbor, Bataan, Corregidor, Salerno, Tarawa, the disclosures about Jap mistreatment of prisoners—all these have spurred the home front to greater determination. News reports as complete as they can be made without aiding the enemy are the best policy on every count.

The trouble with the new ration tokens, as far as shopkeepers are concerned, is that they'll make a lot of disk work.

Toward a Simple Tax Law

Those who have struggled with this year's four-page income-tax blank, with its double columns, additional pages of small-type instructions and extra schedules, will be gratified by the announcement of congressional leaders that simplification of the tax law is under way in earnest. Chairman Doughton of the House Ways and Means Committee says a "streamlined" bill will be ready for presentation to the House in about two weeks.

One objective of the committee is to keep the tax rate at about its present level, which means Congress still is determined it will not yield to President Roosevelt's demand for heavier taxation. But to ease the burden on the individual taxpayers, of whom there are about 50 millions, the committee proposes to combine the Victory tax, the normal income tax and the surtax into one tax. To do this without injustice to some groups will require careful consideration. There is no doubt, however, that a much simpler tax formula can be devised.

It is even possible that some 30 millions whose incomes are derived solely from salaries and wages from one source may not have to file returns, and that the blanks others will have to fill out next year may be just one-page affairs, so simple as to be looked upon almost with contempt by veterans of the income-tax battle of 1944.

These Are Our Friends

Taylor Henry, Associated Press correspondent interned for more than a year in Prison Europe, writes imperatively from Lisbon: A secret army of 100,000 Frenchmen begs for American guns, American bullets. Bands of French youths have taken to the woods, have chosen as leaders the strongest and wisest among them. They strike, as the Rangers of our own early history must have done, at those who despoil their homeland and mock their heritage.

It is intimate knowledge of their work, their desperation, their value and their valor that has led the Consultative Assembly in Algiers to pass resolution after resolution toward their arming. It is understanding of the terrible odds against them, and their unquartered dedication to the destruction of Fascism, that led Charles de Gaulle to ask Mr. Churchill at Marrakesh to put weapons into their hands. It is comparison of their deeds with those of the Yugoslav Partisans that has caused persons in this country to question our hesitancy to give them aid. Do not the British arm the men of Gen. Tito?

These tales of old-young men who fight with what is at hand tempt recollection of Robin Hood, or the exploits of the tall, strong men of Burgundy, or perhaps of those proudly impertinent ones who thrust the tricolor cockade into the King's fine cap at the Hotel de Ville one unforgotten day in July.

In the unkind mountains beyond high, handsome Grenoble, rising, a haughty fortress, above the Isere, these men live almost like animals, striking when they have strength to do so. They know every rock and copse on the Puy-de-Dome and every wrinkle in the soft hills about Clermont-Ferrand, because to know them is the difference between living and dying. They know the sluggish marshes south and west of Lille, the hedgerows near-by, and how best to slip into that town of thread and steel to work at sabotage in peasant's guise. They know well, too, that this is an army of the strong, which must still embrace the weak who join it, fleeing from conscription for slavery in Germany.

"Aux armes, citoyens!" But there are no arms for this ragged, unrecognized citizens' army to take up, as the words of their old battle hymn enjoin them to do. Those arms must come from the American arsenal, and the American arsenal it not willing to lend them to the end that American as well as French battles shall be fought.

How long this wholly inexplicable situation will continue nobody knows. Reasons? One that has been advanced is that we do not want "disturbances" in France when our troops arrive. Another is that American policy-makers mistrust De Gaulle and fear they would be strengthening him by giving weapons to those whom Taylor Henry says are already engaged "in open revolt against the Vichy Government and its German partners."

If only out of human decency, we should reinforce those men who will fight with nothing for our side, rather than not fight at all. The ancient challenge of the sentry, "Who goes there—friend or foe?" has but one answer from the underground army within France. These men are friends and deserve to be treated as friends.

The heavy rains in California begin to look really serious now that the first jokes are in.

Money vs. Lives

The death of seven persons and injury of 105 on the Gulf, Colorado & Sante Fe Railway at Novice, Tex., last month, when a passenger train ran into another passenger train which was at a stop, have been blamed by the I. C. C. on failure of the railroad to provide adequate safeguards. I. C. C. recommends installation of a block-signal system on the line where the accident occurred.

In these days, it is inexcusable for a railroad to lack any means of safety that money can buy. The block system, among other things, should be made a legal prerequisite to a company's operation of passenger trains. When it is a choice between saving money and wasting lives, the choice is clear enough.

The Food Minister says there will be no bananas in Britain for three years. Yes.

Delays on Soldiers' Claims

Red-tape delays in the settlement of veterans' compensation should not be tolerated, and some means should be devised to tide the returning soldier over whatever length of time is required for expeditious action on his claim.

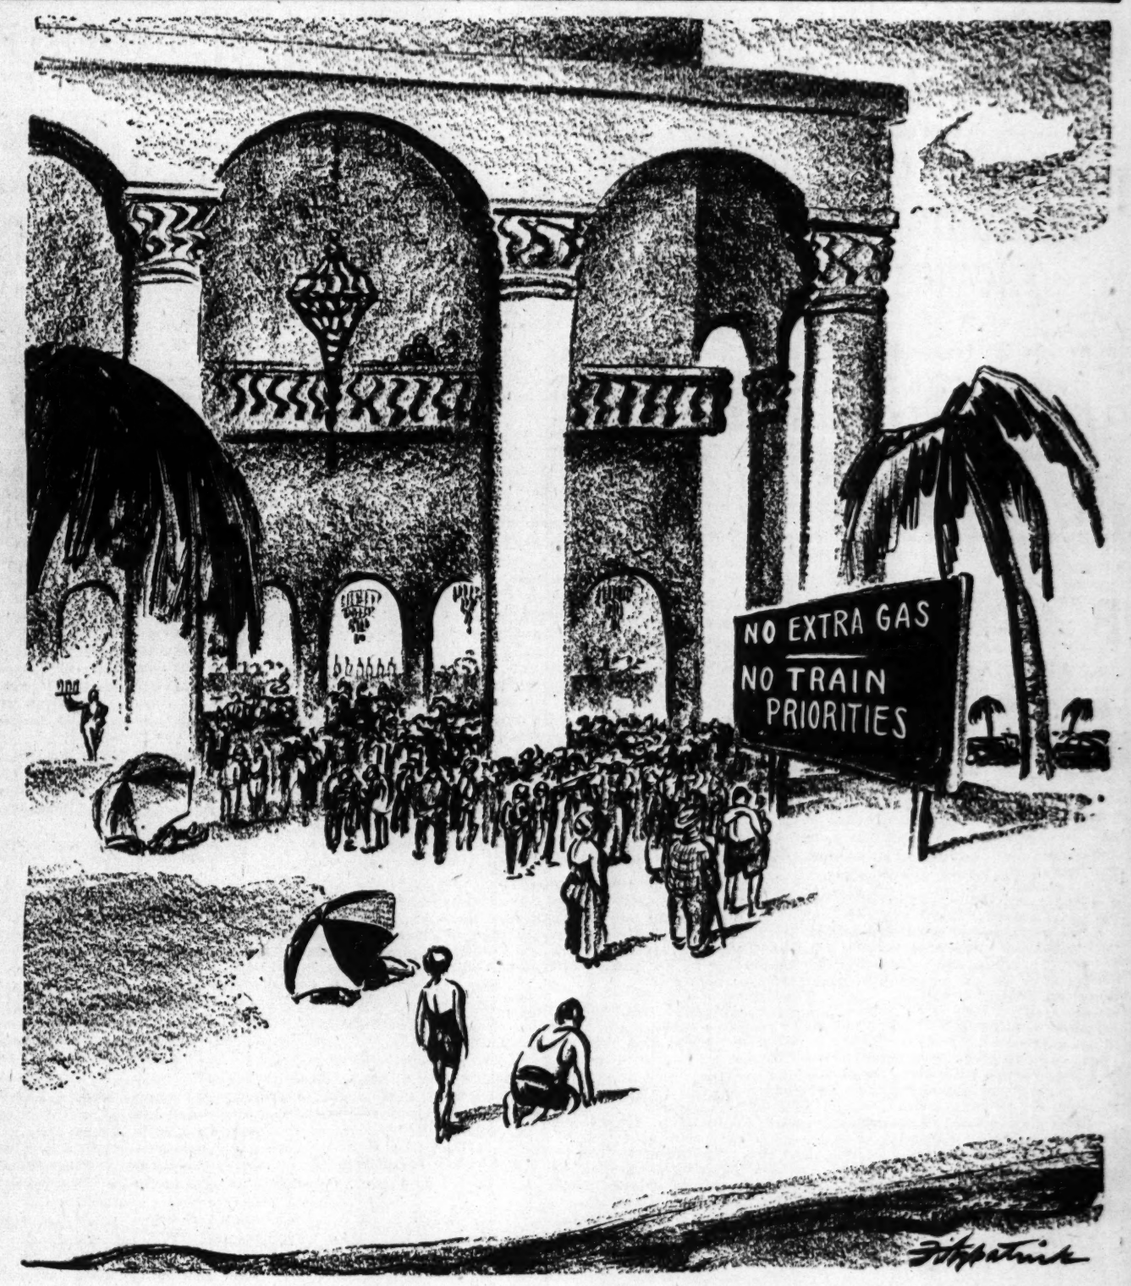
The basic difficulty confronting service men to whom compensation is due was stated here last week by the national commander of the American Legion, Warren H. Atherton. He said that in 1537 battle-casualty cases, the Legion had found the veterans were forced to wait four months on the average—as long as seven months in some instances—between the time their service pay and dependents' allotments stopped and the time they received their compensation settlement. In this interim of hardship, many of them had to turn to charity for subsistence, he said. Mr. Atherton said the situation has improved as a result of disclosure of the facts. But much is still to be accomplished before the manner in which returning soldiers are being handled by the Federal Government approaches acceptable quality.

The administrators responsible for service to veterans, and the Congress and the President, who are responsible for the disjointed jig-saw puzzle—which has hardly been put in order by the addition of a new title for the head of the Veterans' Administration, Brig. Gen. Hines—ought to ask themselves daily:

If the administration of veterans' affairs is already a mess, before the peak of the work has arrived—what will it be like at peak?

The prospect today is that it will be a ghastly botch.

When will Congress and the President get together and put the sprawling pieces of the jigsaw together—when will they create one authority charged with performing our whole duty to returning soldiers?



SCENE OF HORROR ON THE FLORIDA BEACHHEAD

The Danger in Ending War Contracts

The Mirror of Public Opinion

Delay and uncertainty in payment of Government's obligations would tie up huge industries and promote depression, newspaper asserts; recommends extension of guaranteed Federal loans into postwar period to help finance transition to civilian production.

From the Washington Post

That the termination of war contracts is the first job of economic demobilization was the testimony of Bernard M. Baruch in testifying before the special House Committee on postwar economic policy and planning. Without speed and finality in this matter, we should be "legislating a depression," in the words of the Baruch-Hancock report.

We agree. Think of what would happen in the absence of prompt and definitive settlements. Vast sums would be tied up at the close of hostilities, and business would thus be deprived of billions of dollars of working capital essential to keep the wheels of industry going.

Fear that the terms of settlement might be changed would make prime contractors hesitant to pay subcontractors, and subcontractors in turn would hesitate to pay their suppliers. All this would add up to depression.

It is for this reason that Messrs. Baruch and Hancock were concerned lest the legislature would require the Comptroller General's audit on war settlements as the condition of final payments. Audit would be time-consuming and administratively infeasible.

To Guard Against Fraud

Moreover, uncertainty regarding the terms of final settlement would hold up payments all along the line. The net result would be tremendous losses for everybody, with only limited and problematical gains to the Treasury.

With adequate provisions for auditing for detection of frauds, the Government's interests would be protected sufficiently, and the interests of the nation would be much better served by permitting settlements to be finally negotiated by the procuring agencies of the Government.

But even the most expeditious procedure takes time. Consequently, provisions for putting cash at the disposal of contractors and subcontractors during the waiting period, and thus facilitating a return to peacetime business, are called for.

The Baruch-Hancock report calls, accordingly, for an extension and elaboration of the existing system of guaranteed V and VT loans. If such loans cannot be obtained within 30 days from local banks, the Government, through the procuring agencies, would be authorized to make loans directly or to make partial payments as a loan against settlements.

Legislation would be required to validate extension of the proposed T loans, guaranteed to the extent of 90 per cent by Government procurement agencies. They would be essentially the same as the guaranteed loans now used to assist war production, but they would be available after the termination of contracts, and open to all contractors and subcontractors who had previously been engaged on war orders.

The proposed extension into the postwar period of the system of guaranteed loans raises an issue of highly controversial character concerning which there is likely to be a great deal of discussion in the days to come. Carried to extremes, of course, the guaranteeing of loans by the Government would imperil the existence of our private banking system. In fact, an alarm has recently been sounded to that effect by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

Banks Would Participate

But, employed judiciously, there appears to be a need for this type of credit accommodation in the uncertain period of transition from war to peace. Without guaranteed loans, it seems likely that the Government would expand the scope of direct lending to industry. Hence participation by the banks even to a limited extent in emergency lending made possible by Government guarantees may be a safeguard against Government encroachment.

On the subject of contract termination, there is apparently no conflict of views or lack of co-operation between the representatives of the executive and the legislative branches of Government.

Senator Murray says that the report entirely supports his own contract termination bill.

And the Baruch-Hancock report declares that "our major objectives requiring legislation in connection with contract termination are met by the bill prepared by the committees of Senators George and Murray."

However the Baruch-Hancock program is not designed for future use but for immediate employment. That holds true also for the major features of the contract-termination proposals. The Joint Contract Termination Board is already functioning under a chairman independent of the procurement agencies.

The policies recommended have been worked out by that board and most of the program can be put into effect immediately, although legislation is necessary to make it fully effective. It should be added, however, that legislation is desirable to make sure that the general policies approved by responsible executive agencies will not be subject to radical changes in the future.

Fed Up With the War

From the Christian Science Monitor.

Are you tired of the war? So is Gen. Montgomery. Are you fed up with it? So is he. If there is anything the home front wants to say about ending the war quickly, men on the fighting fronts can double it.

When Gen. Montgomery told his men, "This war began a long time ago, I am getting fed up with the thing, I think it is nearly time we finished it," every soldier who heard him knew what the answer to that statement must be. The civilian knows what the answer is, too.

It is simply to do more than he has been doing to bring the war to a victorious end. Yes, one could buy another war bond, or one might follow the example of President and Mrs. Manuel L. Quezon of the Philippines, who have invested all their personal savings in war bonds.

Can it be the Quezons are tired of the war, too? All we know is that they are joining Gen. Montgomery and his men in active determination to get it over with as soon as possible.

13 Who Triumphed Over Odds To Achieve High Distinction

"13 Against the Odds," by Edwin R. Embree. (Viking Press, New York.)

Some readers may be prejudiced against this book because its title is so obvious a take-off on William Bolitho's memorable "Twelve Against the Gods." However, the superficial cleverness of Mr. Embree's title is surpassed by its aptness. For he is telling the stories of 13 men and women, American Negroes, who have indeed been up against the odds—the handicaps and prejudices to which their race is still subject—and have overcome them to earn high distinction in varied fields.

His 13 subjects were chosen as the outstanding American Negroes by a panel of 200 persons, colored and white, who know the group, its problems and its achievements. The author, as president of the Rosenwald Fund for the last 15 years and a close student of race relations, also knows the group intimately. While his style is at times bromidic and mawkish, he tells the stories well and does not omit the adverse criticisms which some of the 13 have received.

The chief impression left by the book is of the obstacles these persons have overcome—the lowly beginnings of the majority, and their long struggles for recognition. Early poverty is an almost universal pattern. In the case of the honored scientist, George Washington Carver, the beginning was in slavery. Mrs. Mary MacLeod Bethune, educational leader and college founder, was once a field hand on a South Carolina plantation. Marian Anderson scrubbed steps for Philadelphia housewives, and her first musical training was financed by collections taken at her church.

Richard Wright, the novelist, was a porter, errand boy and dishwasher. Charles S. Johnson, social scientist at Fisk University, was a stevedore and ditch-digger. Langston Hughes, the poet, cleaned spittoons. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University, ran a fried-fish stand and worked as a printer. Joe Louis, son of sharecroppers, sold papers and delivered ice.

There are similar backgrounds for others in the book: William Grant Still, composer; W. E. B. DuBois, sociologist; A. Philip Randolph, labor organizer; Walter White, civil liberties leader. Even Paul Robeson, whose success was meteoric, lived for a time on odd jobs.

The author presents these careers frankly as success stories, far from typical. Each subject is one in a million, he says, and the others of the 13,000,000 Negroes are "still below the American average in almost every phase of life." The 13 are pioneers, in the same tradition as those earlier white Americans who wrested a living from an unfriendly soil and laid our national foundations. And each, in demonstrating the talent of the American Negro, is preparing the way for greater opportunity for others of his people.

FERD GOTTLIEB.

Air Heroes of the South Pacific

Stanley Johnston, who wrote "Queen of the Flat-tops," the story of the aircraft carrier Lexington, has another exciting book about the South Pacific war to his credit in "The Grim Reapers" (Dutton, New York). This time the story is that of Fighter Squadron VF-10, as observed by the writer and as told to him by its organizer and commander, Lt. Comdr. James H. Flatley. The action, and there is plenty of it, ranges from the Coral Sea to Guadalcanal. The book is a portrayal of superb teamwork and gallantry that must have impressed many Japs with the fact that the squadron's insignia—a skeleton swinging a scythe—was highly appropriate.

DOROTHY THOMPSON

Viewed on Its Merits

IN a campaign year, the merits or demerits of every issue are judged by their partisan effect. Thus, the revolt of Senator Barkley and the Senate's overriding of the President's perfectly constitutional veto of the wartime tax bill are hailed by the President's opponents—who include practically the whole press—as, in some way or other, a triumph of representative government.

That the President's veto note was couched in undiplomatic terms seems, to such partisans, reason enough for a demonstration of divided unity in government in wartime, despite the fact that it was noted with dismay by every United Nations embassy in Washington, and everywhere abroad shook confidence in Roosevelt, whose prestige is unrealized by Americans.

The controversy is not soberly discussed on its merits at all. The question remains whether President or Senate was right; whether the tax bill voted is adequate. Actually, it is so inadequate as to suggest that the Senate is discounting the war as all but won, and is allergic to the most basic problems of war finance and post-war stability.

Two Writers' Appraisal.

In this connection, it is illuminating to read in the January bulletin of the Federal Reserve Bank an article by R. A. Musgrave and H. L. Seligman on the wartime effort (in finance) of the United States, Britain and Canada. The authors say:

"While it is not feasible . . . to cover the entire cost of the war by taxation, it is generally agreed that taxation should cover as large as possible a share without imposing gross inequities and impairing production incentive.

"If an all-out tax effort is made, war finance is a powerful means of adjusting incomes to available civilian supplies. If extensive reliance is placed on borrowing from the banks, war finance turns into a source of aggravated inflationary pressures.

"Equally important, an all-out tax effort during the war reduces the financial difficulties of the postwar period."

How are we using taxation as a means to prevent inflation and reduce postwar hazards, compared to Britain and Canada? These writers' answer is: Inadequately.

Conclusions About Taxes.

From this article, which attacks the question from all angles and is liberally illustrated with statistical charts, we learn the following:

The level of sales and excise taxes is substantially higher in Britain and Canada than here.

Canada is covering 52 per cent of its war expenditures, Britain 46 per cent, the United States 42 per cent by taxation.

Britain takes up 42 per cent of its national income in taxes; Canada, 36 per cent; the United States 32 per cent, although the per capita income is highest here, and to drain off a larger per cent would mean less hardship than elsewhere.

Rates Are Higher Abroad.

British and Canadian rates are substantially higher than ours except for the very lowest income group. Large families with incomes of less than $1500 pay a somewhat heavier tax here.

Despite the fact that here, in contrast to Britain and Canada, corporation net income is twice taxed, the rates are still lower than in the other two countries.

Although Britain started the war at a higher level of taxation, the rates have risen much more sharply above their pre-war level in the two British countries than here.

The yields from excise taxes on luxuries doubled in Britain and Canada and rose 50 per cent here.

The authors conclude: "The adequacy of the tax effort must be measured for each country against its need for curtailing inflationary pressures. Few would hold that these are less serious here than in the two other countries. Yet, as we have seen, the tax effort in the United States falls far behind that of Britain and Canada."

Facts Uphold President.

In view of these unchallenged facts, the Senate's tax bill is, compared with the financial effort and distribution of taxation by our Allies, a measure for the greedy against the needy; inadequate, inflationary and against the interests of our youth who will inherit the future.

The President's stand will victimize him further in the eyes of the Washington pressure groups. But some time the republic may remember a brave and unpopular stand by a man who really knows how far we are from victory, and what tremendous dangers and problems the age is unfolding for us all.

MARQUIS CHILDS

Appraisal of Barkley's Blow-Off

NOW that the sound and the fury of Senator Barkley's blow-off in the Senate have somewhat subsided, it is possible to appraise the effect of this extraordinary explosion on the political outlook for the fall.

Already, even before a peace treaty or anything like it is before the Senate, we have an ominous demonstration of President Roosevelt's inability to work with Congress. This is the overwhelming impression that is bound to spread far beyond the borders of the United States.

This single event has had more to do with whether Roosevelt is to have a fourth term than anything that has happened since 1940. It was a long time coming, but when it came, it had the roar of a rent-up volcano.

Barkley had urged the President not to send a sharp message on the soldiers' vote bill. He had pleaded with him to take a moderate course. In this he had been backed by Speaker Rayburn. Both these men knew the dangerous mood of Congress.

President's Choice for Job.

As has now been told, Barkley came almost to an open break when the President discussed with Democratic congressional leaders his veto message on the tax bill. It was the rebellion of a good and faithful servant. Imposed on the Senate by Roosevelt, under the most painful circumstances, Barkley had endured one humiliation after another. That he was never fitted for the job by temperament or capacity is beside the point, since he was Roosevelt's personal choice.

Democratic leaders in Congress had been convinced that the President no longer listened to them. They believed he had cut himself off from reality in so far as Congress was concerned.

And yet they did not put the entire blame on him. They have talked angrily about certain men around the President. These men were putting him up to defiance. He was no longer listening to the moderation of Justice Byrnes, not even, for that matter, consulting him on major questions.

Prominent Democrats said weeks before the Barkley blow-off that Byrnes did not even see the President's January message on the state of the Union before it was delivered; that the soldiers' vote message was not discussed with him. These were storm warnings the White House should not have ignored.

Congressional Democrats who confer regularly with the President put their blame primarily on one man—former Justice Samuel I. Roseman, whom Roosevelt brought to the White House to be his personal "counsel." Consciously or unconsciously, these loyal Democrats may have been influenced by the Hitlerian propaganda against Rosenman carried in the McCormick-Patterson press in recent weeks.

But whatever the source, the hostility was there. It came out in Barkley's speech—his reference to people who were more clever than honest in furnishing the President material for his tax veto message.

The slow fuse that led to last week's explosion goes a long way back into the past. Roosevelt has never tried very hard to get along with Congress. Even before the war absorbed so much of his attention, he gave little time to the problem of Congress. And the executive, under our form of government, must co-operate with the legislative branch if there is to be any action.

Slim Roll of Faithful.

Checking the list of Senators, you can find 15 out of the 58 Democrats who could be considered usually loyal to the administration. In the category of doubtful—loyal under certain circumstances—I would put 13 or 14.

Many of these men are haunted by fear of defeat in the fall. That is true of Barkley. Kentucky, which went Republican last fall with only a small fraction of the voters taking part in the election, may repudiate its senior Senator in November. This may help to explain Barkley's conduct. Damned as a stooge of the President, he is showing a belated but explosive independence.

ANOTHER CURB PICKUP OF WASTE PAPER SUNDAY IN ST. LOUIS AND COUNTY

VOLUNTEER trucks will again collect bundles of waste paper from curbs in St. Louis and St. Louis County next Sunday.

Overseas shipments of supplies to invasion forces, with steadily increasing needs for millions of additional containers and war weapons made from waste paper, have prompted WPA officials to designate waste paper as "America's No. 1 critical salvage material."

In the St. Louis area approximately 1500 tons were collected in one day during the emergency pick-up Sunday, Jan. 23. Local salvage officials hope to set a national per capita record by collecting 1750 to 2000 tons starting at 9 a. m., next Sunday.

Downtown and neighborhood stores and offices, in addition to householders, are urged to put out waste paper tied in easy-to-handle bundles Saturday night if more convenient than Sunday morning.

The public can arrange for pick-up of waste paper, if the quantity exceeds 150 pounds, in advance of the curbstone collection by calling the Waste Paper Salvage Committee, CHestnut 1807.

'PREVENTION OF CRIME STARTS IN HIGH CHAIR'

(Picture in Everyday Magazine.)

That juvenile delinquency is basically a problem of parental delinquency and must be approached from that angle, was the general conclusion reached at an open forum sponsored by the Temple Israel Brotherhood at Temple Israel House, 5017 Washington boulevard, last night.

Judge Michael Scott of the Juvenile Court, leading off the discussion, told the audience of about 200 that 90 per cent of the cases of so-called delinquency are traceable to a broken home which may have come about by death, divorce, separation or full time employment of both parents. The result is that children are left without adequate supervision and their natural energies lead them into some infraction of the law.

"The prevention of crime starts in the high chair and not in the electric chair," he said.

What Draft Call Reveals.

Col. John J. Griffin, chairman of the Associated Draft Boards of St. Louis and St. Louis County asserted that 35 per cent of all young men 18 years of age called up by Selective Service were rejected for physical unfitness. Calling this situation a "terrible indictment of the American way of living for the past generation," he attributed it to an era of empty churches and filled taverns, licentious shows on stage and screen and a feeling that decency and honesty were old-fashioned.

Frank X. Reller, Chief Probation Officer of the Juvenile Court, placed the blame for juvenile delinquency on a prevalent lack of religion in the home, from which every other cause stems, he said. He expressed pride in the fact that last year St. Louis experienced a seven and one-half per cent reduction in juvenile delinquents at a time when the nation-wide trend was on the increase.

Police Aid to Juveniles.

He gave much of the credit for this accomplishment to the St. Louis Juvenile Division of the Police Department in making available recreational and athletic facilities to under-privileged boys and girls in each of the police districts. He also paid tribute to the St. Louis Juvenile Commission in working to open school buildings as recreational centers in the evenings where the entire family could find wholesome fun and relaxation.

The discussion panel was under the chairmanship of David Berger, known for his work in the rehabilitation of first offenders. A bachelor, he has made the problem of juvenile delinquency a hobby that takes up all the time he can spare from his duties as secretary of the New Era Shirt Co.

CANDIDATES CHOSEN TO FILL TERM OF LATE P. W. MOSS

James E. Crowe, Democrat, and John B. Edwards, Republican, were chosen yesterday by their respective party district committees as candidates to fill the unexpired term of the late Phillips W. Moss, Representative from the Fifth District, who died Feb. 13 following a fall from the window of his fourth-floor apartment, 5707 McPherson avenue. A special election has been ordered by Gov. Forrest C. Donnell for April 4.

Crowe, an attorney, was unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Public Administrator in August, 1940. He is 29 years old and lives at 5935 Minerva avenue. He is chairman of the Twenty-eighth Ward Democratic Club.

Edwards, who lives at 5870 Clemens avenue, was elected to the House in August, 1942, to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of J. Glennon McKenna, and served at the special session of the Legislature that year. He has practiced law in St. Louis since 1889, and he served as chairman of the Board of Election Commissioners from 1921 to 1925.

NATIONAL V. F. W. AUXILIARY HEAD COMING TO ST. LOUIS

Mrs. Amelia C. Kane of Pittsburgh, national president of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will make an official two-day visit to St. Louis, arriving Friday evening.

After a breakfast at Hotel De Soto Saturday, Mrs. Kane will visit Mayor Aloys P. Kaufmann at City Hall, to receive a welcome, and will be a luncheon guest at the Veterans' Hospital, Jefferson Barracks. In the evening she will visit the USO at the Municipal Auditorium.

The program Sunday includes a meeting at the Soldiers' Memorial at 2 p. m., with Mrs. Clara Adams of Warrenton, State president, presiding. A banquet will be given in honor of Mrs. Kane at the De Soto at 6:30 p. m., where she will address members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

J. M. Lebolt, Jeweler, Dies.

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP).—J. M. Lebolt, president and principal owner of Lebodlt & Co., State street jewelers, died last night. In 1924 the company purchased the famous Thiers necklace from the Louvre for $650,000. He was 74 years old.

FR. PETER A. BROOKS TO HEAD MARQUETTE U.

He Was Until Recently Jesuit Provincial for Missouri at St. Louis U.

The Rev. Peter A. Brooks, S. J., until recently provincial of the Missouri Province of the Society of Jesus with headquarters at St. Louis University, has been appointed president of Marquette University, Milwaukee, it was announced last night.

Father Brooks succeeds the Rev. Raphael C. McCarthy, S. J., professor of psychology at St. Louis University for 12 years until becoming president of Marquette in 1936. Father McCarthy resigned to join the Navy as a chaplain.

Father Brooks, who was graduated from Marquette in 1921, interrupted his studies there to serve as a second lieutenant in the Fifty-fourth Field Artillery in the World War. He entered the Jesuit novitiate at Florissant, Mo., the year of his graduation from college.

After completing his studies at St. Louis University he taught at Loyola University in Chicago for three years and was ordained by Archbishop John J. Glennon in 1931. Two years later he was appointed president of Campion College, Prairie de Chien, Wis., and served in that capacity until 1937, when he was named provincial. His term as provincial expired last Dec. 8. He is 51 years old.

2-YEAR STUDY TO BE MADE OF FREEDOM OF THE PRESS

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP).—A Commission of Inquiry has been formed to conduct a two-year study of the status of freedom of the press in the United States, President Robert M. Hutchins of the University of Chicago announced last night.

Hutchins, who will be chairman of the group, reported the inquiry was made possible by a grant of funds from Time Inc., publishers of Time, Life and Fortune magazines. But he said Time Inc. would have no connection with the commission, and added that it also would be independent of the University of Chicago, which will administer the funds. The amount of the grant was not disclosed.

NEW YORK CONGRESS ELECTION

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—Democratic power was put to test in a section of President Roosevelt's home state today as voters in the Twenty-first Congressional District chose a successor to Joseph A. Gavagan who was elected to the State Supreme Court. The district, on Manhattan's upper west side, has been represented by Democratic congressmen since 1923. Voting today was light.

Paulette Goddard in China.

CHUNGKING, Feb. 29 (AP). — Paulette Goddard arrived here today after a 16,000-mile trip to spend a month entertaining troops in lonely United States Army outposts in China. The first American actress to visit wartime China was accompanied by comedians Bill Gargan and Keenan Wynn, son of Ed Wynn, and Accordionist Andy Arcuri.

STATE COMMITTEE MEETING OF DEMOCRATS MARCH 20

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 29.—A call for a meeting of the Democratic State Committee in Jefferson City March 20 was issued today by Mrs. Henry Clay Chiles of Lexington, vice-chairman.

The committee will fix the time and place for the State convention, which will elect six delegates at large and 26 district delegates to the Democratic National Convention, and will elect the national committeeman and national committeewoman.

A new State chairman to succeed Walter G. Stilwell of Hannibal probably will be selected at the committee meeting. Stilwell, a Navy Lieutenant, is on duty in the Pacific. Richard R. Nacy, a vice-president of the Central Missouri Trust Co. in Jefferson City, and a delegate to the constitutional convention, is considered the likely choice for chairman of the committee.

SPANISH LOYALIST TO SPEAK

Julio Alvarez del Vayo, former Foreign Minister of Republican Spain, will speak on "Pre-Invasion Political Strategy of Fascist Spain" at a meeting of the Libtonight at 8:30 o'clock in the audiEral Forum tonight at 8:30 o'clock in the auditorium of the Y. M. H. A.-Y. W. H. A., 724 Union boulevard.

He was a news writer before he entered politics. At present, he is a contributing editor of The Nation and executive secretary of the Free World Association, an organization composed largely of refugee writers and artists in the United States.

RED CROSS FUND DRIVE WILL OPEN TOMORROW

12,000 to Make House-to-House Canvass for $2,800,000 in City and County.

The Red Cross War Fund campaign for $2,800,000 will begin in St. Louis tomorrow as part of a national drive to raise $200,000,000 to finance the organization's wartime activities for the fiscal year ending Feb. 28, 1945.

Twelve thousand volunteer workers will begin a house-to-house canvas in the city and county tomorrow. No formal program will mark the opening of the campaign although addresses dealing with the service of the Red Cross will be made from time to time.

Mrs. James Doolittle, wife of the leader of the Tokyo raid, will speak at Washington University tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. A final organization meeting of solicitors at Southwest High School was addressed today by Miss Louise Farrand, former director of Red Cross Clubs in the British Isles. She spoke last night to North side workers.

J. Russell Coulter, chairman of the St. Louis campaign, said today that $140,000,000 of the national quota would be expended for national and international activities and the rest would be used to meet requirement of 3756 chapters throughout the country, all engaged now primarily in war work.

Largest single expenditure, amounting to $36,000,000, Coulter said, would be for service in camps, stations and combat zones. The home service unit, which aids service men overseas to solve family problems, will get $5,850,000.

"Work in Army and Navy hospitals," Coulter said, "will cost the Red Cross $26,200,000. This work embraces many forms of service and entertainment and the furnishing of books, games, smokes and even clothing to the convalescent."

Overseas service clubs, Coulter continued, would require 27 million dollars. These clubs provide rest, recreation and entertainment and are visited by men on furlough who are unable to go home. Another budget of $3,500,000 is provided for emergency financial aid, assisting service men who may require funds for emergency trips to their homes.

Easy Does It —Tips on Sickroom Cleaning

Sickness in the house? What can you do to help keep it from spreading? Germs of contagion may be lurking on everything patient touches—dishes, tray, bed linen, towels. On walls and floors, too.

Do as many hospitals do. Disinfect sickroom floors, woodwork, etc., with Lysol. (2½ tablespoons to 1 gallon of water.) Soak sickroom laundry overnight in germ-killing Lysol solution. Don't rely on "washing compounds" alone!

Lysol costs little because it's so concentrated—you dilute it for use. Get Lysol today, at any drug counter.

Japanese have improved. They are reported to be building a narrow-gauge railway farther south, which may possibly be completed by this time, linking the narrow-gauge Burmese railways with the standard-gauge system of Thailand. But one mountain road and one hastily built narrow-gauge railway over heavy mountain gradients do not, taken together, promise very much in the way of the delivery of supplies. Certainly they would not be adequate for the supply of an army of five or six divisions, such as the Japanese are now maintaining in Burma, even considering that as far as food is concerned, the Japanese can live off the country. They still must bring in from outside their ammunition, equipment, spare parts and engineer stores, in addition to coal for the operation of the Burmese railways.

But even for that, an advance down the coast to Akyab would be a useful preliminary; for at Akyab the British bombers and their comrades of the Tenth United States Army Air Force would be only 400 miles from the northernmost island of the Andaman group, whereas at present, in Ceylon, they are 800 miles away. This might make an important difference when the time for an attack on the Andamans comes.

The letter expressed "surprise and sadness" at Churchill's speech and said he must have been misinformed. It denied the Italians were fighting for the King and said the people's "hostility" toward a government which it declared has lost "any substantial legitimacy" might grow under economic difficulties.

No estimate is available of the number of workers who would be affected by the strike call, but a member of the committee said the Communist and Socialist parties controlled many industrial workers. While the Action party was composed largely of white collar workers.

Aparently the strike is intended only as a token action, since the leaders said the workers would be asked to make up the time during their lunch hour so as not to hinder the war effort.

MAN WHO LISTED HIS HORSE AS DEPENDENT IS IN NAVY NOW

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 29 (AP).—Edward Sheridan and Mary Ann, his oat-eating dependent that got him into trouble with the Government, have parted for the duration. Sheridan, 28 years old and single, is in the Navy, Assistant United States Attorney Huntington P. Bledsoe disclosed yesterday at a probation hearing for Sheridan.

Mary Ann, a draft horse in one sense of the phrase but actually a blooded animal that has never so much as pulled a surrey, is comfortably domiciled in a pasture near Holton, Cal.

Last week Sheridan pleaded no contest to a draft evasion charge based on his listing Mary Ann as a dependent with his Selective Service board. Sheridan's draft board said it believed Mary Ann was a child.

WHEN OTHER LAXATIVES FAIL

TRY THIS FAMOUS WATER

Smooth, Gentle Relief Usually in One Hour!

When acute constipation leaves you on edge, try the famous PLUTO WATER treatment. Although PLUTO works swiftly, it works by gentle osmosis, creating fluid bulk in the colon, flushing digestive waste, usually within an hour. Pluto passes through the stomach without disturbing its function, is not absorbed, and acts in the colon where physicians want a laxative to act. Try Pluto now! Caution—use only as directed on label. Get comforting relief from acute constipation in one hour or money back. In 25 and 50c economy sizes, also 10c size.

STEEL, RAIL GROUPS LEAD STOCK RETREAT

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP). — The stock market today finished leap-year February with a general downward shift led by steels and rails.

The retreat was largely of a technical nature. The fact the industrial average had failed to duplicate the rise of the carriers and utilities to peaks for the past year or longer caused the lightening of commitments on the idea a good-sized reaction was a possibility. Some customers stood aside to await more important war developments and further domestic political trends. Dividends and earnings still served as props for individual favorites.

The list began to back water after a fairly steady start and losses running to a point or more were widespread by midday. These were reduced in most cases near the close and a few gainers were in evidence. Dealings quickened at intervals.

Transactions for the full proceedings were 865,590 shares compared with 753,876 yesterday.

The market was broader on the decline. Of the 872 issues traded in today, 541 were lower, 148 higher and 183 unchanged. Fifty made new 1944 highs and 29 new 1944 lows.

Southern Railway Dividend.

Southern Railway directors voted a $2 disbursement on the common and the stock revived moderately but failed to get ahead. Conspicuous casualties included United States Steel, Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Atlantic Coast Line, American Distilling "Stamped", Eastern Airlines, Douglas Aircraft and United Aircraft.

Tops for 1944 were scored by Engineers Public Service, Delaware & Hudson and Braniff Airways. Resistant also were Pepsi-Cola, Texas Co. and Electric Power & Light.

Trend on the Curb.

In the Curb minus signs were posted for Electric Bond & Share, Cities Service, Carrier Corporation, American Cyanamid "B" and Brewster Aero.

The transportation group had to contend with the statement of President Clement of the Pennsylvania System that excess profits taxes, as now levied against the railways, deprive them of a reasonable return on their investment and menace the industry's future. Under the present setup, he added, it was impossible to apportion adequate reserves for deferred maintenance and provide for postwar rehabilitation.

So far as March markets are concerned, statistical forces recalled that, in the past 20 years, the industrial share composite has been down in 13 of the months and up in 7. The rails, during the two decades, made a more cheerful showing, their index registering 10 winning months versus 10 losers.

News in the Market.

As the result of business placed Monday, backlogs of equipment manufacturers rose $10,500,000 with the largest single order aggregating $4,200,000 coming from Chesapeake & Ohio and involving 15 freight engines.

BOND MARKET TURNS INTO LOWER PRICE CHANNELS

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Bond market turned into lower channels today after making a half-heated attempt to get into higher positions in early dealings.

At the start of the final hour losses or fractions to more than a point far outnumbered the unchanged or modestly higher issues and trading tended to accelerate on the decline.

Losers included bonds of the Baltimore & Ohio, St. Paul, Rock Island, North Western, Delaware & Hudson, Childs Co., Colorado & Southern, Rio Grande Western, Hudson Coal and Missouri Pacific.

An occasional higher priced corporate moved contrary to the general trend. Norfolk & Western 4s sold at 130¼ and Northern States Power 3½s at 109⅝.

Commercial Mackay income 4s, in supply at lower prices on Monday, stumbled again. The bonds were in a prolonged rise that nearly doubled prices over the past year. Columbia Gas 5s and Buffalo General Electric 4½s were among others changing hands at modest concessions.

Argentine Government and municipal loans tended to stiffen again following moderate unsettlement coincident with a new political crisis in that republic. Other dollar loans were steady.

The market continued to exhibit skidding tendencies in the final hour. St. Paul bonds ended under water by fractions to a point for the more active issues. Florida East Coast 5s lost a point at 45 and Erie 4½s gave up the same amount at 74. Great Northern 3¾s firmed to end at 94⅞, up ⅝.

In the Associated Press bond averages the 20 railroad bonds closed at 85.6, down .4; 10 industrials 105.4, unchanged; 10 utilities 105.4, down .2; 10 foreign 64, down .1, and 10 low-yield bonds 114.7, unchanged.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 28 (AP).—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced that it will retire $5,646,000 principal amount of United New Jersey Railroad & Canal Co.'s 50-year-old 4 per cent general mortgage bonds on March 1.

The retirement will liquidate the entire issue, dated March 1, 1894.

An $816,000 annual installment on Pennsylvania's 15-year 2¼ per cent series in equipment trust certificates will also be paid on Wednesday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—Trustees of Consolidtted Edison Co. of New York today authorized the redemption on April 3 at par and interests of the remaining $15,000,000 outstanding 3¼ per cent debentures due in 1946.

Out of the original issue of $35,000,000, the company retired $20,000,000 last October.

SENATE VOTES 3-DAY RECESS OUT OF RESPECT TO M'NARY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—The Senate today voted a three-day recess out of respect to the memory of Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon, Republican leader, who died Friday in Florida.

After a seven-minute session, in which the only business transacted was adoption of a resolution designating 18 Senators to attend the funeral at Salem, Ore., the Senate recessed until Friday.

Members of the funeral committee left the capital yesterday. Majority Leader Barkley (Dem.), Kentucky, who had planned to accompany the committee to Oregon, was unable to make the trip because of personal affairs which kept him in Washington.

Senator Danaher (Rep.), Connecticut, announced that a date will be set later for formal memorial services for McNary.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Demand deposits in banks in 101 leading cities increased $393,000,000 during the week ended Feb. 23, the Federal Reserve Board reported today.

Total loans by the banks were down $202,000,000 with $34,000,000 of the decrease noted in commercial, industrial and agricultural loans.

Treasury bill holdings declined $436,000,000 and Government deposits fell $610,000,000.

London Stock Market.

LONDON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Stock prices moved irregularly again today in a quiet market. Industrials and tea shares were selecitvely higher, while home rails, coppers and rubbers tended lower. Oil, kaffirs and international shares were mixed.

Argentine rails improved and British funds held steady, but Brazilian bonds sold lower.

St. Louis Clearings.

Local bank clearings for Feb. 29 were $33,700,000; debits to individual accounts for Feb. 28 were $40,500,000.

WHEAT AND RYE DOWN AT CLOSE AFTER RISE

CHICAGO, Feb. 29 (AP).—After displaying some strength at the opening, wheat and rye futures eased today on selling encouraged by weak stock and cotton markets, where declines were recorded in connection with a statement by Stalin predicting early defeat of Germany. After holding steady most of the session, oats also tended to soften.

The wheat market was marked by a conspicuous lack of trading as buyers were restrained by optimistic crop and weather reports from the winter wheat belt and the pause in lend-lease buying of flour. Trade in rye also was rather quiet in later trade.

Closing near the day's lows, wheat finished ¾c to 1c lower than the previous close, May $1.70, July $1.66⅞@¾; rye ended the day with losses of ¾c ot 1¼c, May $1.27⅛@¼, and oats closed unchanged to ¼c off, May 80c. Barley was nominally ½c lower, May $1.22.

Early strength in rye came on buying by locals who were the big factors in yesterday's rather sharp price advance. But, like yesterday, there was little news to account for the opening advance in this grain as well as in wheat. Firmness in oats was attributed to buying by commission houses.

Considerable attention was given to the overnight announcement by the Commodity Credit Corporation of the feed wheat allocation program under which certificates will be issued to purchasers on the basis of 1943 sales. Wheat will be sold through grain distributors to carlot purchasers at established county feed wheat prices, which effective March 1, will be increased 1 cent. This new price will be about 5 cents above the Chicago ceiling. The National Grain Trade Council reported it was expected that the CCC will distribute 18,000,000 bushels in March under the program.

DEPOSITS UP $9,507,000,000, LOANS OFF $67,000,000 IN '43

WASHINGTON, Feb. 29 (AP).—Assets of national banks totaling $64,532,000,000 at the year's end were $9,751,000,000 higher than a year earlier but $1,625,000,000 under the figure on Oct. 18, date of the last previous call, Preston Delano, Comptroller of the Currency, said.

Officials of the Comptroller's office ascribed the October to December reversal of the rising trend of other recent calls primarily to the fact that Government deposits were being withdrawn faster than individuals were depositing money to their own accounts. They said this was due to the heavy late-year demand for money in circulation, chiefly because of Christmas shopping.

Government deposits, which increased from $4,833,000,000 on Dec. 31, 1942, to $10,847,000,000 Oct. 18 were down to $5,945,000,000 in the year-end call. Demand deposits of individuals partnerships and corporations in the same period rose from $26,731,000,000 to $30,901,000,000 in October and to $33,255,000,000 last Dec. 31.

Total deposits climbed from $50,649,000,000 to $61,787,000,000 in October and then dropped to $60,156,000,000.

The banks' holdings of Government obligations stood at $34,178,000,000 at year's end, a gain of $10,353,000,000 for the year but a decline of $1,531,000,000 since October.

Loans and discounts totaling $10,134,000,000 were 624 million dollars below those outstanding in October and 67 million dollars under the figure on the same date a year earlier.

COTETON MARKET CLOSES 85C TO $1.10 A BALE LOWER

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—Cotton prices broke about $1 a bale today on a flurry of New Orleans and local liquidation coupled with hedging.

Support came principally through scale-down price fixing. Smaller mill demand for spot cotton was also considered as a contributing factor.

Late afternoon values were 50 to 90 cents a bale lower, March 20.74, May 20.25, July 19.72.

Futures closed 85 cents to $1.10 a bale lower:

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 29 (AP).—Average price of middling 15-16-inch cotton Tuesday at 10 designated southern spot markets was 20.73c.

Steel Rate Lowered.

Steel ingot production by St. Louis interests was reported estimated at 77.2 per cent of capacity for the current week, compared with 82.7 per cent last week. The drop was due to the closing down of two furnaces on this side of the river and one old furnace on the East Side.

'Change Seats Up $1000.

NEW YORK, Feb. 29 (AP).—A membership in the New York Stock Exchange sold yesterday for $50,000, an increase of $1000 over the last sale, and equaling the highest price since May 14, 1940.

Female Veterans

What Will a Legion Convention Be Like?

By Charles Fisher

WE saw some uncommonly affecting pictures in one of the papers the other day. Loving couples were parting in a railroad station—the one to travel far away to service in the armed forces, the other to wait patiently at home in the old, dull routine. The men looked pretty sad, too, as they saw the gals off to join the WAC and WAVES.

The scene pointed up something which bothers us a good deal when we think of the postwar world. While others worry about what's going to happen to Russia and China, we worry about the possible end of that ancient male prerogative: The Annual Convention. Never one to view with alarm, we still feel that the Man of Tomorrow might find himself at home looking after the kids.

IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to say what postwar service organization the ladies will join. We have read that after the last war the Veterans of Foreign Wars was preparing to welcome the new veterans when the American Legion organized and gathered them in. The same thing might possibly happen this time if the Legion agrees to become co-educational, but the WAC, WAVES, SPARS and women Marines may decide they'd rather have their own Distaff Brigade.

In that case you might find the Head of the House answering the telephone one evening in this wise:

"HELLO . . . BILL? Yes . . . Why, no. Not tonight. I'd like to, but you see, this is Madge's night for a lemonade and bridge conference down at the Brigade Post and I'm looking after the children. Yeah, I krow. Well, I'm sorry, too, but you know how it is. O. K., Bill, look out for those wild deuces.

They might, of course, open a Men's Auxiliary and have a Men's Night once every month or so, on the ground that the husbands ought to have a little fun, too. It would make the fellows more contented if they felt their wives were sharing things with them. It is possible to hear one of the officers of the Brigade explaining:

"WE MUSTN'T FORGET, girls, that husbands have rights, too. I know that my George wouldn't look so wistful if he felt that he had an auxiliary of his very own. We could fix up that sub-cellar into a fine men's lounge and card room if we ever got the water pumped out. Or they could use the old coal bin for darts. Vote? No, of course they won't have any vote, but it'll keep the poor fellows happy."

IT WOULDN'T COVER the convention situation, though. Once each year, during the period of peace, the war veterans among the breadwinners of America used to feel an urge to drip paper bags full of water from hotel rooms and tie up traffic in Times Square, or wherever the Legion convention was being held. Between whiles they might get in a salesman's conference at Atlantic City and a regional manager's meeting at Detroit, but those things were only practice for the Legion festival.

AND YET, UNLESS a special clause is adopted at the Peace Conference, the future convention is likely to find the male of America standing on the doorstep bidding his mate good-by while she explains: "I know, dear, but we can't both go. See that Eustace doesn't kick the covers off and don't expect me back too soon. You know how it is when the girls get together to talk over old times."

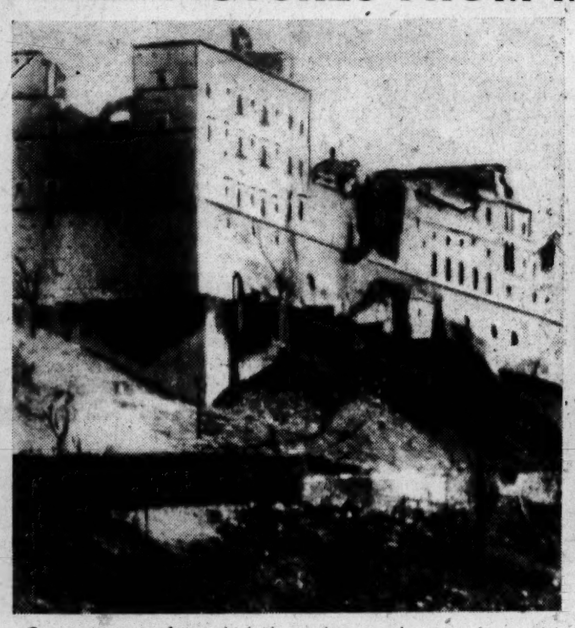
AND WHEN SHE returns, her life mate will have to spend two days listening to stories of the convention politics which kept her from being elected State regent, and how they had to call out the fire department when Gertie got stuck in the transom, and the killing way Sue did an Indian war dance wearing a lamp shade for a hat.

It's a cruel view of things, but maybe we shouldn't complain. It may even be time that the gals get a little of their own back after generations of being on the receiving end.

NAZI PICTURES FROM MOUNT CASSINO



German sources from which these photographs were obtained by a Swedish agency say the one at left shows the Benedictine monastery after it had been bombed and shelled by American forces in Italy. The Allies have not yet taken Mount Cassino and the abbey which stands on its summit. At right, the monk in the center is identified as Bishop Nicola Clemente, 83-year-old abbot of the monastery, walking with a German general. BROADWAY

By WALTER WINCHELL

Notes of an Innocent Bystander.

THE FIRST NIGHTS: The critics went rowdily Pier 28 Monday night when they met up with a sleep-wrecker called "Right Next to Broadway." What langwidge! This one, which offered a peep at love and merchanting in the cloak and suit belt, was reckoned a dilly of a duddy. The Times explorer admitted it wasn't the worst play ever written, but he added "it is in there trying." Suitable expressions of pity were included for the troupe, who get wonderful publicity here by staying nameless. . . . In the cinema places "Lady in the Dark" (patterned from the stage hit of the same title) is still a good show, this time with Ginger Rogers playing the role created by Gertrude Lawrence. The film is marked by tons of splendor. . . . Ray Milland (who haunts Miss Rogers' dreams in the above film) also stars in "The Uninvited." This is a chiller that yells with both lungs—nothing namby-pamby about its spookiness. You're glad when the lights come on.

THE WIRELESS: "The Song of Bernadette," so beautiful to read and see, suffers from the slows on the kilocycles. It comes to the ears as ham-heavy, which it never is between covers and on the screen. . . . The West Coast comics "localed" you dizzy with their jibes at California's unusual weather. What you might call house-organ comedy, strictly for the family. . . . One coast announcer got a mouthful of esses, and it came out: "Upton Close in the noose." . . . The guffaw of the month was uttered by a Berlin radio expert named Von Hammer, who whimpered that "the Red Army is using unmannerly military tactics."

THE MAGAZINES: You have to read only the title of Margaret H. Mackay's narrative in Woman's Home Companion to get the full of wrath. It is titled: "My Baby's Nursery Was a Jap Concentration Camp." . . . For good, healthy satisfaction read Albert Carr's piece in Harper's on how five major blunders have put the Axis behind the 8-ball. . . . Virginia Pasley in the Mercury says: "Mrs. Roosevelt never goes uninvited, and the enthusiastic response to her presence has to be seen to be appreciated." . . . Walter Davenport's photograph of Gerald L. K. Smith in Collier's is in the manner of a candid snapshot you see on passports or pistol permits. . . . Blair Taylor reminds Ray Brock that Burnet Hershey's book, "The Air Future," told how the Graf Zep and Hindenburg were used for espionage in the Americas. . . . Meyer Berger's history of Lepke in Life is a spellbinder. . . . The painstaking, ever-careful World Almanac has an erratum section in its latest issue. It lists a couple of boners, and points to one on page 784, which isn't there.

THE COMIC SECTION: Life photographer John Florea, just back from Tarawa, is amusing New Yorkers with this one. . . . Johnny says he was on a battleship and had to go to the medical dispensary to have a paw bandaged. . . . He found the medico sitting dreamily with chin in his hands. . . . "What's the matter, doc?" asked Florea. "Are you worried?" . . . "No," was the retort. "I'm trying to figure out how to cross a carrier-pigeon with a woodpecker. Then I'd have a bird that not only could deliver a message to the Admiral but DRUM it into his head!"

CASE RECORDS

By Dr. George W. Crane

CASE B-275: Rodney J., aged 35, is an attorney who is now the president of the Men's Club of his church. "We should like some suggestions by which we can increase the effectiveness of our church," he began. "What would you recommend for pepping up attendance at the Sunday School, etc? A church occupies a very expensive real estate site, so we'd like to make ours return greater dividends to the community."

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL is the most important part of the church, so I advised Rodney to enlist the aid of somebody with a projection motion picture machine and run a 10-minute educational movie promptly at 9:30 on Sunday morning. This will stimulate the children to attend promptly and also cause them to bring their friends. I know of an Evanston church which used this method with admirable results. It almost doubled the attendance in one year and brought the children out promptly. Inject more competition, too, for it is the human yeast that adds zest to religious activity as well as sports and business. Without it, things are as flat as unleavened bread. I urged Rodney to divide the Sunday school into sections and then run a contest that would be simple to tabulate. Pick out 100 people who attend very seldom if ever. Divide these names between the two competing groups. Then allot 5 points for each one brought out for Sunday school. Make the contest short—say four weeks, and pay off quickly after its completion for children need their rewards the sooner the better.

CONTESTS ARE LIKE advertising in that they must be varied in nature for maximum interest value but continued constantly. Don't expect one contest of four weeks duration to keep attendance up for the rest of the year. Offer a new contest as soon as the previous one has terminated. I urged Rodney to enlist the aid of 25 lieutenants, possibly of teen-agers, each of whom would be assigned one or two square city blocks. Let him take a church census thereof, and each week make the rounds urging everybody to attend church or Sunday school. Those that belong to other churches can be directed into their own denominations. The non-church members can be invited to Rodney's church. This is the famous "block" system that has worked so successfully in politics, but there is no reason why an alert church should not utilize similar excellent psychological devices. Besides, the church should conduct Vocational Guidance Clinics for its young people, inviting various men or women to delineate their own trades or professions. Pick good speakers for this series of addresses.

URGE YOUR CLERGYMAN not to shut up the church on Sunday evening, but to run a Marriage Clinic. Include an analysis of the vital marital and parent-child problems, using specific cases as the basis of discussion. Get the women to conduct a nursery school, not only on Sunday morning, but also during the week. This will benefit both working mothers and "only" children who lack siblings. Besides, it can bring in revenue to the women's societies. A livewire church should also operate an employment agency, a directory of reputable rooming houses for members needing such service, a matrimonial agency, classes in Applied Psychology, foreign language, etc. Send for my bulletin "How to Increase Church Attendance," enclosing a 3c stamped envelope plus a dime.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper.

Economical Recipes to Save Points

By Meta Given

AMONG other desirable qualities, a salad should have chewiness, so the cauliflower cooked for salads should be slightly underdone. Then chilled along with all the other ingredients. The raisins should be the seedless variety, and they should be plumped by steaming a few minutes over hot water.

Cauliflower Luncheon Salad.

Three and one-half ounces canned pork luncheon meat, one cup cooked cauliflower, one-half cup raisins, plumped, one tablespoon finely shredded, tender celery leaves, salt to season, one-fourth cup mayonnaise, two tablespoons milk, lettuce, four radishes thinly slivered, one tablespoon green pepper, finely shredded.

Dice luncheon meat in three-fourths inch cubes. Be sure cauliflower is divided into flowerets before cooking. Cook five to six minutes having cauliflower slightly underdone. Add raisins, celery leaves and salt. Blend mayonnaise with the milk. Combine the two mixtures, toss lightly, cover and chill. Serve on lettuce leaves. Sprinkle the radishes and green pepper generously over the top. Four servings.

DR. GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER — that great colored scientist, made us aware of the wonderful value of peanuts. But little children, adolescents even adults didn't require any help to learn how to like peanut butter. Perhaps it's the Vitamin B in it that makes its taste so satisfying. Whether peanut butter is on sandwiches, in cookies, or in a quick bread, it is still welcome food.

Peanut Butter Loaf.

Two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-half cup sugar, one-quarter teaspoon salt, one-half cup peanut butter, one tablespoon shortening, one egg, beaten; one and one-quarter cups milk, one teaspoon grated orange rind, one-half cup raisins.

Sift dry ingredients together. Add peanut butter and shortening and cut into dry ingredients with a fork. Add egg and milk, orange rind and beat well. Add raisins and mix thoroughly. Pour into a well greased 8½x4½x2¾-inch loaf pan. Let stand 20 minutes. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 60-70 minutes, or until it tests done.

HERE ARE CUP CAKES that can be made in less than half the time we thought was required for their making, and they are just as delicate and light and good to eat as though the old-time slow method was used. Be sure not to overbake.

Nutty Topped Cup Cakes.

One-quarter cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup milk, three-quarters teaspoon vanilla, one and one-quarter cups sifted cake flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-quarter teaspoon salt.

Have all ingredients at room temperature. Measure each into mixing bowl in order listed, first sifting together the dry ingredients before adding. Beat all with a rotary beater for four minutes. Fill eight medium sized well greased muffin tins two-thirds full. Bake at 375 degrees F. for 20-25 minutes. Remove and cool on racks. To top them, pour three tablespoons corn or maple syrup into a small dish or bowl and place three tablespoons chopped nuts into another dish. Dip tops of cup cakes into syrup and then into nuts, generously coating each top.

Try a Danish Dish

POTATOE CAKES, A DELICIOUS AND ECONOMICAL DISH

IT'S been said often that the United States is a nation of good cooks. This is true partly because we have lured to our shores many famous foreign chefs, and their culinary secrets have become a part of our own cooking patterns.

Many of us have failed, however, to take advantage of the fact that we are surrounded by American neighbors of foreign background, perhaps quite different from our own. If we could know their food secrets we'd stand a far better chance of enlivening our wartime meals.

Calves' Hearts.

Two calves' hearts; 4 slices of bacon; salt to taste; half pint light cream; milk, if necessary; two tablespoons flour; four tablespoons sherry.

Cut hearts in two, remove all sinew and white center. Fry bacon slices in iron pot. Remove bacon and brown heart halves on all sides in the fat. Return bacon to the pot. Add salt and cream and cook over very low heat for two hours. Add milk, if necessary. Remove hearts. Skim off fat and combine with flour. Add sherry and stock from hearts and stir until slightly thickened. Pour sauce over hearts.

On the economical gourmet side, Norway offers us, among other things, the potato cakes illustrated here. My suggestion is that we use them, filled, for an entree. For instance, spread them with a mixture of finely chopped spinach and a few mushrooms, held together with a bit of cream. Then roll them up, place in a shallow pan, sprinkle with cheese and brown them under the flame. Or stuff them wth chopped left-over meat in a fairly stiff cream sauce.

Norwegian Potato Cakes.

Five medium-sized boiled potatoes; one cup barley flour; salt to taste.

Put the cold, boiled potatoes through the meat grinder. Mix them with flour and salt. Form into big cakes about a quarter of an inch thick (or even thinner, if you can manage). Fry on a greased griddle over a low flame, browning both sides. Roll up as illustrated, stuffing them if you care to.

My Day -o- By Eleanor Roosevelt

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Monday.

SATURDAY morning I came up to the country, and we were fortunate enough to have a most beautiful snowstorm during the day. We walked through the woods with the snow falling gently all around us. It always seems to me that there is nothing as quiet as freshly falling snow in the woods. You make no sound as you walk, and the snow flakes seem to deaden all the other sound.

The only reminder that spring was not very far away was the brook. Although bits of ice clung along the banks, it went gurgling over its gravel bottom and running swiftly under the little bridge. We are fortunate in having many hemlock trees, and I think they make the loveliest picture with their deep green branches powdered by fresh snow.

I stopped to see one woman who has a son overseas. She said, "Yes, I hear from him often and his letters come fast though he is far away in the Southwest Pacific." She is worried because he said he had been where heavy fighting was going on and she could guess where that might be.

The boy's wife came in while I was there and she showed me, with great pride, the valentines her husband had sent her, which were made out of glass from wrecked Japanese planes. He had cut out hearts and pasted them on pieces of paper with appropriate sentiments written around them. Love will have its say even under difficulties.

As I look at the service flags hanging in so many windows now, I think of the many anxious hearts and the many prayers which must be floating up to heaven above us.

My little cottage looks rather lonely. I think houses like to be lived in. Something happens to them when they are left empty too long. An old house will have a very distinct atmosphere, and houses which are loved and lived in by people who express themselves in their surroundings, grow to have a real personality.

I had a quiet day yesterday with a few friends at lunch. This morning I went down to Poughkeepsie to speak at the opening of the Red Cross drive at Vassar College. Miss Morena Brown had invited me to come, and as I arrived the girls were all trooping into the chapel. Evidently I should have gone to the main building instead of falling in with the procession, but those who were waiting for me saw the car stop, so they came dashing over to rescue me and the exercises began at 10:15 as scheduled.

I think the Red Cross drive is getting off to a very good start. I like all the stories I have seen in the papers about the Red Cross work as it stretches across the various battlefronts, and I think people are very much alive to the need of keeping this work going and expanding it as much as is necessary.

Your Stars -o- By Marion Drew

Sun in Pisces.

General Tendencies.—This is the first of a series of eventful and somewhat explosive days, which mark the first third of the month of March. Avoid contact with sharp instruments, acids and dangerous tools as much as possible. Your amusements this evening may be colored with quick temper, but nevertheless you ought to be able to have a good time.

If Tomorrow Is Your Birthday.

You are undoubtedly entering a period when constant change is before you, together with some uncertainty about your own welfare. You can rely upon a happy ending to your story, because there are slow but sure aspects which work to your benefit throughout the fall. You may not be able to marry because of the unexpected turns your life will take in 1944.

Tomorrow's Watchword.

Widen your acquaintanceship by getting on familiar terms with some of the sages of the past. Diogenes was one of these. He was a natural wit, and never a bore. A man once asked him what was the proper time for dinner, and his answer was: "If you are rich, whenever you please, but if you are poor, whenever you can."

My Neighbor Says:

To remove all smoke from a room quickly, dip a towel in vinegar and hot water (equal parts), wring out, and fling it gently over the head about the room.

Profit, $2.50 Plus Pants.

WITH THE SECOND ARMY ON MANEUVERS, SOMEWHERE IN TENNESSEE.—The supply sergeant said "no" when Pfc. Ralph Walker of New Rochelle, Ill., asked for an extra pair of fatigue pants, so Walker went to a second-haid store and bought a pair for $2.50. Later he put on the pants and slipped his hand into a pocket. There was a $5 bill.

Talk Helping Win War.

SEATTLE.—It takes a lot of talk nowadays to build a destroyer. The Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding Corporation, with help of the telephone company, figured it takes 87,000 telephone calls, both outside and local connections, before construction is completed on a destroyer. The information was compiled in an effort to stop unnecessary calls through the shipyard switchboard.

My OPINION

By MARTHA CARR

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM a girl 18, a freshman in the university. Last spring I had a party in my home and asked a certain boy because my girl friend liked him so much. The following week he asked me to the junior-senior prom. My girl friend assured me it was OK with her and so I accepted and had a wonderful time. I had one more date with him before he went into the service. I enjoyed his company very much and I am sure he enjoyed mine. But since he left I haven't heard a word from him, but would like to keep in touch with him merely from the standpoint of being friendly, not at all romantically. Would it be all right to call his mother and ask for his address? My girl friend, through whom I met this boy, is now married and living elsewhere, so I am sure I wouldn't be hurting her. JOAN.

Letters intended for this column must be addressed to Martha Carr at the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Mrs. Carr will answer all questions of general interest, but of course, cannot give advice on matters of a purely legal or medical nature. Those who do not care to have their letters published may enclose an addressed and stamped envelope for personal reply.

Two dates is not a lot to go on, but if you merely want to keep the boy cheered up with letters now and then, there is really no reason why you shouldn't write him. If none of his pals have the address or you don't know any of them, call his mother. Doubtless the boy will be very glad for news of this and that on the campus. However, if he doesn't answer don't bombard him with mail. Let the matter drop and turn your attention to someone nearer home.

Dear Martha Carr:

I HAVE A CERTAIN neighbor who has been using our phone at all hours, and getting calls through us in all kinds of weather, for the past six years. When I think that this may go on forever I could scream. In wartime I never use the phone myself unless it is absolutely necessary, yet no matter what I am doing or whether or not it is raining pitchforks outside, I must call this neighbor to the phone or have her run in and ask to use it, for nothing but gossip. And these conversations go on for an hour at a time and it has come to the point where I have no privacy in my own home. I never ask favors of this neighbor, thinking if I asked nothing of her she would realize that in making no return to me she is imposing. This does not work. I like her very much except for this one bad habit. I can't take the phone out because my husband has to have one in the house for business reasons. What can you suggest? I don't want to be rude. MRS. D. E.

Probably this neighbor has no idea how often she uses your phone and if you confronted her with a list of the incoming and out-going calls she has had in the last month she would be astounded. A limited phone might keep her from calling out so much, but it would not be apt to put an end to the in-calls, which might even increase. I'm afraid your only solution is to take the bull by the horns, and tell your neighbor that you can no longer be interrupted so frequently at work. Explain that if her friends want to call occasionally you will be glad to get her if you are not busy, otherwise you will have to tell them to leave their number and you will give it to her so she can call them later. Explain, also, how you feel about the Government's plea that lines be kept clear and phones used only for necessary calls in wartime.

Dear Martha Carr:

I AM A BOY, age 20, don't drink or smoke, but have been asked out by friends whose one conception of a good time is drinking. Shall I go along and simply not drink, or shall I risk breaking up our friendship by turning down the invitation? R. B.

It doesn't seem to me there is much point to you tagging along when your conception of a good time varies so greatly from that of your friends. You would merely serve as a wet blanket and a good time would be had by none. Why not take up with people whose tastes coincide with your own?

IN ANSWER TO "L. I. P.": I am told by Mr. Finch of the USO that the selling of chances on war bonds, the money received to go toward feeding the service men at the USO is the sort of thing which is done entirely without the knowledge, or consent of the USO, and that such attempts at collecting money should be reported to the Better Business Bureau. Before handing out your money next time, however worthy the cause may seem, be sure that credentials of the proper sort are first shown you.

The Divorcee's Ring

By Emily Post

THE general practice of divorcees to discard their wedding rings and in many instances, to replace them with similar rings, has evidently created confusion in the mind of the person who writes me: "A friend tells me it is not proper for me to continue to wear my wedding ring since my divorce. I can't understand because I see many women wearing them —probably for the same reason that I do, which is to give the appearance of being married because they have children."

IF YOU REALLY want to wear the original ring, there is no, law, at least I know of none, to prevent you from continuing to wear it. It is true, however, that most women newly divorced find the emblem of broken happiness unendurable and yet one who has children feels as you do. She therefore gets a new ring that looks like a wedding ring and serves the purpose you speak of, but whose design does not remind her of the one she has discarded! In other words, the rings you see may be originals but they are more likely to be substitutes.

DEAR MRS. POST: We made an attempt to call on new neighbors, but they told us when we telephoned before going to see them, that there was sickness and asked us to come another time. They have said nothing since then, and as we have seen the sick member up and about we wondered if they could be waiting for us. We rather thought it was up to them to set a time.

Answer: While it might be the natural impulse of some very informal or very self-assured neighbors to set a time, it seems to me more natural to hesitate. Remember, they are the strangers and you the older residents. Rules of etiquette have always been very hampering to the former. In other words, if they are at all conservative it is almost certain that they are waiting for further encouragement from you. In any case, it would be friendly on your part to go to see them or to invite them to come to see you at a definite time.

Rheumatic Fever Has Bad Effect

By Logan Clendening, M.D.

"PLEASE EXPLAIN the cause, the effects and the treatment of rheumatic fever," writes a correspondent, in Richmond, Virginia. It is a very good question to which every parent should know the answers.

I could wish that we had as good, efficient and active a National Foundation against rheumatic fever as we have against infantile paralysis. Rheumatic fever is far the more dangerous to youth. It is a killer—more deadly than infantile paralysis and more crippling, although because its crippling effects are internal and hidden, they are not in the public eye so much as infantile. But they are the more treacherous for that very reason. Rheumatic fever is commoner, more widespread and affects more people than infantile paralysis. It is estimated there are 260,000 new cases every year in the United States.

MY CORRESPONDENT wants to know the cause first, and that is the most difficult part of her inquiry. We know it is a germ, but it has not been certainly identified. It probably gets into the system through the tonsils. Most cases occur in the late winter or early spring, the season of most frequent respiratory infection. Geography and climate play an important role in causation.

It is a disease of the temperate zone, stopping at the sub-tropics, especially of damp climates, on the ocean front, around water courses, where rain, damp and fog are prevalent. It is predominantly a disease of the poor, the ratio in New York City, as reported by Coburn, being 20 to 1 of poor and well-to-do. So nutrition may play a predisposing role.

Rheumatic fever is exactly the right name for it. Acute articular rheumatism is another name, but is inadequate because it does not always affect the joints. And rheumatism means nearly anything from Grandpa's cracking joints to crippling arthritis.

This condition does not affect Grandpa. It is a disease of childhood, which is one reason it is so important a health problem. And while it affects the joints in the acute, feverish stage, it never cripples them.

It should be considered as of two forms—the acute stage and the consequences. The acute attack comes on with overwhelming suddenness — the child is prostrated with fever, sweats and swelling and pain in the joints. Sometimes the joints are not involved and these make puzzling cases.

THIS ACUTE ATTACK lasts for only a few days or at most a few weeks. The treatment of the acute attack is simple with salicylates and heat and moderate splinting to the joints.

But it is the complications which make rheumatic fever the great health problem. These complications affect the heart and pericardial sac. They cause no pain and at first no crippling. The individual may go through a busy youth and early middle age and become disabled only at the age of 40 from that old childhood disease.

The means we have for combating these late sequels are two. First, detection of the heart damage early—that is during or soon after the acute attack, so that protective care can be exercised. In this we gain a great deal of help from modern electro-cardiograph measurements of the heart beat. The other is a long period of rest in bed. This should be instituted in all patients with rheumatic fever. Certainly in everyone where the slightest suspicion of heart damage is aroused.

Give Your Garden a Good Start

Proper Preparation of the Soil Means Bigger and Better Victory Vegetables

VETERANS of the 1943 Home Garden Campaigns are now making plans for a 1944 offensive that promises better eating, bigger crops and, if possible, less time on maneuvers than last year. St. Louis rated way up on the nation's 1943 list for home-grown vegetables. This year the urgency is even greater and greater success is sure. The weather can't be more against us than it was last season; the soil is in better condition thanks to the work-out it received and we have the extra advantages of some tested new tactics for soil-handling, seed-selecting, fertilizing and working from the agricultural experts. Progress in the science of growing things has made some helpful changes in the manuals for gardeners.

Good soil is our assurance of victory. If you could go out the back door and stake out a rich, loose, loamy soil for your campaign, success would be in the bag. But the clay in our backyards is something we're up against.

The strategy to make heavy, tight soil easier to work and easier for the plants to grow in, has just three fundamentals. Add organic matter; add nutrients, and shake it up!

Let's settle this organic matter question first. Most of our gardens have no topsoil. I mean that gardener's definition of top soil; loose, rich black stuff that looks like grated chocolate, is full of plant nutrients, holds moisture well and never bakes to a hard crust. Close along the Missouri and Mississippi rivers, the earth is covered inches deep with soil that is the grower's ideal. But in most of our city and county yards the soil picture presents a lively challenge.

GOOD topsoil is a matter of years of decaying vegetation piling up, or the storing up of good soil from the overflow of rivers. It's up to us to make topsoil in our gardens and the more the better. Decaying vegetation is the answer; just another way of saying organic matter, or humus.

Rotted grass cuttings, old leaves and plants and dead weeds are the cheapest way to add organic matter to the soil. Peat moss or tobacco mulch is excellent and luckily priced more reasonably than last year. Rotted stable manure of any kind is something the veteran garden campaigners consider a real treasure.

Its doubtful if you can go too far in your campaign to add humus to a heavy clay soil. Just as soon as possible get a layer of any kind and any mixture of organic matter onto your garden to be spaded in and under as soon as the soil is dry enough for working.

Now for the nutrients, food in the soil to make the plants grow well and quickly. The soil chemists and plant biologists have proven some startling facts in the past few years. Their books would be as fascinating as your favorite detective yarn if the language were less scientific and crammed with chemical formulas. Luckily for us the tactics suggested by the experts are easy for any rookie to follow. And the results are better growing and better tasting vegetables that offer more nourishment.

Have you noticed that chemical fertilizers and balanced plant foods have a set of three numbers stamped on the package? According to Government specification, 5-10-5 is what they'll say this year. Those figures stand for the proportions of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in the mixture. The soil experts have studied how these three chemicals act in the ground as they dissolve and become plant foods.

The nitrogen is apt to seep upwards towards the surface and then is washed down again by rains. The phosphorus and the potash stay put pretty well, dissolving where they are placed.

It is up to you to get that plant food where the roots will find it, from the time the seedlings start to grow and on, as their roots go down into the soil. Does it make sense to just add the fertilizer to the inch or two of top soil? No! Do you want more beans, tomatoes, spinach and all the rest of the good eating, from the same-size garden this year? Yes! Then practice some armchair strategy first and get your notes in your garden book on the "how" and the "how much" fertilizer your garden will need this year. Count on about 50 pounds of balanced plant food or chemical fertilizer for a garden of 1000 square feet. Figure on using half of it with that layer of organic matter you're going to dig under; save the rest for use during the growing season.

Shake it up! The ideal garden soil is granular, spongy, open! It lets the water through the surface; it allows the air to circulate down around the plant roots. Sand, coal ashes and crushed limestone are three good allies to keep our garden soils loose. I like the last two best, and here's why. Sand particles are sharp-cut, smooth bits that cannot hold moisture. Now look at some fine coal ash under a magnifying glass. You'll notice that it looks like a sponge, full of ins and outs around which moisture and air may cling. Doesn't that sound like a good ally for loosening our clay soil!

There's the possibility that soft coal ashes may be slightly acid. To check that possible fault, let the ashes get a thorough soaking out of doors in the rain or with your hose. Any acids will be leached or washed out. You save this this extra job, if you want, by adding a little more crushed limestone when you throw the ashes onto the garden surface. How much ashes? Well, toss away or break up the clinkers and add two or three inches of ashes over the garden.

CRUSHED limestone must be added to a clay soil every few years to keep the soil from becoming too "acid" for the vegetables we want to grow. That's just one of its ways of working for us. The effects of crushed limestone as a soil conditioner provide an important chemical warfare offensive to break up hard-pan and loosen the clay soil texture. The experts say it improves "tilth". Also, thanks to the crushed limestone, two necessary plant nutrients are added to the soil, calcium and magnesium.

Liming recommendations call for about 100 pounds for a garden of 1000 square feet and you should plan your use of it so that about half is dug under deeply.

Now we have the garden surface piled high. Half the fertilizer supply for the season, half the limestone, possibly a layer of ashes and a layer of some kind of organic stuff; they're all on top of what is going to be a better battle site for your vegetable growing campaign. The total cost for all this is small in the long run, even if you have to buy a bale of peat moss or tobacco mulch for the humus addition to your 1000 square feet of garden.

All that stuff that's on top should go way down under. The garden with well enriched topsoil eight or 10 inches deep, will far outyield one of the same size with only the surface worked. You might try a few limbering-up exercises indoors before you start the spade work of turning that top layer way down under, where the roots of the vegetables will be soon.

If you want to find out how important this deep-soil working is, try this experiment on part of your garden. It's called double-digging. You start by spading a trench 8 to 12 inches wide and about 16 inches deep. The coal ashes, lime and some of the organic matter and fertilizer should be stirred in down deep with some of the soil from the next row's digging. Continue this as long as your back holds up.

Now the ground maneuver plans are settled and you can start the campaign as soon as the soil dries out to proper working condition. Varieties of vegetable seed and starting your plants indoors or under glass are next on the list. Now, go ahead and dig for victory!

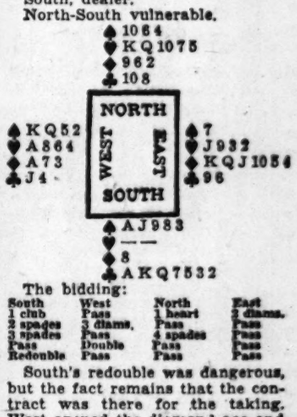
South Took A Bad Risk On Trumps

By Ely Culbertson

A DECLARER who has a vulnerable, redoubled contract on his hands, should, of course, try to bring it home—but not at any risk! Consider this case:

South, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.



The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 club	Pass	1 heart	2 diams.
2 spades	3 diams.	Pass	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 spades	Pass
Pass	Double	Pass	Pass
Redouble	Pass	Pass	Pass

South's redouble was dangerous, but the fact remains that the contract was there for the taking. West opened the diamond ace and followed up with the seven. Declarer ruffed, cashed the trump ace, and then, obviously deciding to risk everything on a 3-2 division of trumps, led a second round. West grabbed the trick with the queen, cashed the trump king—thus leaving declarer with one trump—and then led his last diamond. Declarer ruffed and was able to cash two clubs, but after that he was almost through. West ruffed the third lead of clubs and shrewdly returned a low heart. Dummy's queen was the last trick made by North-South. Down 2200!

Under the circumstances it was suicidal for South to base his play on a 3-2 break of trumps. The correct line was to lay down the spade ace at the third trick and then to start running the clubs. West would ruff the third round —but how? If he ruffed low, dummy could easily over-ruff. Then South could re-enter his own hand with a ruff and resume his club leading. West would never get more than his king and queen of trumps. Nor would it do West any good to ruff the third club with an honor. Declarer would stay "one up" on West in trumps, and this would be quite sufficient to insure the contract.

The difference between the proper line of play and the line used by declarer was a little matter of 3430 points.
